To The People And The Land

Never has there been such a dramatic human movement as the one that settled America. There was no barrier - not fear nor mountains, nor forests, nor emptiness . . . The world has never known such courage, such creativity, and finally such abundance. Certainly, it was the people who did it. But just as certainly it was this land that made it possible.

HUGH SEDEY

In this bicentennial year the Rambouillet staff dedicates this yearbook to those who came and settled our area.

We extend our appreciation to all those who supplied old pictures for use in this book.

The settling of Cokeville began in the 1870's, and by 1919 it was a "booming" little town.

I am rich in the inheritance
That they had the courage
To build and leave for me.

1. SOME OF THE first settlers in the valley were Mr. and Mrs. John Bourne who came in 1874. 2. THE STONER HOTEL, later the Haggerty Hotel, burned in the early 1900's. 3. A GROUP OF citizens pose for an early photographer. Among them are a gambler named Denver, a foreman for the B.Q. Ranch, Ed O'Conner, Fred Roberts, Casey Collett, Roy Collett, Claude Kruger. 4. AT ONE TIME Cokeville was considered the "sheep capital of the world." This picture was taken at a sheep camp by men delivering supplies.

All that I may accomplish
Grows from
The wide foundations
Of their successes
Won through hardship,
Pain, and tears.

1. PLAYS ARE HARD work, but Donna Johns and Reed Wagstaff find that they are fun too. 2. CLIMBING TEST HILL could be symbolic of our efforts to achieve our goals. 3. FRESHMAN ALGEBRA TAKES a lot of study. 4. JAY FELLER FINDS that shop is no easy class. 5. CLASSES IN AMERICAN Government help us appreciate our democratic system. 6. A DESERTED RANCH house on the Smiths Fork is a monument to the efforts of the early settlers.

I celebrate
Their initiative
To come to this new land
And in 100 years
To build the heritage
To which I am heir.

1. MOVING THE SHEEP to new grass also meant moving the camp. Present day sheep camps are still sometimes moved with horses. 2. RANCHING HAS ALWAYS been the main business in the valley and putting up hay has always occupied most of the summer. 3. HAYING WITH A two-horse-power buck rake was a demanding job.

4. WALTER SCADDEN and some customers in the old Overland Lumber Co. 5. THE SHEEP INDUSTRY required many capable workers. 6. BILLY'S DEW DROP INN was one of several buildings which burned on the street east of the park.

There were also good times
And laughter.
And because they earned
Theirs, I may laugh louder
And be joyful more often.

THE JUNIORS SPONSORED record hops after the home ball games.

They realized that Education would bring
The light of progress and civilization to a
Harsh and unyielding land.

Or would they shed a tear
To see the rewards
Of their toil left
To rust and ruin.

They loved the land
They worked the soil
To live and grow
God grant that the
And comfort of my
State will not be
My love for country
A daily and complete

They loved this land;
They worked and died
To save and improve it.
God grant that the ease
And comfort of my present
State will not diminish
My Love for country into Apathy and complacency.

Pantherettes

Pantherettes had a successful year. For some new ideas and special training they attended a drill camp at U.S.U. During the year they marched in four parades; Preston, Montpelier and our own Homecoming and 24th celebrations. The girls spent many hours preparing a final review, the Pantherette Finale, April 28, where Rae Lynn Deromedis and Karen Knouse were chosen "Outstanding Pantherettes."

Track

Our track team, although small in numbers, had quite a successful year. At their first meet at B.Y.U. the team gained valuable experience. After the invitational at Brigham Young the team traveled to Jackson for district track. At district track our team did a real fine job, winning the district. After that they traveled to Lander for state track and, after having a rocky start, they failed to place. Better luck next year.
