Everyone who comes to the Cokeville schools to play the education game also plays the parking game, whether it be the grade school kids that ride their bikes (1) or the high school students taking a comfort rest during lunch hour (10). The main parking lot (7) has a new feature, a white line (4) painted just to the east of the school garage for the safety of the cars and the buses that may back into them. Most of the vehicles have hot wheels (5) but sometimes the drivers are a little too confident (3). Although there are some restrictions (6) there are plenty of parking spaces (2) and all of the parking is free. (11) There are some students that don't have to worry about parking because the buses do it for them (8) but most of the students like to leave their mark (9).

What goes on in classes at C.H.S. varies from work with concentration (5) to leaving a mess as the boys cook in their home ec. class (3), to actually studying (10), to constructive work while the shop class builds a house (6), to special work (9), to creative work preparing for the Sage to come out (8), to gossiping (2), and to parties enjoyed by all (1). With all these different things taking place in their classrooms, you can see why the teachers (7) often feel aggravated (4).

We learn in home ec. that with all our physical games, we need our energy to perform. To receive that energy, we must eat as Mr. Birch demonstrates to us (1). We also learn about those who sneak around to catch those who are least expecting to be caught (2) and (3). Along with all this fun, we learn about the great satisfaction we can receive from our work (5).

Our home ec. program offers all this and much more to everyone, girls, bachelors (6) and even Santa Claus? (7) But along with all these fun and games, we must work hard (8) to obtain our final reward (9).

The auditorium is like the game of Dominoes (2) because there is such a variety of things to do. The younger kids had fun with Santa (1), bobbed for apples (3) and made pottery (4). The high school kids got involved in Oklahoma (6), but Mr. Birch proved that it wasn't all games (5).

Many students in the high school get involved in building (3) like the house the building construction class built this year (1). Alas, they could not work with their bare hands, and each worker was issued a new work belt and hammers (4). There is also wood-working, demonstrated by Stewart (2). Donald etches out his drafting skill in a class assignment (5). But as you can see by this picture, shop class is not all work (6).

Many students get involved in games in the gyms. Some of the Super Jocks (3) have accomplished remarkable feats in the weight room (1). This hard work and sacrifice of comfort (4) prepare them for the games they participate in. It has paid off for many Cokeville athletes, both on the wrestling mat (5) and on the ball court (6). The girls also get involved in these competitive games (7). Whatever the game the Cokeville students will always be there to yell (2).

Everyone at CHS also participates in many outdoor sports, for all seasons. Whether it be (1) Panther track and field, (2) an innocent snowball fight, (3) or an exciting tubing ride, there is something for everyone. (4) Coach Johnson's leadership helps make our football program unique.

(6) Who can forget our childhood games? (7) Then there are those who go for the animal-human contact sport. (8) Since the new ski lift has opened, winter skiing has become a big sport. CHS has a lot to offer for everyone.

In Memory of Janice Sorenson
a Dedicated Teacher

Oh, how I miss her cheerful laughter
And her happy smiling face.
But I feel sure with all my loss,
Heaven is a happier place.

She loved to meet new people
And make new friends as well.
You couldn't mention a single name
That with her didn't ring a bell.

She did a lot for lots of folks,
She did her best each year,
She did a lot of worthwhile things
She spread a lot of cheer.

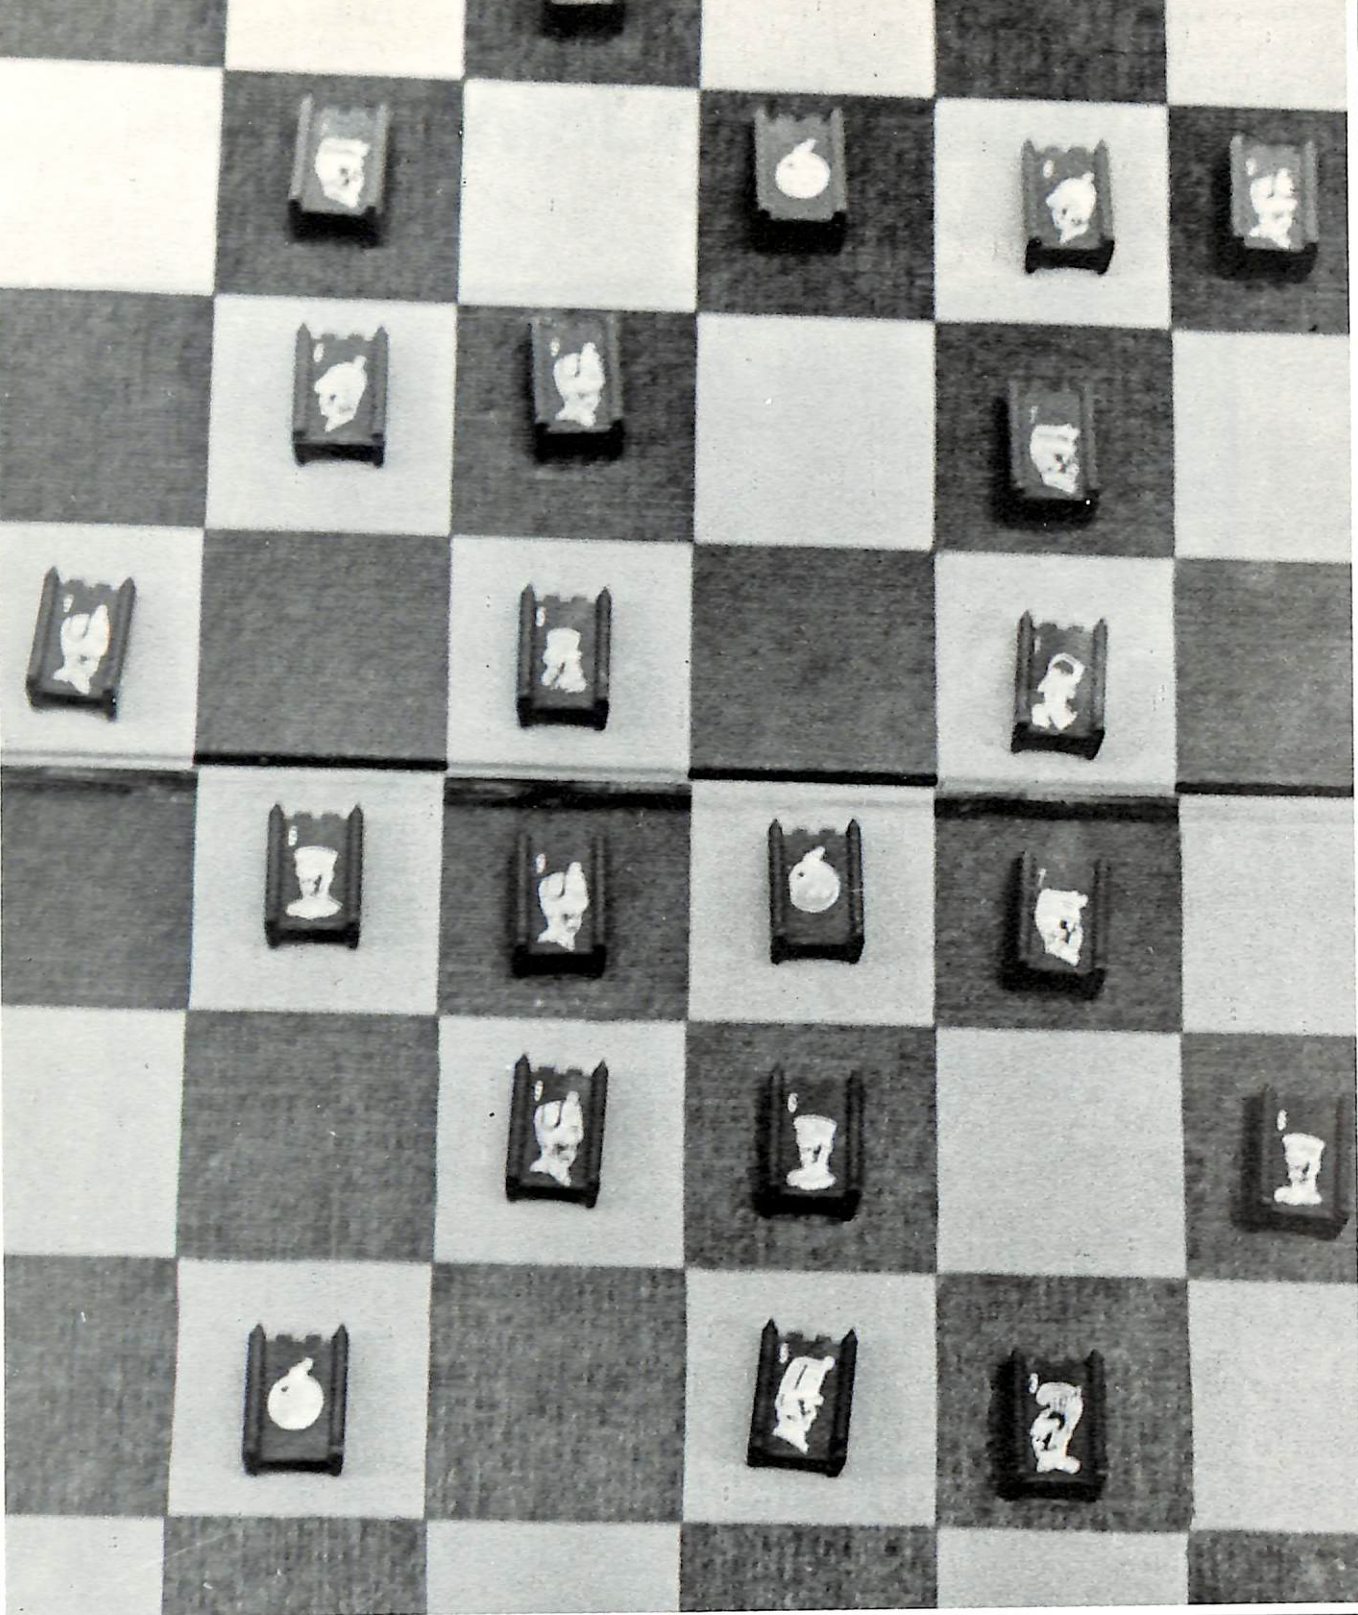

She wasn't unkind to anyone,

Even those unkind to her.
She kept herself truly humble,
The way that is preferred.

She loved God's beauties of Nature,
More than anyone should dare.
And when she found something unusual,
With the work she would always share.

A friend she had said this of her,
And it was passed onto me:
"Tis a better world 'cause she passed through,
How much sweeter heaven must be."

The seniors proved they're top notch by winning the class competition both at homecoming and on "Play Day." Their "sneak" was to Salt Lake. They stayed overnight at Little America. They went to Hogle Zoo, Lagoon, and the Hansen Planetarium. They had a great time and were all washed up after they spent their time at Lagoon in the rain.

The juniors are really getting themselves together. They are really getting down to business now that they only have their senior year left. Every year when the seniors go, the juniors always fill in the hole. Their enthusiasm and efforts have been seen and heard by a great majority of people. These juniors know what this world is all about.

The Sophomores started the year off by taking third in the Homecoming parade. They also had two money-making projects and two class parties. Their advisors were Mr. Tony Langford and Mr. Steve Taylor. The class closed the year with a movie. The class of "80," after having a great time as Sophomores are now ready to go on to bigger and better things for next year, when they become "mighty" Juniors.

The first year in high school can be a very frightening experience for most freshmen, but this year's freshmen haven't found it frightening at all. For a money-making project they had two movies both of which were very successful. Their class parties included eating then swimming and going to a movie in Montpelier. They have also added to Cokeville's spirit by being involved in sports, cheerleading, and pep club.

MUSIC AND

DON'T LET THE

This year the number in both band and choir was not very large but we still had a fine group of kids who put a lot of effort into both the band and choir. The band and the choir attended interschool clinic and traveled to Star Valley where they participated in the annual festival. Mr. Steve Erickson really helped the students with their solo's and gave them new opportunities to look forward to for the next year. They also performed a Spring concert and for the Award Assembly. The choir also had the opportunity to sing with the Weber State choir.

NEW CLASS PRESENTS OKLAHOMA

1977-78 will always be remembered as the first year CHS ever attempted a musical. Oklahoma was presented on January 5 and 7 to capacity crowds. Many months of good hard work went into this play. When it came time to present it, it really wasn't ready, but we went on with it anyway. We also presented it in Kemmerer, Laketown, and Montpelier where we received high praises. Our success with this play really made the entire group (all except six students in the upper three classes) feel real good.

CLUBS AND

FHA

1. Mrs. Dayton has been the FHA advisor for twenty-two years. 2. THE FHA girls who were initiated. (Your guess is as good as anyone's.) 3. Stewart Petersen was chosen Mr. Irresistable for the Sweetheart Ball. 4. Carole Thompson, who was the FHA president was also Miss Sweetheart. 5. The candle — an FHA symbol for helping to light up lives. 6. Pat Taylor and Coach Johnson kiss under a mistle toe held by Don Toomer. 7. Pam Neumann loved initiation.

We must be absolutely crazy! As freshmen we are initiated as Future Homemakers of America. Everyone here does it. Some think it's more or less a tradition. It's more like, "The Great Annual Torture." Then comes Christmas; it's great. We give a party to the kindergarten and give them cookies. All the cookie making gets old, but the dough sure doesn't. See, we have this one recipe, and it's the greatest! Most everyone at CHS will agree, but don't tell Mrs. Dayton. Ya see, we eat lots more dough than we cook. We also have to decorate the halls. We use the usual red and green chains, and paper snow flakes, but most important, the mistletoe. A true CHS Christmas legend, 1977 surely won't be forgotten. All FHA members know that you have to kiss a lot of toads before you meet the handsome prince. Now, how can we possibly become homemakers without a handsome prince? Sometimes FHA seems like a big joke but really almost everything helps us in some way, even initiation. We learn to take the bad with the good, how to make a big mess, and how to clean it up. We also went to the District and State Conventions. What a bore, right? But may be someday we will finally become good leaders, mothers, wives, homemakers, and someone our handsome prince will be proud of.

SKI CLUB IS ORGANIZED

The opening of the new Pine Creek Ski Area revived Cokeville's interest in skiing and many high school and junior high students "got the bug." Our ski club got organized and elected officers but, with our busy schedule, couldn't arrange any activities other than skiing the "heck" out of our new mountain.

SHOP CLASS BUILDS HOUSE

For the first time in Cokeville history the shop classes have built a house. It was financed and built in cooperation with Southeast Title and Realty in Montpelier. There have been a lot of good things come out of the shop: some really fantastic projects and an understanding of woodworking, power mechanics, electronics, and drafting. The most important thing they learned was that if there is anything to be done with a man's hands there is a way to do it.

RODEO

The new Rodeo Club started out with lot of bumps and bruises, but with time and practice the skill grew and the bumps healed. Some of the club attended the High School State Finals Rodeo in Buffalo. They didn't come home with any trophie but they did come back with a sense of accomplishment. They had matched themselves against some of the best stock in the country and when the buzzer rang some of them were still on top.

This year the school has a new class, Publications. This class helps avoid the hassle of meeting the deadlines for the newspaper and yearbook. Under the direction of Mr. Glenn Birch the Sage staff produces the paper which is then taken to Star Valley and printed by Star Valley Independent. With more time for planning, the yearbook staff has come up with new and better ideas, which have been incorporated with photographic help from Mr. Lyle Forrest.

ENTHUSIASTIC PANTHERETTES

The Pantherettes with their charm and enthusiasm marched for halftime entertainment during the football and basketball seasons.

At the end of their season they put on a grand finale consisting of all their performances during the year. Sandra Kingston was voted the Outstanding Pantherette. All of them put out an outstanding amount of time and hard work.

Carole Petersen was their advisor and helped the girls a great deal. She worked very hard with them and helped them make up different routines and create different costumes. The Pantherettes were a very good drill team and really pleased the crowds.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders busted, stripped and cheered for CHS. At the first pep rally they had a watermelon bust for the football team and pep club. Later on, during basketball they did a strip dance; they had everyone's attention! And, of course, they gave many cheers. The cheerleaders made this sports year a fun one.

PEP CLUB SHOWS SPIRIT

Besides supporting the boys at the games, the girls made money from the new pop corn machine and bake sales. They also helped at Homecoming: giving a banquet, decorations, and pep rallies.

1. Debbie Egbert, President; ReNae Taylor, Vice President; Pam Burton, Representative; Susan Harmon, Secretary; Jody Fritz, Reporter. 2. Tracy Fox is busy working in concession stand. 3. The cheerleaders have the pep rally well in hand. 4. Pam Burton works at the new pop corn machine.

HOMECOMING SUCCESSFUL

The week of Homecoming we had days for wearing hats, sucking suckers, wearing clothes inside out, wearing badges, and wearing orange and black clothes. The senior class won a cake for best participation.

The Panther attack was an appropriate theme for this year because the football team gave Pinedale the worst beating they have ever had, according to the Pinedale coach. Homecoming was very successful.

1. Senior boys, after coming back from white washing the "C". 2. Susan and Miss Barnson helped serve after the pep rally. 3. Alden Bennion. 4. Ronald Harmon and Karen Knouse were the Homecoming Royalty.

They went to district tournaments at Riverton, but did not place. Gwen Johns got all-tourney at District. Their year was unsuccessful but they had a lot of fun on their trips as a team and learned a lot also.

MAT RATS EXCEL

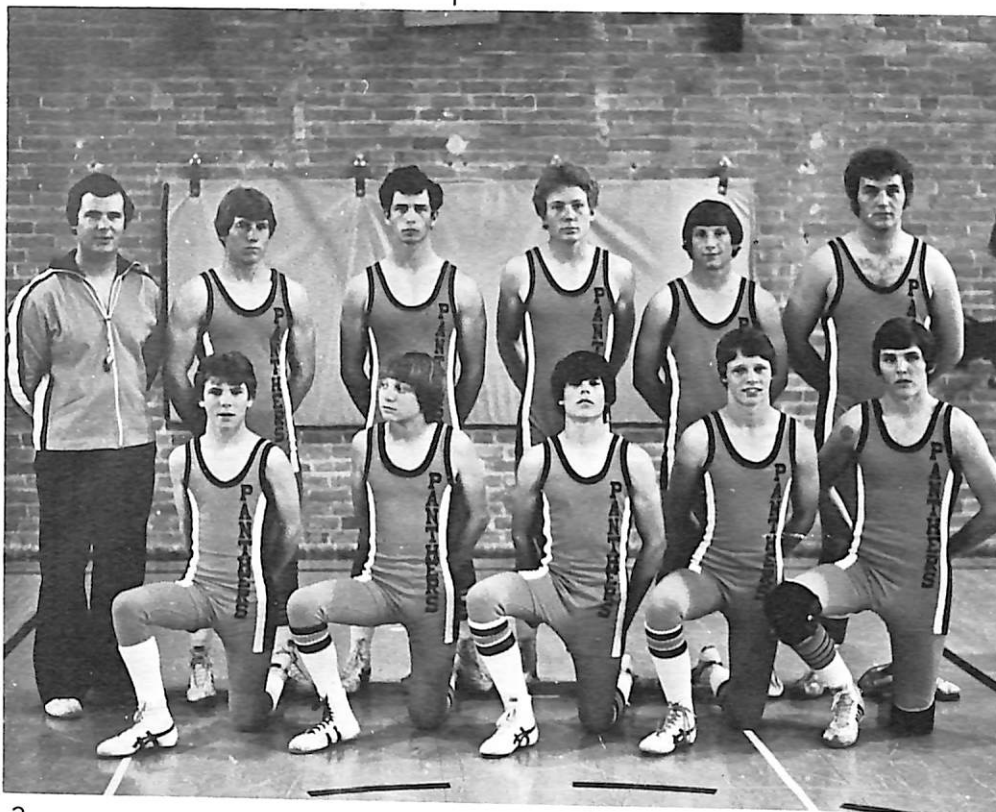

The wrestlers had a successful year. They took first at the Wind River tournament, second at the Cokeville tournament and second at District. Eight out of ten of them went to State Tournament where Stewart Petersen took first, Morrell McKinnon took second, Dillon Feuz third, Leon Pope fourth, Jerre Holmes fourth, and Melvin Teichert fourth.
