ssell,

“50th Anniversary?!?!”

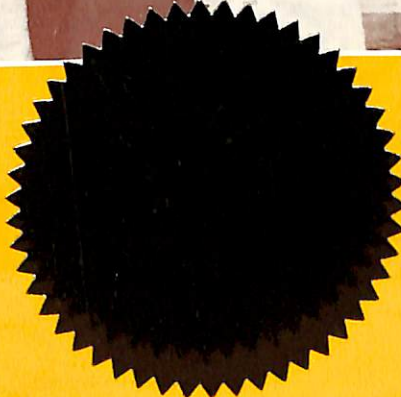

“50th Anniversary! Those dumb kids! Don’t they know that that school was built in 1923?!? Kids these days never know what really happened.”

Now for all of you out there who think we’re crazy, we realize that this is the 60th year that the school has been open and that this year’s seniors will be the 60th class to graduate, but, the first Rambouillet was produced in 1934 which makes this our 50th anniversary. Prior to that time, the yearbook was called the Shepherd.

Since they were the first graduating class to receive a Rambouillet, we, the staff of the 1984 Rambouillet, dedicate this book to the class of 1934.

Golden 50 Anniversary

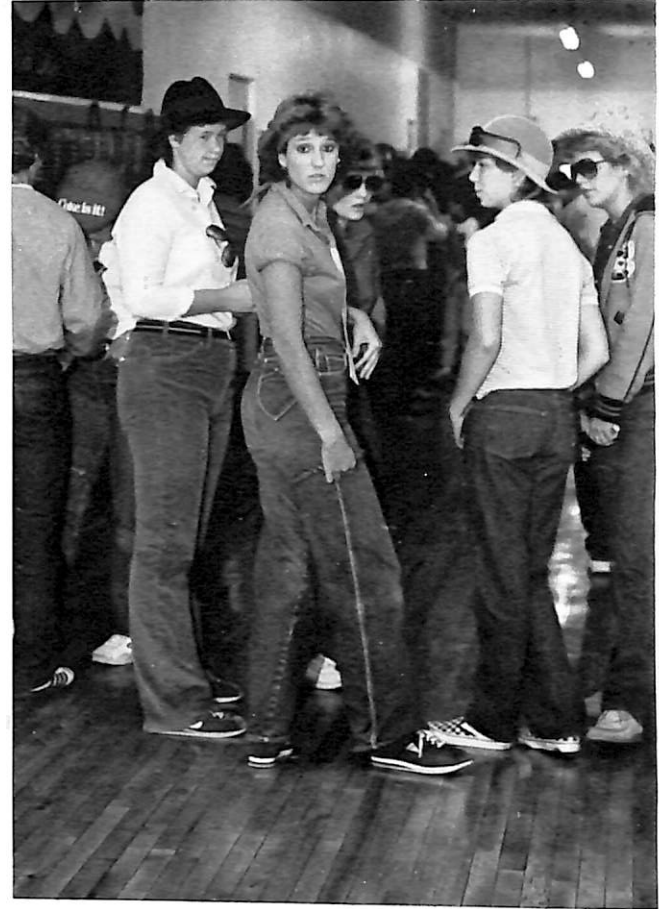

Everyday something Golden is happening at CHS, whether it be an everyday event such as getting an A on a test or, the students' favorite, just goofing off in the hall. Then there are those once a year events, such as being chosen as the senior ball royalty or taking state in football. These events and many others make CHS a "Golden" place to be.

Golden 50 Anniversary

Involvement was the key to the success in our school. Students worked hard in their classes, while also having a good time, watching an awesome move by an athlete or dressing up during pride week. Students met with each other in the hall to talk about the game that night, or to lounge at lunch time. All these things and many more make our lives at CHS "Golden."

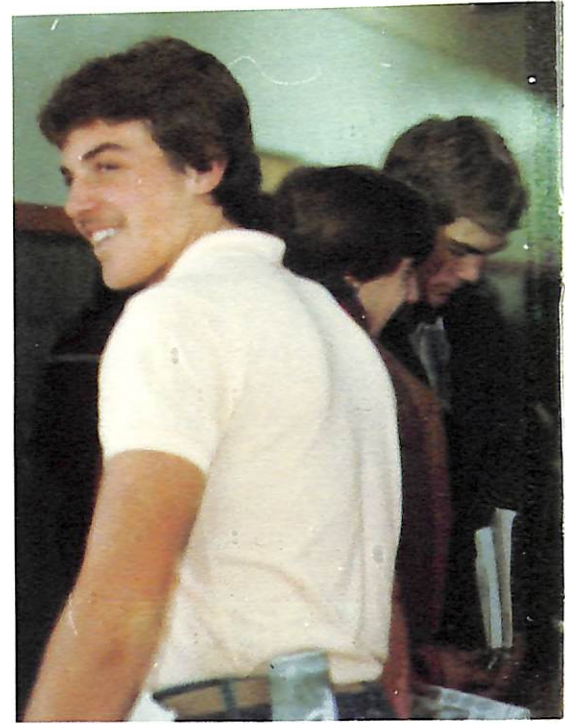

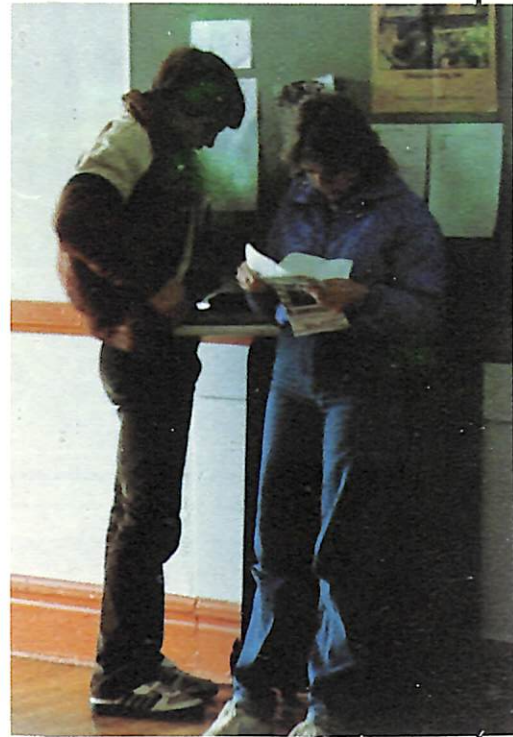

Golden 50 Anniversary

Sometimes school can be very demanding and hard, but the students live up to the expectations and even go a little beyond. There is always the new gossip, and the old jokes and even secrets that are not very secret. The students like school so much that the hurry to get here. Sometimes they fall. In the winter the school got a little cold, so the students decided to take action by giving Mr. Excell an ultimatum. Sometimes standing in the hall by the radiators would warm you up. On bad days the students have a few disagreements; no big thing, because they are always settled fairly. The experiences that we share here at CHS are special — but this year they were made Golden.

New Tradition

On September 21, the "dirty dozen" dragged Mr. Birch and Paul Etcheverry up to Pine Creek to have their Senior pictures taken. No one imagined that it could take four hours to shoot pictures of 12 people, but it did.

The Seniors showed a movie October 11, for their first semester fundraiser. The movie was Takedown; the fund-raiser, was a flop, (approximately $60.00 was raised).

Tammy LaFave primps before having her Senior pictures taken.

For their class party, December 7, the seniors went sledding down Big Hill. Afterward they consumed enough spaghetti to feed a small army.

The seniors hopefully started a new tradition on January 21, the MORP, (backwards Prom). Instead of the usual crepe paper streamers, the seniors used rolls of toilet paper and sheets of newspaper for decorations. "Holey" jeans, "run-down" tennies, ripped sweatshirts, etc. were appropriately worn. The King and Queen were Rick Excell and Natalie Dayton.

Class advisors were Mr. John Miller and Mr. Chad Teichert.

Senior Ball 1983

A scurry to organize which decorations to order; a fight with snow to get them here; a frantic Friday night spent trying to put the ceiling together; balloons that popped; stubborn streamers that refused to stay on the walls: these things were all part of putting together the 1983 Senior Ball.

The King and Queen were Chris Metcalfe and Shirley Miller.

The theme song, "Tonight I Celebrate My Love," was sung by Andra Birch and Rick Excell.

Junior Prom Royalty: Kenny Petersen and June Marie Weston.

Just You and I

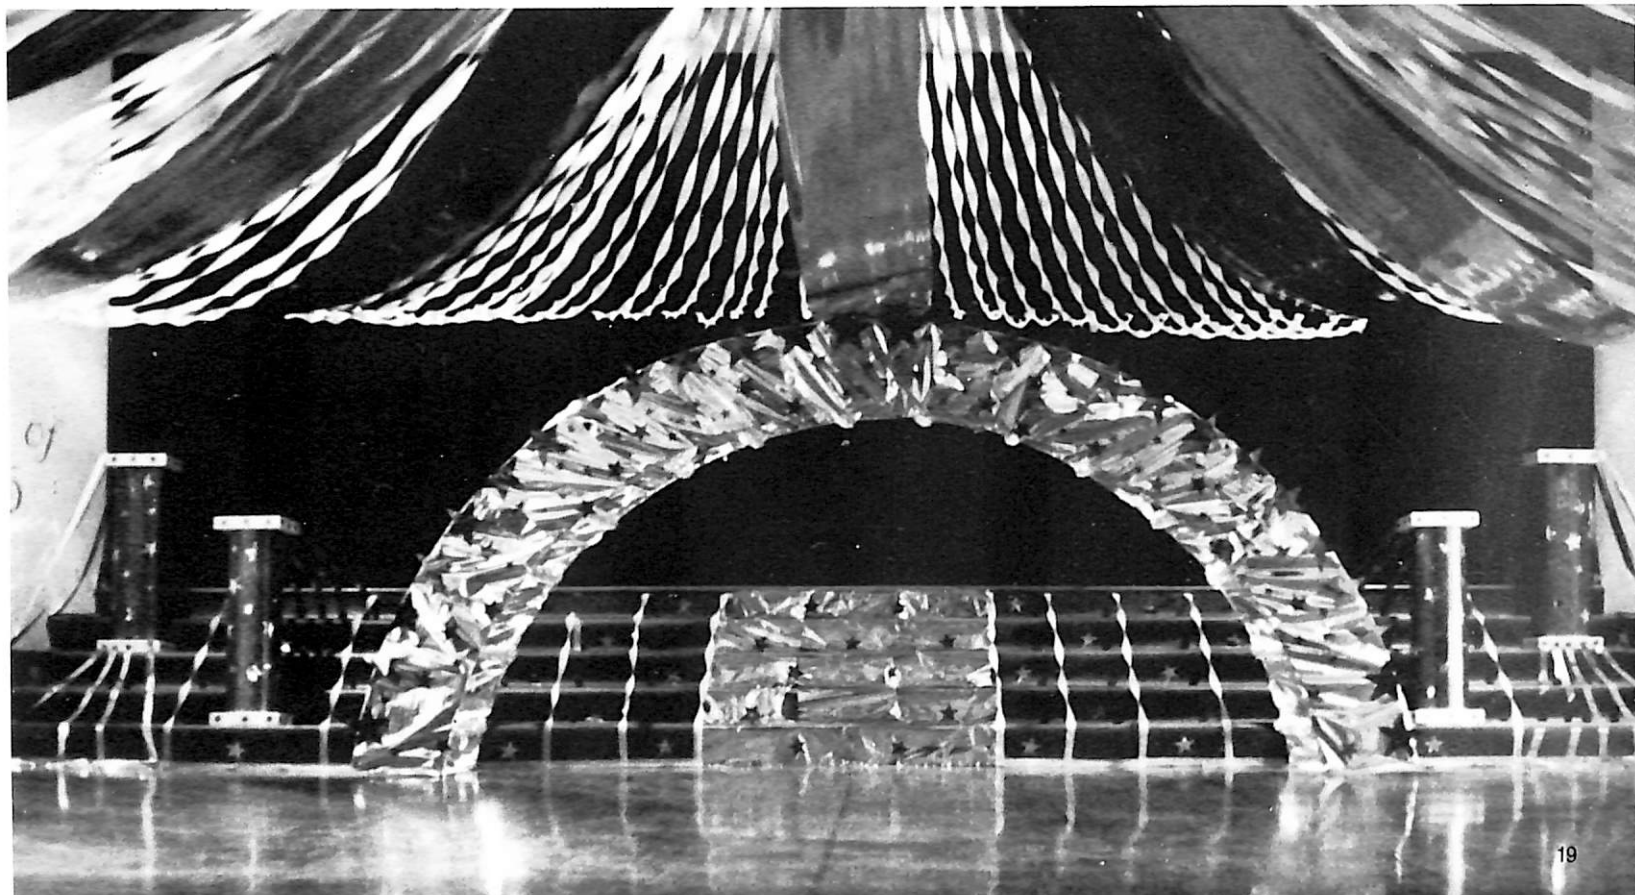

One of the indications of whose prom this was.

The mothers of the juniors take a well deserved rest after preparing the food for the banquet.

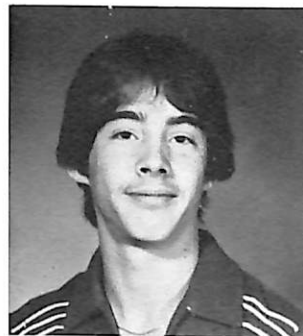

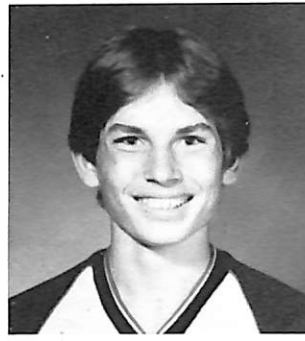

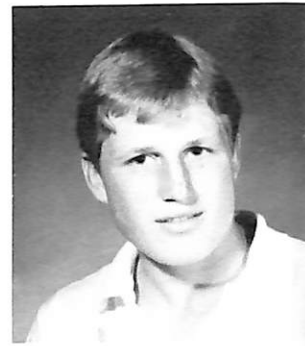

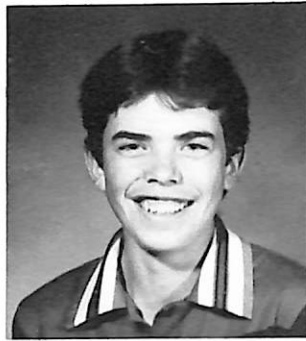

"Just You and I" was the theme of the Junior Prom on May 5. The decorations were done in shades of metallic blue, light blue, and silver. The juniors entered for the floor show through a huge star arch. Mrs. Weston announced the royalty. Kenny Petersen was selected king and June Marie Weston was chosen queen. The attendants were Shirley Miller, Annette Bartschi, Danielle Dana, and Amy Dimond. Mr. and Mrs. Birch sang the theme song while the royalty and escorts led the dance. The music was provided by Colt. The following Monday evening the juniors sponsored the Junior-Senior Banquet where good food and good fun was enjoyed by all in attendance.

A star arch was the focus of all as the juniors entered for the floor show.

Here comes the parade! There goes the senior float, junior float, but where is the sophomore float? Something has happened to it. The annual Homecoming snowstorm and wind BLEW the float to pieces. All the white napkins that surrounded the big "86" in the middle are gone forever.

The sophomores had their usual money making project and class party. They raffled hams and turkeys, and watched a movie and ate.

The 8th graders had what you might call a "Successful year." They had two fund raising projects, each of which netted them $600. First they had a magazine drive. Second was a candlelight dinner, on the same night as the Junior Prom.

Excell Elected Wyoming Leader

The faculty added two new members to its number: Cyndie Birch as a returning Girls' P.E. teacher, and Chad Teichert as an English teacher, Volleyball and Wrestling Coach all in one.

Mr. Teichert is also the advisor for the school newspaper, The Sage, which was started again this year.

Mr. Excell, principal for seven years, was appointed to the position of President-elect of the Wyoming Association of Secondary School Principals. He will become president for the 1984-85 school year. He also served as a member of the Board of Control of the Wyoming High School Activities Association and as president of the newly formed Three Trails Conference.

"It is a distinct honor to be elected to this position; doubly so because of the respect and confidence given me by my peers, the other high school principals in Wyoming," Mr. Excell stated.

With one of his typical gestures, Mr. Metcalfe explains his program to parents at "Back to School Night."

School Gets New Bar, Cook, and Bus Boy

The cafeteria has a new bar; no not the kind you buy drinks at, but a new salad bar. It was brought into the program by our new head cook Mrs. Louise Dayton. When Mrs. Inez Pearson retired after 18½ years of service, Mrs. Margaret Perkins was hired to replace her. As for the bus boy, that is Mr. Delbert Rentfro who drives and manages our new bus. The paint may not last long from all the washing and waxing it has had, but we don't mind because we have the cleanest bus around.

The Cooks: Maureen Taylor, Inez Pearson, Louise Dayton.

We Made It Great

During Homecoming week school spirit was "sky high". There was endless enthusiasm as students decorated halls and floats, and participated in the week's activities. When Friday finally arrived, the Football and Volleyball teams were nervous and the people were edgy. The Panther boys won the football game against the Big Piney Punchers, but the Panther girls did not fare so well. Although they put up a good fight, the Puncher girls came out on top. But that didn't keep them down for long because the Homecoming festivities were not yet over. Again, this year's celebration was Great!

Because!

Boys Wear Lingerie

The first day of Homecoming week was a Pajama Day, and almost everyone wore their bedtime clothes to school. At the pep rally before school, Kevin Dimond and Suzanne Petersen were crowned King and Queen.

Tuesday was Bangles, Baubles and Bubble Gum Day, and the students blew bubbles while acting like Mr. T or Cleopatra.

Traditionally the girls have borrowed the boys' football jerseys for Jersey Day, but on that Wednesday this year, some of the football boys borrowed the girls' volleyball jerseys.

Thursday was Cool Cat Day, and everybody looked like Punkers from the 80's or Fonzies from the 50's. At dusk the students and teachers gathered in front of the B&B Merc. Painting the town orange and black. The crowd cheered as the senior boys lit the "C." As it burned the crowd made a mad dash to the rodeo grounds to see the Big Piney effigy burn to the ground. To finish off the night the students and teachers went to the school cafeteria for more cheering, donuts and hot chocolate.

Friday, Homecoming Day, everyone wore orange and black for the assembly, parade football and volleyball games.

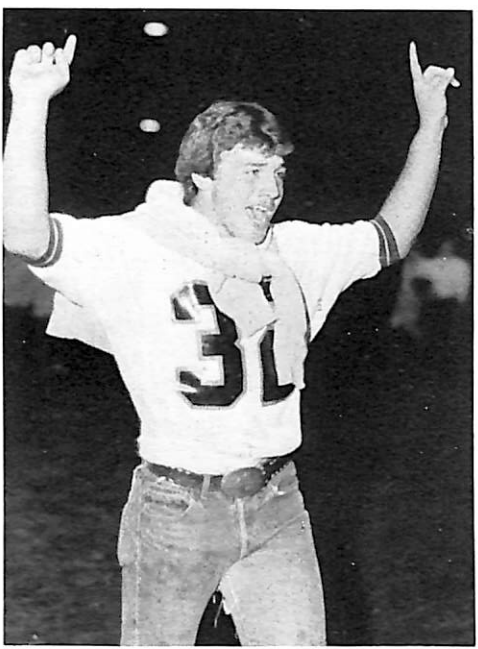

Later on that night the Pep Club sponsored a dance with music provided by the Starship Disco from Star Valley.

Where's the Key? . . . Where's the Key? (I don't think anybody's got it)

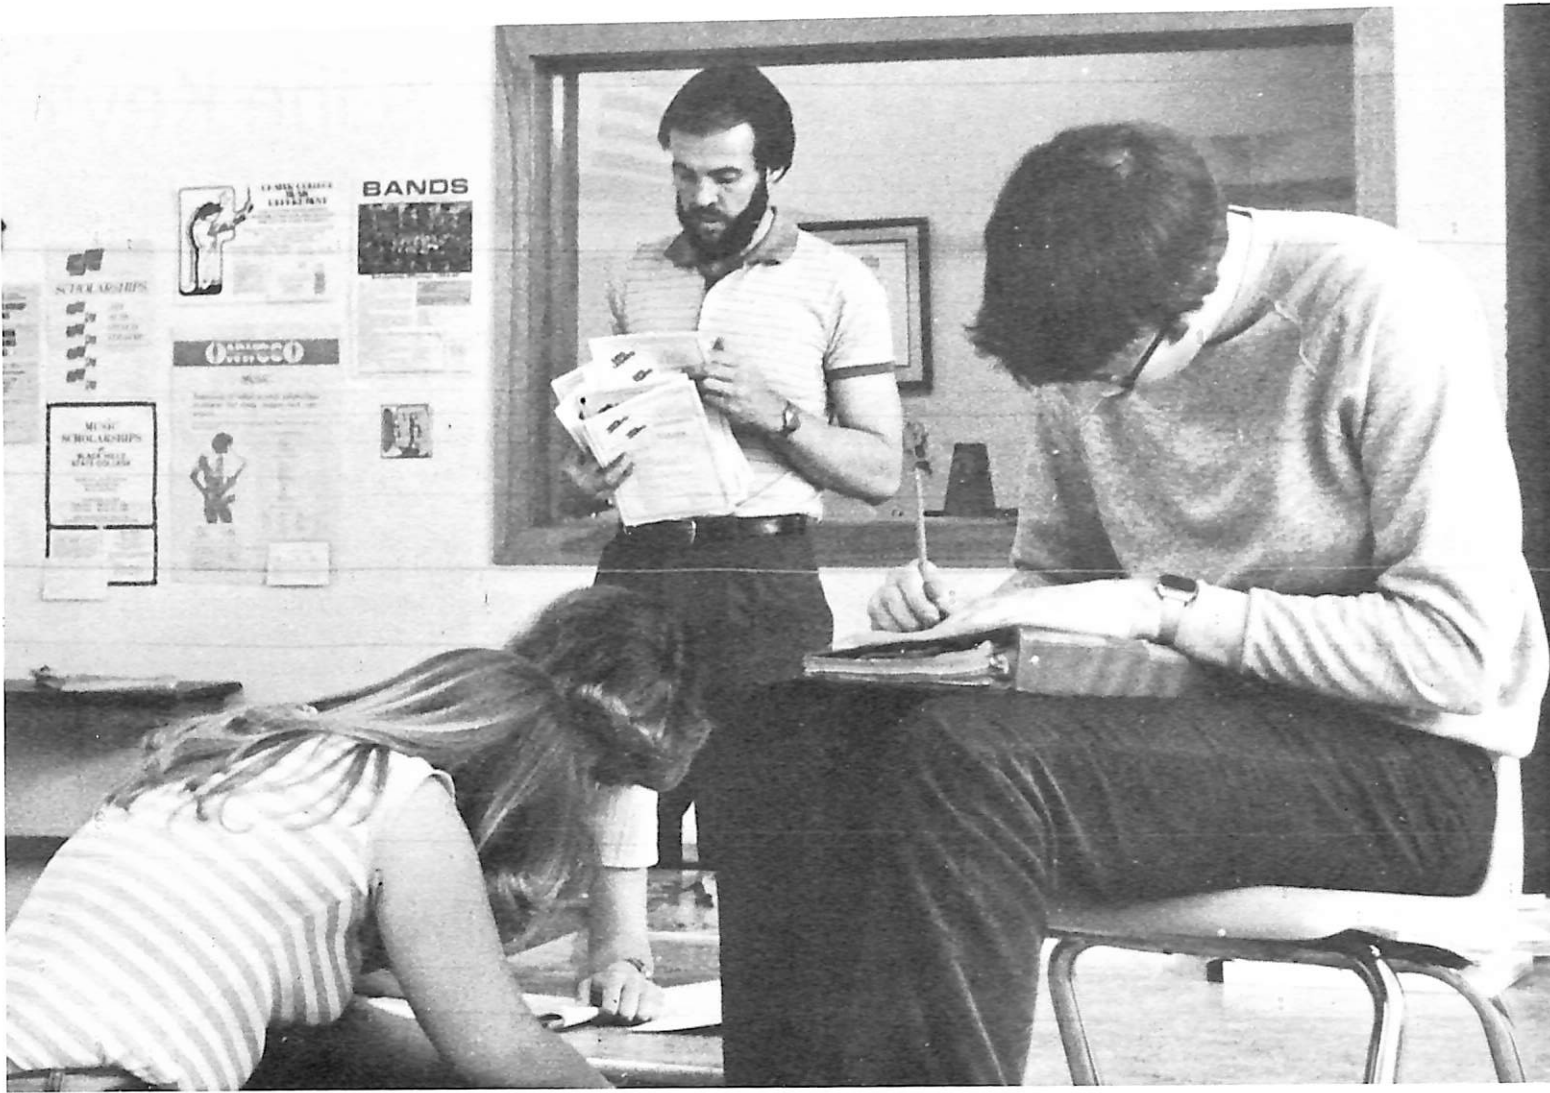

The Music Man was performed on March 21st and 22nd. It turned out to be a great success, except for the few minor flaws that come along with any production.

Harold Hill, who was portrayed by Rick Excell, was handcuffed in the last two scenes. When the scenes were over, and it was time for curtain call, Rick was still in the handcuffs, and Mr. Birch had the key. Rick frantically looked for Mr. Birch. When he was found, Mr. Birch felt in his pockets and found nothing. He then remembered that he had changed clothes earlier to play the part of Salesman #3, who was originally to be played by Shane McKinnon who had had shoulder surgery and was unable to participate. Mr. Birch rushed into Mr. Miller's room and found the keys in the pocket of his other clothes, rushed back up to the stage and unlocked Rick's handcuffs just in time for curtain call.

Pop Groups Chosen

Shane McKinnon looks for a place to hide from Mr. Miller.

In addition to the concert band and choir, there were two new groups formed in the music department. One was the jazz band which had 12 members and the show choir, Celebration, which had 8 members. Celebration performed at concerts, church functions, and at the Senior Citizens' Musical Program. Both new pop groups received superior ratings at festival, as did the concert choir. The concert band received an excellent rating. The new groups are going to have more positions open next year and expect a good turn-out.

Everything From

An opening assembly welcomed the student body to the 1984 school year. Mr. Excell and Kenny Petersen spoke and introduced the new students.

Two musicians from England used synthesizers, amplifiers, and other electrical equipment to play sounds of the future. The audience enjoyed hearing many hit songs along with one original from the musicians. The next assembly was of Egyptian mummies. A real mummy was shown to the audience.

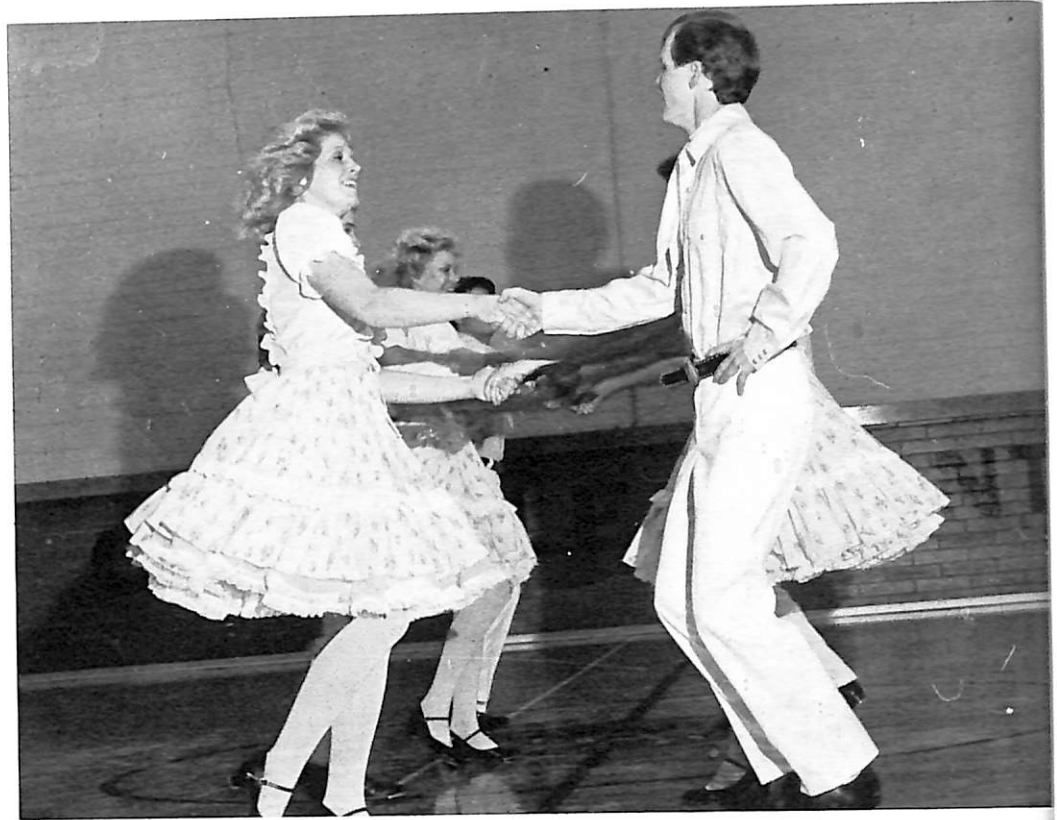

Snakes filled the stage for the 4th assembly. Recruits from the student body were brought to the stage to hold a 40 foot boa constrictor. An Indian cobra, one of the most dangerous in the world, was carefully handled by the snake keeper. Other snakes were displayed in glass cages.

Pantomimists performed before the student body, and entertained with skits of "going to the movies", "skiing downhill," and more.

VaHalla dancers, from Rexburg, Idaho, performed in the new gym. Many different forms of dance, costumes, and dancers kept most everyone interested.

A puppeteer from England brought a variety of talented puppets such as the Laughing Policeman, The Ghost, The Glamourous Ostrich, etc.

The general and primary elections, and the awards assembly were the last assemblies of the year.

Student Council Changes Bylaws

The student council decided to earmark fund raisers to give all of the classes a chance to have at least one large fund raiser a year. The seventh grade wasn't given an earmarked fund raiser, the eighth grade got the junior prom dinner, the freshmen received the magazine drive, the sophomores were given the fall dinner, the juniors already had a slave sale, and the seniors received the MORP.

The council also decided to change the constitution and let the Vice President be the parliamentarian. The change was presented to the student body during the Student Body Officers nominating assembly and was passed by more than two-thirds majority.

Rick Excell, the Student Body Vice President, takes his job seriously.

Kenny Petersen, had a variety of jobs being the Student Body President.

Epidemic at State FHA

State F.H.A. convention was held in Sheridan at the Holiday Inn on February 5th through 7th. When the girls arrived Sunday morning to start the trip 85% had bad colds and sore throats. Upon arrival everything went all right until Monday morning. Upon awakening it was discovered that three of the girls were too sick to participate in the day's activities. Mrs. Weston and Mrs. Buckley, who didn't feel so hot themselves, spent the day playing nurse. Tuesday everyone was a little better and they were all able to attend the awards banquet where Terry Stonecypher, Sally Forrest, and Amy Buckley received awards for their reach projects. After a day at home in bed everyone recovered and returned to the old grind at Cokeville High.

"I Wonder"

A new-old addition was restored to the class schedule. Now, that may sound funny — new-old — but that's exactly what it is. Four students under the direction of Mr. Chad Teichert, started once again to publish a school newspaper, the Sage. The Sage hasn't been produced for five years and nobody really realized how much they missed it until the first edition came out with its various articles, games, and everybody's favorite, the "I Wonders." Although some were quite upset when their names appeared in the "I Wonder" section, others really got their jollies out of it. Anyway, we're glad it's back and hope it stays in print for many years to come.

More Than Just Pretty Faces

Being a player of both football and basketball, I wasn't able to pay much attention to the cheerleaders, but I could always tell when they were cheering because I could always hear them. Some people might think that cheerleaders are out there only to look pretty and make pyramids when the occasion calls for it.

Cheerleaders serve a purpose, although that may be hard to believe, I find it hard to imagine myself on the court or field surrounded by dead silence. It would become depressing after awhile. I would become sick of listening to myself. Suzanne, Kathy, Andra, and Amy did a good job of fulfilling their purpose. There were times this year when the noise was deafening and I couldn't hear a thing. I finally found out what the girls go through when I fouled out of the regional game against Bow-Basin. How the cheerleaders and the girls in the bleachers got through that game without having a heart attack or losing their voices permanently, must have been a miracle. And even though we may not have felt very good afterward, it was nice to have them and the other girls come and tell us that we had done a good job. Thank you girls for a job well done.

Daddies Dance!

Eleven girls under the direction of their new leader, Terry Nate, performed their way into the hearts of the community as the 1983-84 Pantherettes. They started out the year with something that hasn't been done for quite a long time. The girls had to try out for judges who selected ten girls plus one alternate. Kathy Nate was selected as Drill Mistress and Sharlot McKinnon as Asst. Drill Mistress. They ended the year with a great finale. Besides the performance of the Pantherettes routines from throughout the year, there were a number of novelty acts. One of which was six of the girls' daddies performing as the "Alumni Tom Cats" in their skirts, wigs, and well stuffed bras. It was a real treat for everyone in attendance.

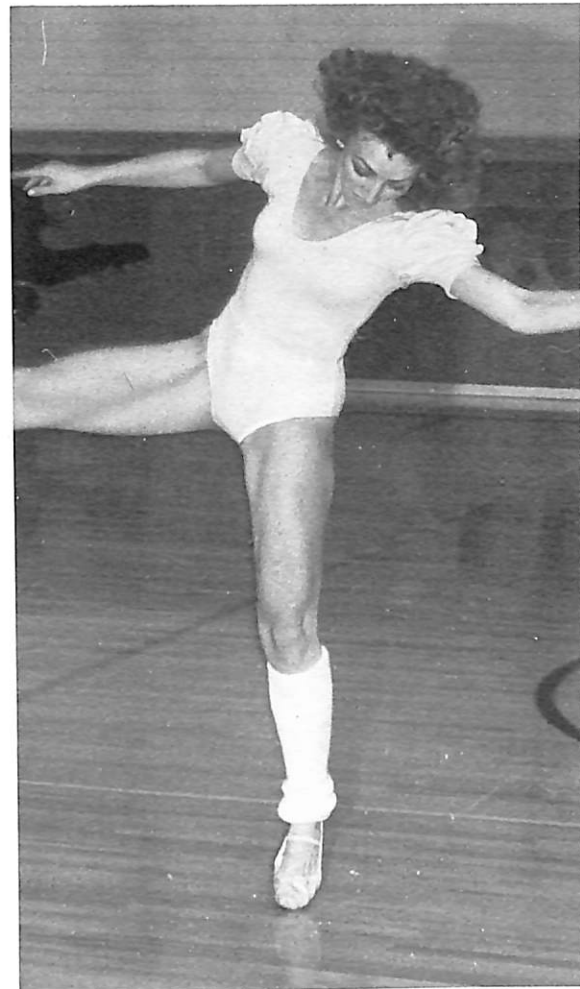

One of the new and neatest things the Pantherettes did, a four level pyramid.

Kathy Nate's daddy, Dennis, shows where she got her charm and grace enabling her to be this year's Outstanding Pantherette.

New advisor, Terry Nate, checks her watch as the show is about to begin.

Sherry Smith performs one of this year's hottest dance crazes to the theme song from 69 the movie Flashdance.

Linda Kleeman makes a final check of her pages before handing them in.

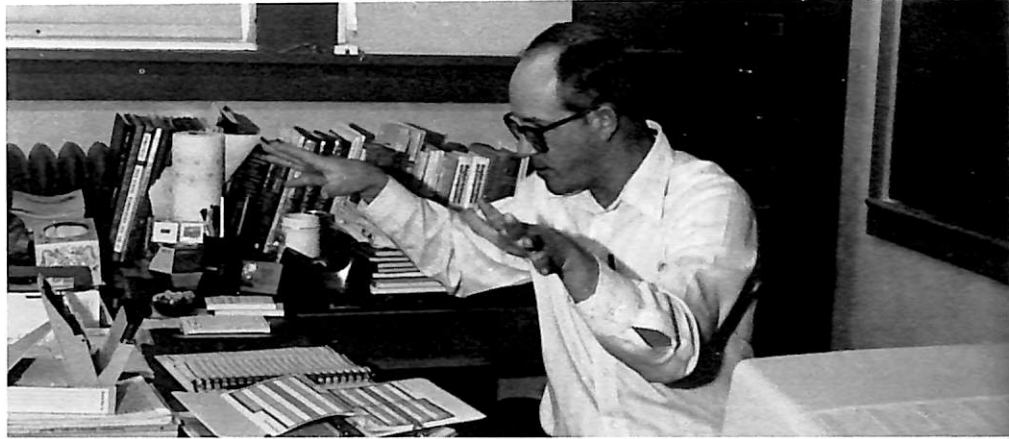

Yearbook Computerized

A new computer grading system, written by Mr. Taylor, Business Teacher, was implemented this year for the yearbook class. This system is an updated version of the trial system used last year.

The program sorts student grades, by due dates, by page numbers, and by student name and assigns grades according to when pages are turned in.

November 7 and 8 most of the staff attended State Journalism Convention in Rawlins. While there, the staff attended workshops and lectures on how to produce a better book.

The 1982 and 1983 books were delivered at the Christmas party.

State Champs Surrounded by Squad Cars

Sirens, screaming parents, kids in the streets . . . a riot? No, a genuine Cokeville welcome for the 1983 state Football Champs. For more than an hour cheering fans greeted and congratulated the tired, but proud team; meanwhile, the proud coaches have that "we-knew-it-all-along" look on their faces, as all thoughts of preseason doubts vanished.

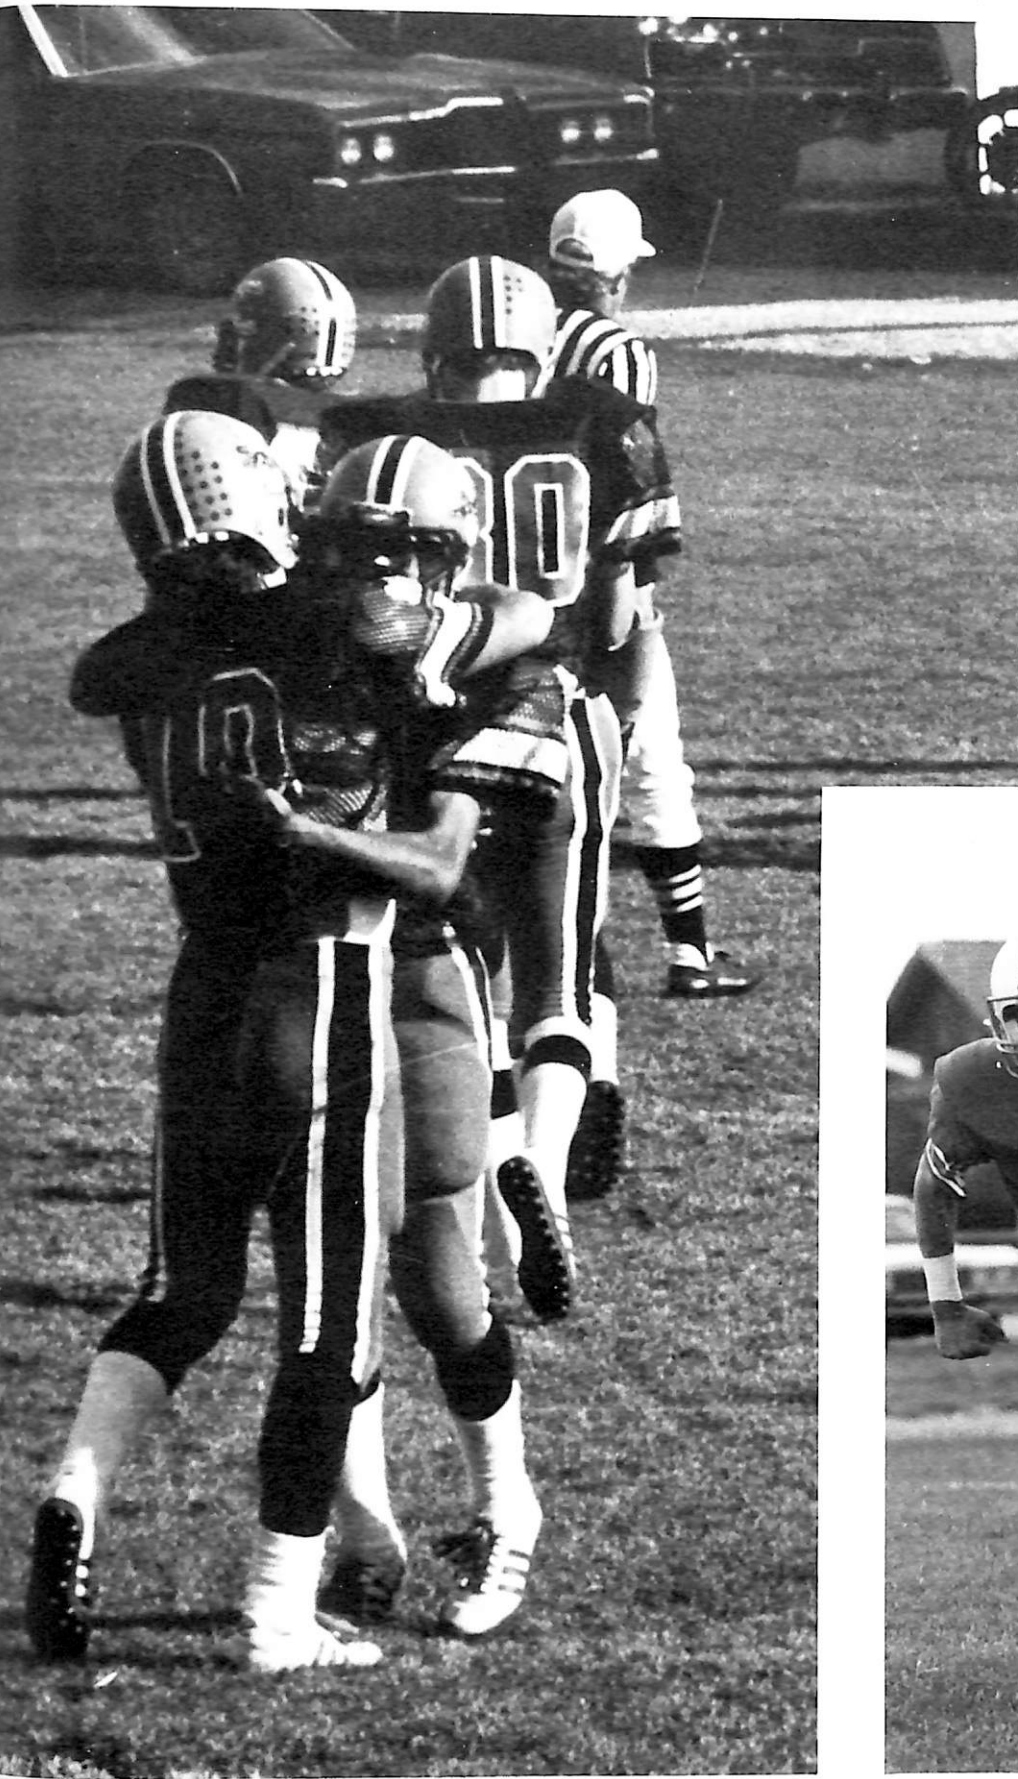

Although the Panthers got off to a rough start against Mt. View, they pulled it together and achieved their goal of becoming the first 1-A State Champs.

When Coach Bryant Teichert sends his boys home at night, he reminds them to think about what they will have to do in a game. Coach Teichert says his main objective is to teach these boys the "44 Special," which is the basic play in the offense of the high school team. During the season the boys must learn every aspect of this special play. When they join the high school football team they are expected to know it. If they don't, they spend most of the season learning it. With the new Freshmen that the high school team had this year it is obvious that Coach Teichert does a good job.

Chocolate Roll and Sundaes?

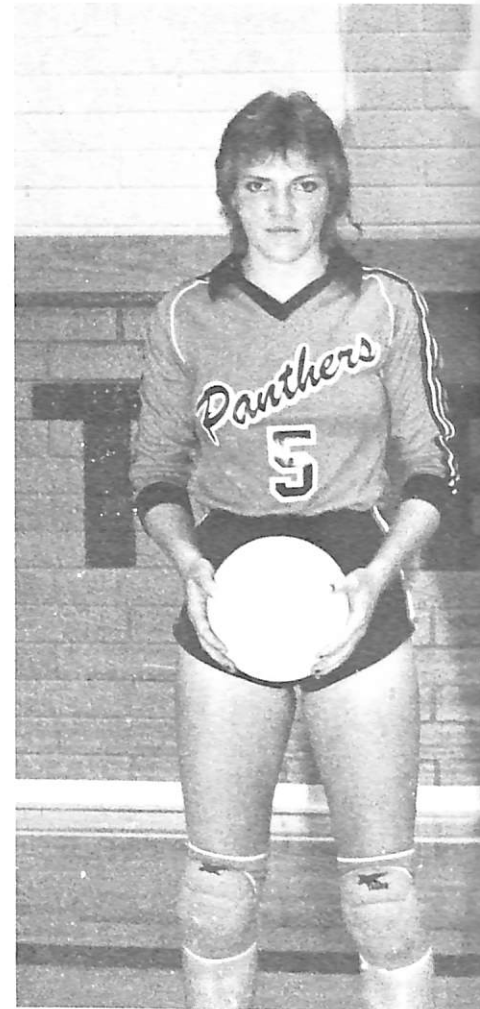

The varsity volleyball coaches came up with an idea to make the team set a little better and spike a little harder. Once in awhile Coach Teichert and Coach Anderson would challenge the girls to a scrimmage, the prize if they won, being a trip to Coach Teichert's house for chocolate roll or sundaes. That sweet tooth got to the girls and made them play extra hard for that special treat. But of course the team ran extra hard the next day to work off the calories eaten the night before. The team took fourth at regionals and went on to state to be challenged by good teams but not placing.

JV Gets Revenge

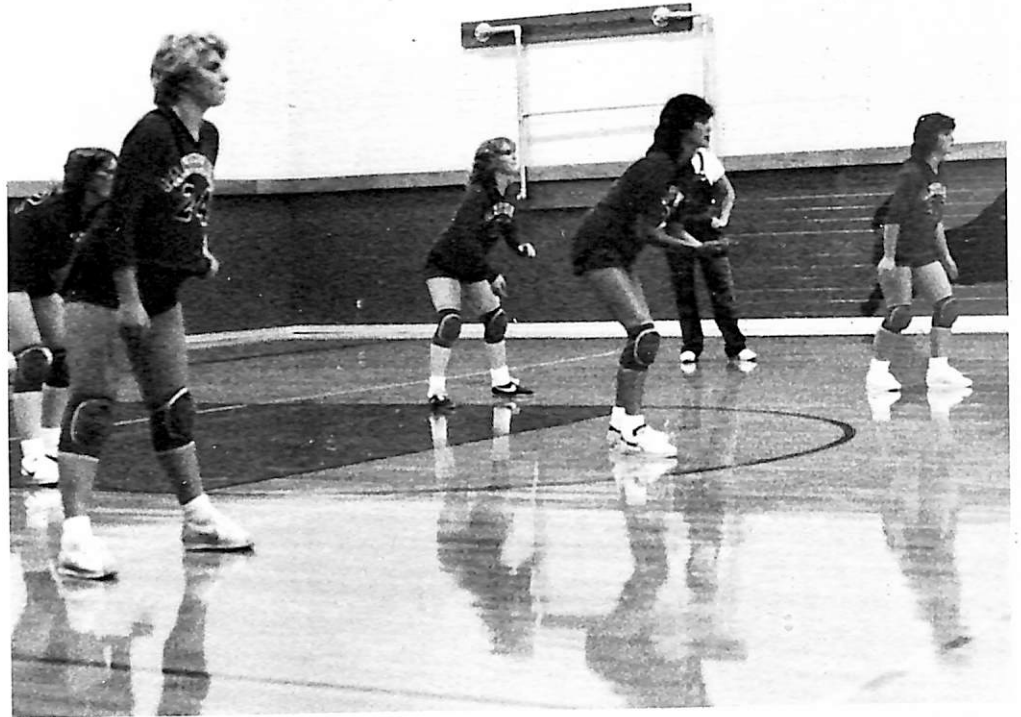

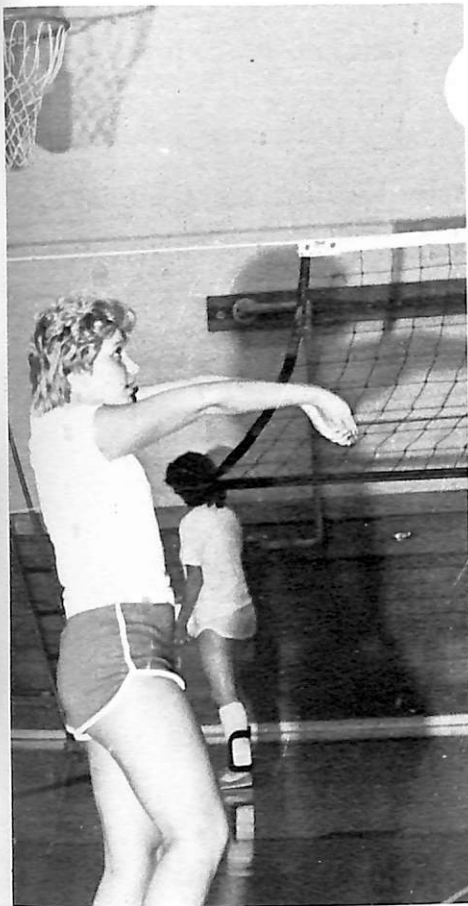

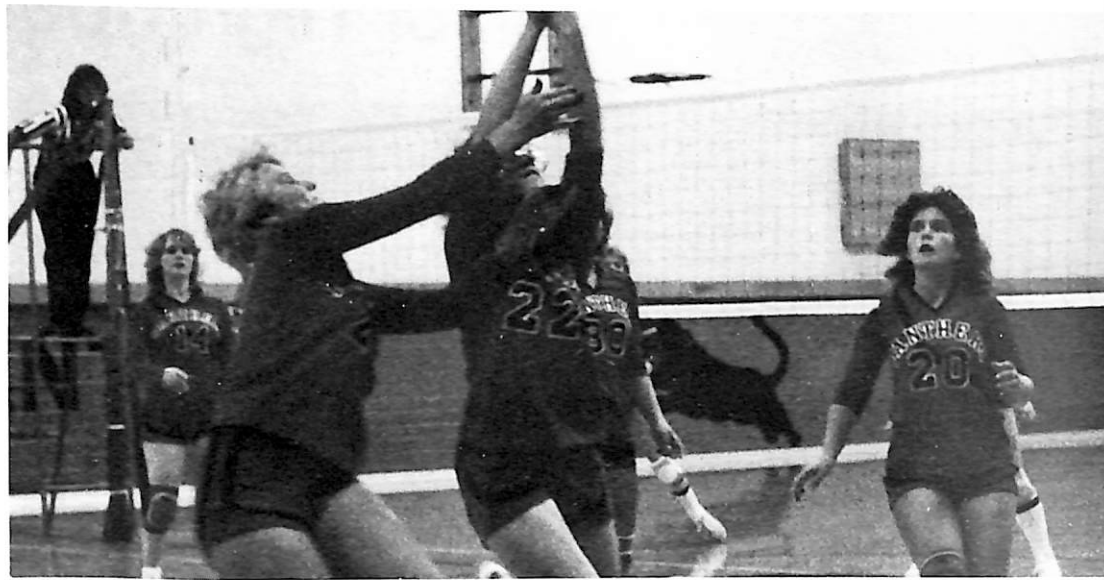

The rivalry between Cokeville and Star Valley really showed this year in junior varsity volleyball as Star Valley beat Cokeville in 2 games with scores of 12-15, 11-15 on Cokeville's home court. Revenge was in the girls' eyes and their chance came the next week when they played the Braves in Afton. Ah sweet revenge, the match ended with Cokeville over Star Valley in 3 games with scores of 12-15, 15-6, 15-6. These girls had an excellent season with an ending record of 13-5.

Junior High Hosts Tournament

The Southwest District Junior High Volleyball Tournament was hosted by the Panthers. Schools participating were Big Piney, Pinedale, Lyman, Mt. View, Star Valley, Evanston, Jackson, and of course, the homestanding Cokeville Panthers. The A team went into the tournament winning but lost their last two matches making their final season record 8-2. The B team didn't do as well and finished their season 6-6.

Boys try at Regionals

Shane McKinnon is really concentrating on warm-ups.

The Panthers first game at regionals was against the Encampment Tigers. They were down by seven points at the half. And at the end of the game the Panthers were defeated 48-55.

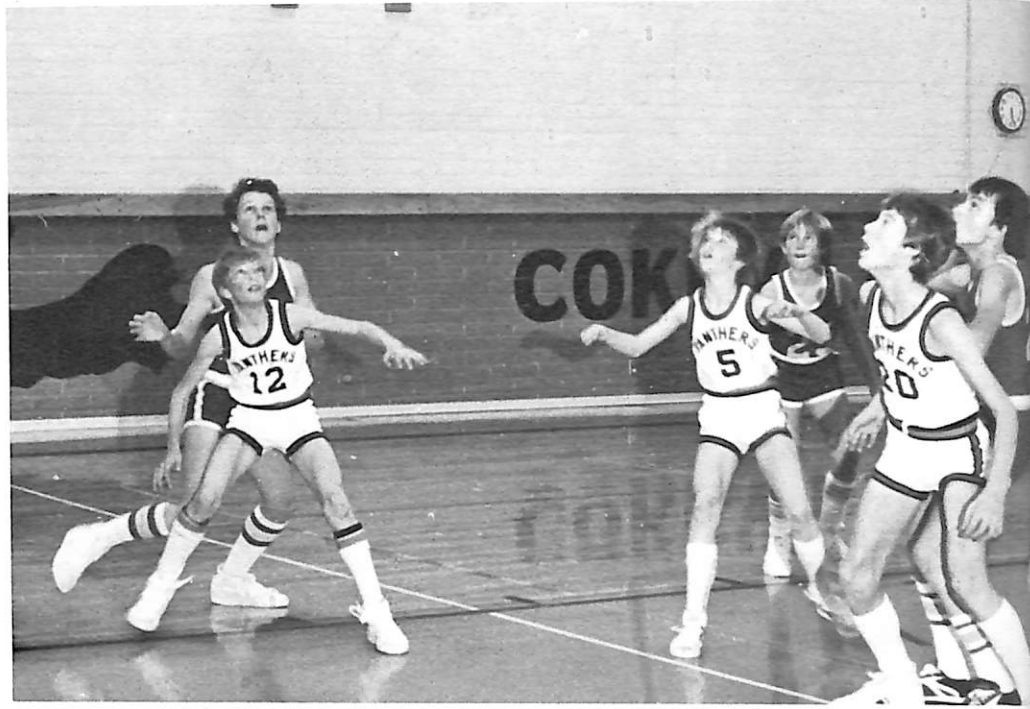

The next game was with Farson. The Panthers were ahead the whole game and ended with a victory of 59-49.

The last game was a tough one for the boys when they challenged Bow-Basin. It was a close game but the clock ran out, and they were defeated. The final score was 59-60. Consequently they didn't get to go to state.

Third Place

Since only eight girls went out for J.V. and varsity basketball, they all saw much playing time. All eight went to regional and state tournaments. At regionals, our girls finished third. At state, they played well, but didn't finish as high.

The season high scorers were: Sharlot McKinnon with 212 points, Jill Taylor with 176 points, Erin Fuller with 156 points, and Sivi Dayton with 151 points.

Erin Fuller and Sivi Dayton made the all-tournament team; Jill Taylor and Sivi Dayton were on the all-state team. Two all-conference girls were Sivi and Erin. The person receiving the best statistic award was Sharlot McKinnon; and Erin was voted as the most valuable player by her teammates.

Two Quarters a Game

The girls warm-up to sprints and passes before a game.

Coach Bryant Teichert gives a suggestion to Jill Taylor.

Both teams slow when a whistle is blown.

Debbie Vandermuss lunges for a loose ball, while April Fox runs to help her.

Because our J.V. and Varsity players were few in number, the jayvees were needed in the varsity games — and were limited to no more than two quarters in the J.V. games. They were substituted frequently into the varsity games, and helped spark the team to a third-place regional finish.

The highest scorer of the J.V. season was Connie Mower.

Teri Dayton races toward Cokeville's side of the court after a rebound.

Jenny Wixom prepares to give the Panthers two more points.

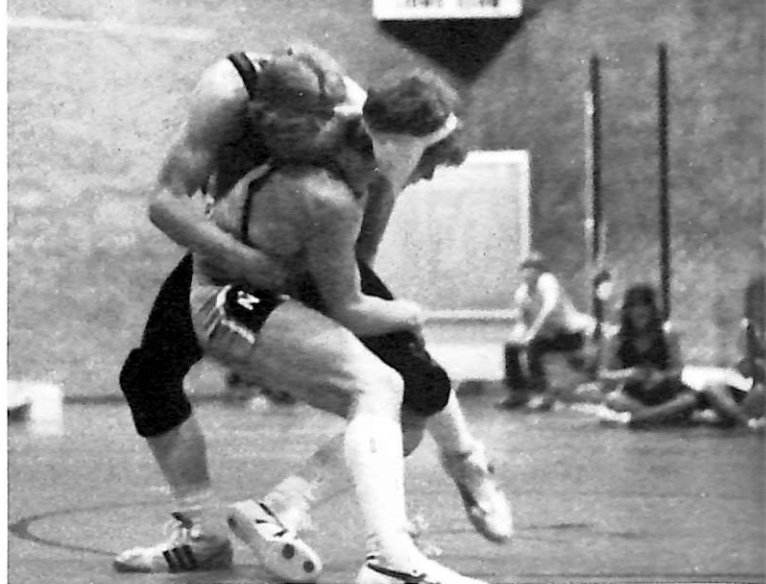

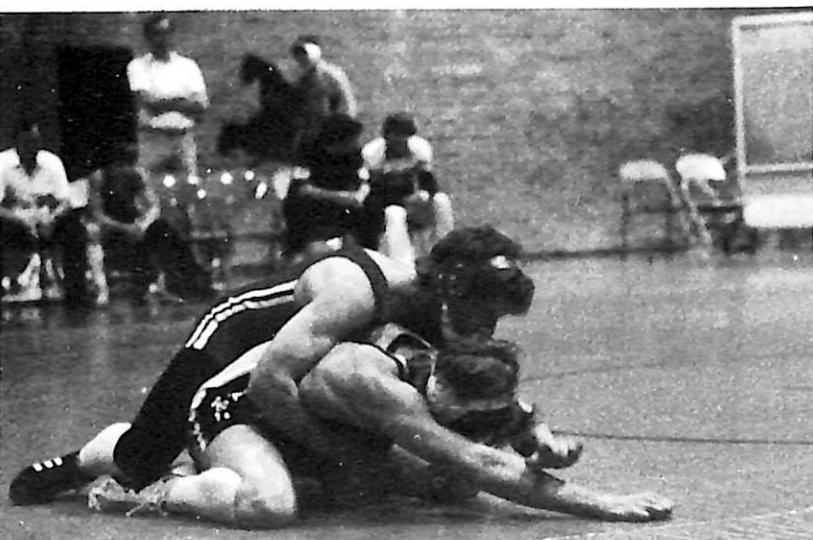

A first-time coach for the Junior High school girls' basketball team, Bud Dayton, and new assistant Debbie Anderson, helped with the team. Although they hadn't coached the 6th, 7th, and 8th graders before, they pulled the teams together for a successful season.

Eight games were played by each team, since they are in Jr. high. One of their eight games, played against Lyman, was especially close. Ten points were made by Cokeville, while eight were scored by Lyman in the first quarter. The Panthers played aggressively, which resulted in many foul shots for the opposing team, but also, the winning two points.

Marni Birch dribbles towards her teammates for assistance.

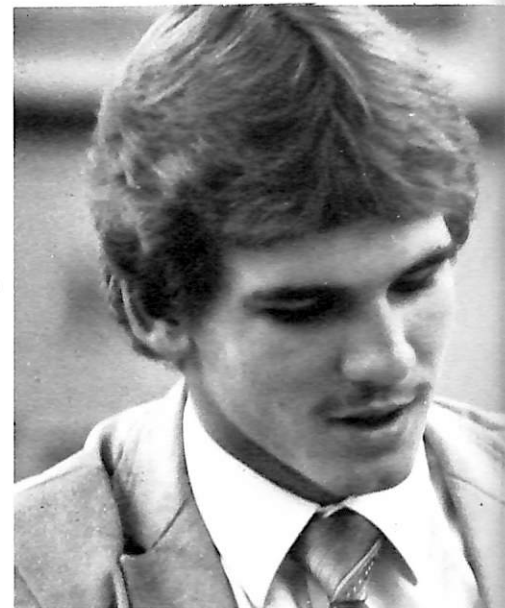

Weight

Getting ready for a match means one thing to a wrestler — making weight. Small meals, sweats, and running-off pounds are a way of life. One day you have stout-looking guys with beards and mustaches and the next you have clean shaven bags of bones walking the halls. Many people don't understand the concept of losing weight for wrestling, but it must work because the wrestlers came away from the regional meet with 138-lb. Kenny Petersen and 167-lb. Tim Teichert both holding regional titles. Freshmen, Danny Mitchell and Willie Martinez also placed and all four were on their way to state.

At the state meet the inexperience of the younger two matmen had them out of the tourney the first day, but as they put it, "We'll be back next year and be that much better."

The older wrestlers both worked hard and were still in the tournament the second day. In the semi-finals, Kenny Petersen was up against a top contender from Basin. The match went back and forth in the regular three periods with a final score of 4-4. It went into a gruelling overtime. Tied again, Petersen won because he had the first takedown. This put him in for the title match which he lost to a tough opponent. In Teichert's semi-final a stroke of bad luck sneaked in and he went down. But he fought back up in the wrestlebacks to go for third. He turned on the power and won. They came home with one second, one third, and the prospect of an even better next year.

Kenny Petersen placed 2nd in the 138-lb. class at the state tournament.

Tim Teichert came away from the state meet with 3rd place in the 167-lb. class.

Brian Toomer remains in control and breaks down his opponent.

Two Place at Tourney

The junior high wrestlers had a good season. The team consisted of six sixth graders, four seventh graders, and three eighth graders. These fourteen went to tournament in Jackson. Out of those participating, two eighth graders, Ryan Cornia and Jonathan Teichert placed. Each came home with third place in his weight division. All of these young men will help the high school wrestling program in the future.

Boys Take Third

Brian Toomer and Blair Robinson practice passing the baton.

At the Southwest regionals the boys took 3rd place. Rick Excell took first in the pole vault followed by Brian Toomer with 2nd. Mike Kennington placed 2nd in the 800m. Robby Petersen was awarded the outstanding track man award for 1984.
