Prophecy

It was a lovely spring day as the renowned Junior Cozzens, the Einstein of the 20th Century, and the inventor of the "eyecrophotomolis", the wonder machine of the ages, was sitting in his beautifully adorned laboratory admiring his handiwork and waiting for a reporter to come and take a story of his invention. Yes, this was truly a great invention; it was so devised that it could look into all parts of the world and bring before one the very person whom it was asked to bring. It was nicknamed "The Eye," which did it justice.

Suddenly there was a knock on the door and Miss Beverly Julian, a crack reporter for the New York Times, appeared. There was a moment of uncertainty and then they recognized each other. Then suddenly 1949 comes back into the picture and finally the question.

"What happened to the rest of the class?"

Yes, where is the class of 1949? The answer? "The Eye", of course. The machine is adjusted and here before us is the class of '49.

We see the honorable Wayne Alley, a great defense attorney, successfully defending "Deathood," the notorious criminal.

Why if it isn't Betty Buckley carrying a bundle of packages and guiding several children down the street! It seems she married some fellow from Randolph.

Who is sitting in that big limousine? Don Dayton, the owner of the Dayton Construction and Repair Company, with three main offices; Chicago, San Francisco, and of course Cokeville.

Oh yes, and then there's Iris O'Neill, a dancer of Broadway. I understand she's in the next big hit.

One large mansion and bank account seems to be all right for the former Gaye Linford, for she is now a rich, retired widow with a score of eligibles on her waiting list.

And here is farmer Gerald Robison. "How are things these days"? "Fine". He never was much of a talker.

Beverly Mackey seems very happy having married a certain fellow by the name of Allen and raising their twin girls.

John Toomer is no longer milking cows because he now has a great many electrical milkers to do it for him. He is a very wealthy dairyman.

And here is Hutchinson's famous steak restaurant in Reno, Nevada. Jeanne Peterson Hutchinson is apparently running a profitable restaurant.

And last but not least, is Don Wilde, now owner of one of the greatest sheep and cattle ranches in the United States.

Well, everyone is very happy and now we will shut "the eye" and look into its mechanism.

--Beverly Julian

History

In the fall of 1946 the class of 1949, seventeen in number, entered the portals of the Cokeville High School in anticipation of the four years to be spent here. We were led this first year by Beverly Julian. Our contributions to the activities of the student body was climaxed by our Halloween Dance, the Freshman Frolic. During this year our numbers were decreased by the loss of two of our most ambitious members; Marilyn Smith and Larry Lee.

As we entered the second year of our sojourn we chose Wayne Alley as our president. This year we contributed our class Hop to the activities of the school year. Although we gained two members--Gaye Linford and Dudley Jenkins we lost three others--Gilbert Perkins, Bud Lund, and Ernest Jackson.

Joyfully we entered into our Junior Year with Betty Buckley as president. This year we contributed more to the activities than ever before. We presented our class play, Just Ducky which was said to be the sensation of the year. Our most important contribution however, was the Junior Prom. The theme, "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover" was beautifully carried out in the class colors of green and white. We also successfully planned and carried out our Junior-Senior Banquet. During the year we gained one member--Jeanne Petersen--but lost three more--Gaye Linford, Nick Hidalgo, and Darald Erickson.

Suddenly one full morning we awoke to the realization that we were Seniors! With Don Dayton as president we eagerly anticipated the "beginning of the end." We lost Joy Nuttall and again Gaye Linford joined us. Again we went forth on the stage and presented our Senior class play, "Through the Keyhole," which almost rolled the audience in the aisles. We planned our Senior Ruff which was one of the big affairs of the season.

And so we have come to the end. With glad and yet heavy hearts and with smiling though tearful eyes we say good-bye to "Dear Old Cokeville High," but to the future "Here we come ready or not."

--Beverly Mackey
