Tearin' It Up Around The School

We were TEARIN' IT UP AROUND THE SCHOOL. Every year the school loses some kids who really make the year enjoyable, and the students the following year feel they must try to do the same. This was no problem for the students to repeat. The sports teams had another outstanding year, and other extra-curricular activities did super to. Unlike some other years, there seemed to also be a special bonding between the younger students and the older ones. The school and everything to do with it was a "shredding" success, and school spirit and pride was there throughout the year.

The band added to the spirit at Homecoming.

Jared Hammond and Rusty Birch put on a great performance during the school play ANYTHING GOES.

Letterman jackets are just one of the many ways of showing school spirit.

Lori Nate enters a bubble blowing contest during lunch hour.

Brayson Buckner was always happy to go to another day of school. NOT!!

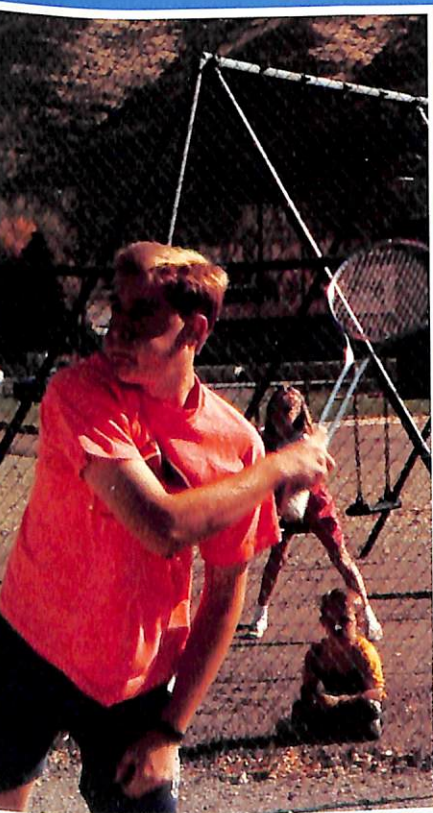

It took Paul Lazcanotegui and Brian Nate hours to come up with these outfits.

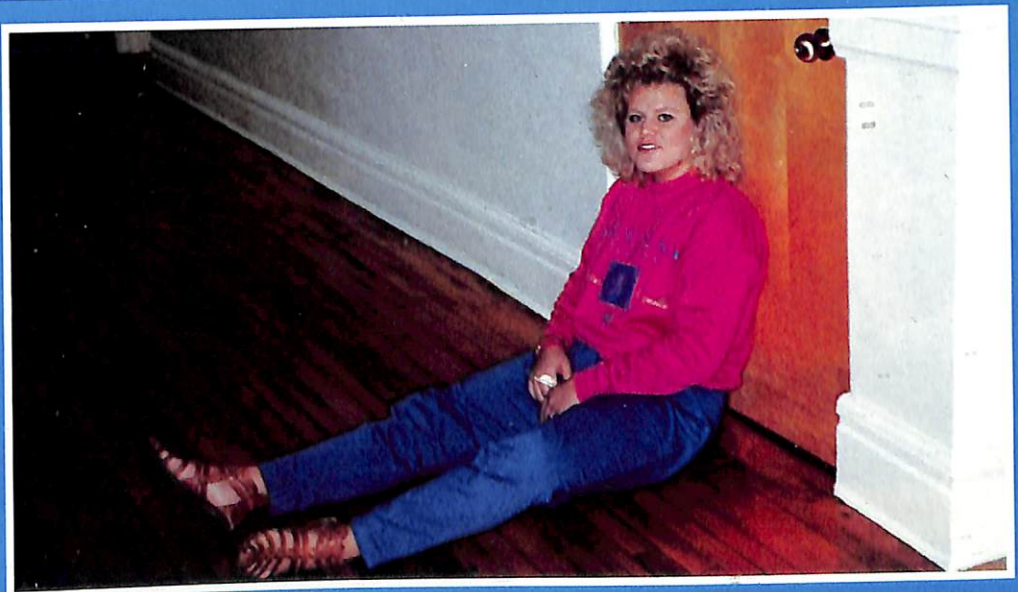

Tearin' It Up Around The School

Mandi Taylor, Jamie Buckley, Melanie Chadwick, and Jenny Ferrin really enjoyed "piggin out" during the FHA lockout.

Heidi Roberts participates in a favorite lunch time activity, sitting in the hall.

Fads and Fashions

Haircuts were on the wild side. Aaron Roberts, Jayson Byers, Cameron Bird, Chad Mitchell.

Favorite Song: "Everything I Do," Brian Adams.

Favorite Album: Use Your Illusion I/II, Guns and Roses.

Homecoming

Homecoming Generates "NEW SPIRIT"

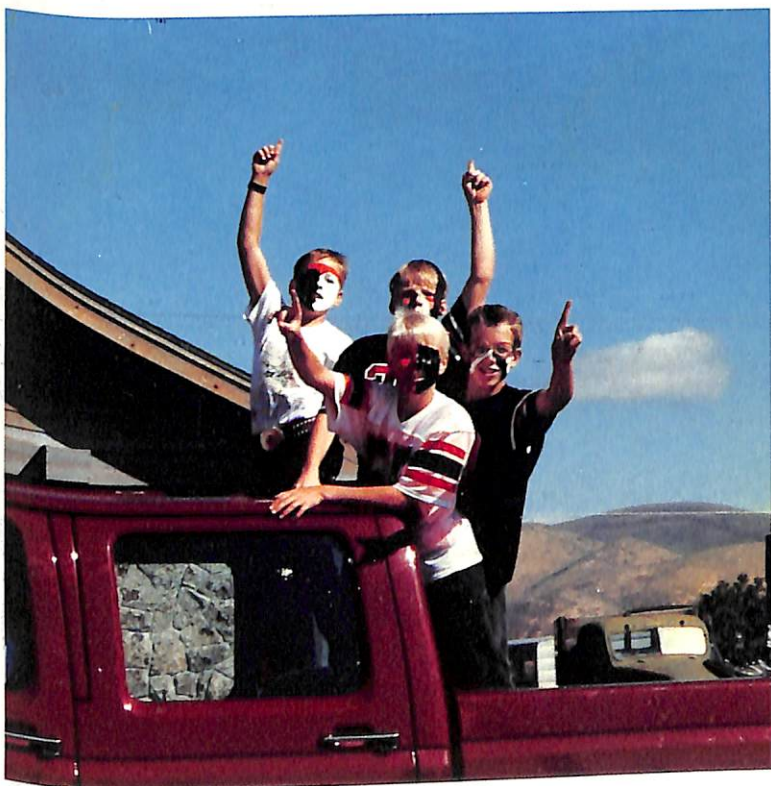

As usual Homecoming came with a huge surge of school spirit. With this Homecoming came a new twist: instead of the usual mid-season Homecoming celebration, we had a new and exciting start-of-the-year-get-your-spirit-running-early Homecoming. The excitement was running high through both the volleyball and football teams. Most people would say that it was natural for any team to be nervous before a game, but these games were different. Two years ago the two teams met the Lyman Eagles for their Homecoming challenge. The only difference is that two years ago the seniors of today were sideline players and were only able to look up to their senior teammates. This challenge let the two teams show the onlookers how much they had improved, and that they were no longer the onlooking sideline players but the best teams ever. On September 13, the two teams were able to put their skills to the test, and they passed the test with flying colors with the football team's thrilling win of 17-7 and the girl's exciting win in three games to show everyone that Cokeville High is really "TEARIN' IT UP!"

The seventh graders show their school spirit by painting their faces with the school colors.

Student body president Kyle Thornock and vice president Teresa Willis lead the parade with the American and CHS flags.

Anything Goes

Anything Goes was not only the title of the musical, it also fit what was happening off stage. When play practice came around everybody was tired or getting tired because they had already been to football or volleyball practice and were worn out. After a week of regular practice, props were being brought to practice and set up and used. One of the props was a set of bunkbeds. When the bunkbed was not being used on stage, it was being used off stage. People could always be found sleeping, sitting, talking or trying to memorize lines on them.

Everyone always wanted to be on the bunkbed or around it. Sometimes the bunkbed was a big problem. One time there was so much noise in the wings that Mr. Birch made the people who weren't on stage leave the bunkbed and go sit in the auditorium. For most of the cast, the bunkbed was the highlight of the whole play.

Moon Face Martin, (Rusty Birch), puckers up for a kiss from Bonnie, (Kimberly Thornock).

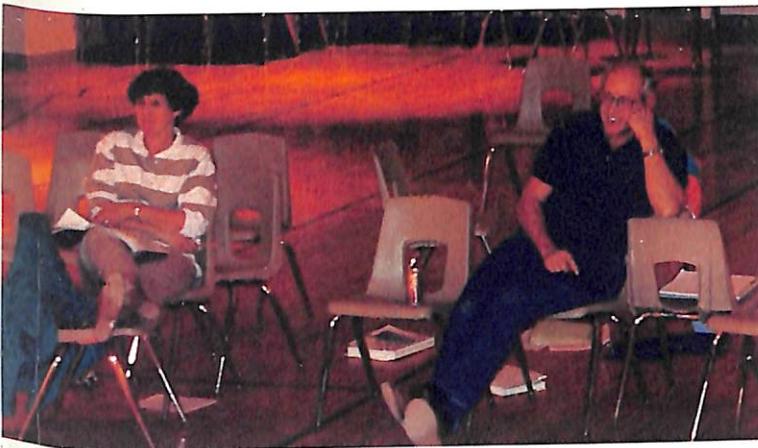

Janaan Bennion took advantage of some time off-stage by doing some homework.

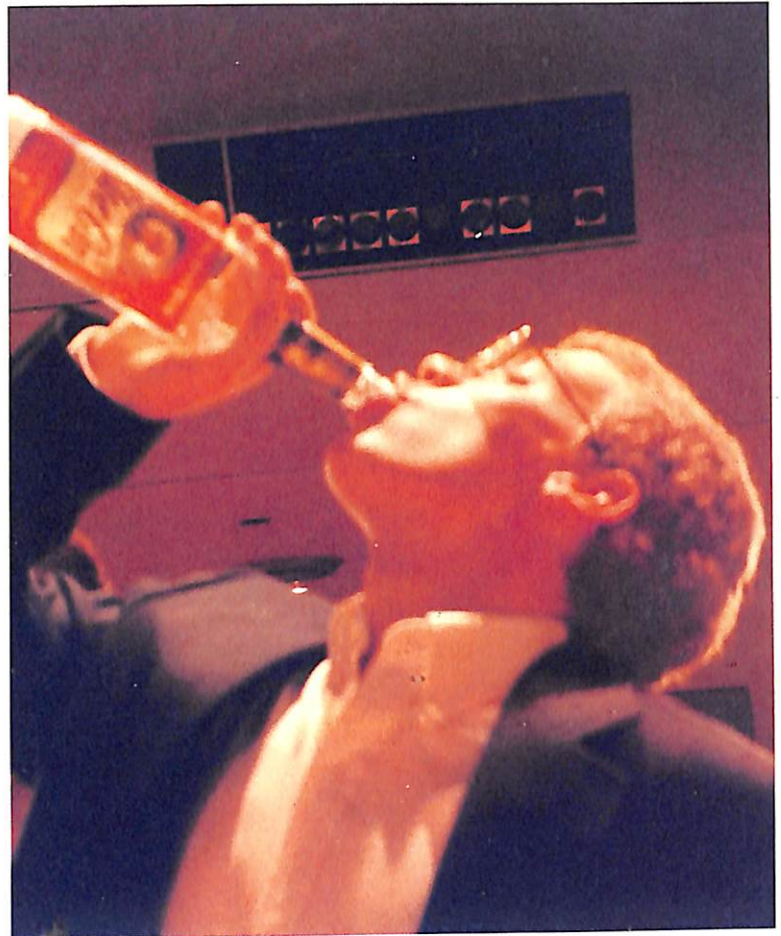

Sir Evelyn (Travis Walker), Hope (Janaan Bennion) and Billy (Jared Hammond) sit on the deck for a pleasant conversation.

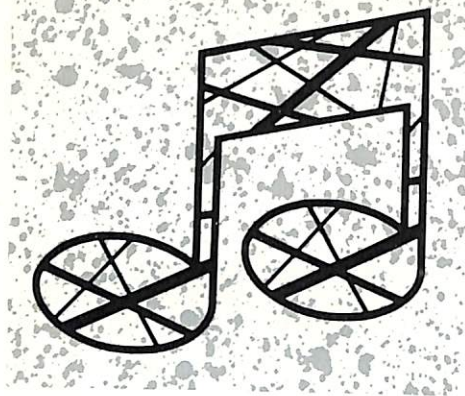

The director, Mr. Glenn Birch, and the choreographer, Mrs. Carol Petersen, watch the play evolve.

Mr. Elisha J. Whitney (Drew Cornia) tips the bottle after a hard day on Wall Street.

Michael Taylor takes a quick snooze on the bunkbeds during play rehearsal.

Stephanie Walton, Ranelle Dana, and Amber Larson get ready to show their stuff.

Jazz Band

Drew Cornia and Lea Kae Roberts start the concert of on a good note.

Brad Nate loves to perform on the trap set.

Celebration

Jeromy Jamison, Drew Cornia, and Travis Walker are definitely TEARIN' IT UP!

Celebration traveled and performed in many places, but their best shows were always for the home crowd at music department concerts.

FHA Locked Up

Along with a new teacher for home ec. came a new idea for the FHA: the FHA Lockout. The girls got all the supplies they would need for overnight and went to the school. Once they were all there, nobody could leave. They had movies, games, makeup supplies and lots of junkfood. It was a long night for new teacher Miss Kunz, but they had fun "Tearin' Up The School" for one night. The next morning they had a mess to clean up but it was all worth it, and they plan on it again for next year.

No one really slept during the lockout, but Kelly Miller and Mandi Taylor pretended to.

Miss Kunz got the best hairdo possible from Michelle Coates and Melanie Chadwick.

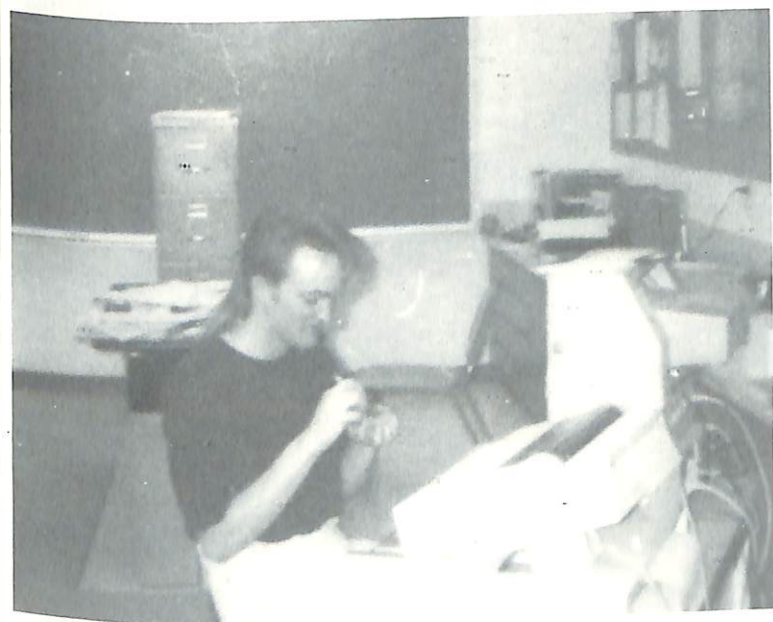

Joanna Metcalfe wanted to show everybody what she had for dinner.

Cheerleaders: Amy Bagaso, Jaime Metcalfe, Kristi Moore, and Mandi Taylor.

NO BLONDES IN THIS BUNCH

All four of our cheerleaders were brunettes. In previous years there has always been a blonde in the bunch, but not this year. There may have been blonde jokes told about this group, but not because of their hair color. The cheerleaders made it fun for the crowds at the games, and they made sure that the crowd knew they could still cheer without a blonde in the group.

The pressure of walking on ice, holding the hoop with bare hands, and being too short to lift the hoop to Kristi Moore's height, Mandi Taylor finds a new way to spell relief: H-E-L-P!

During the state football game, even though it was raining and very cold, you could still depend on the cheerleaders to keep the crowd going and supporting the team. Amy Bagaso and Jaime Metcalfe cheer the football team on no matter what the weather condition.

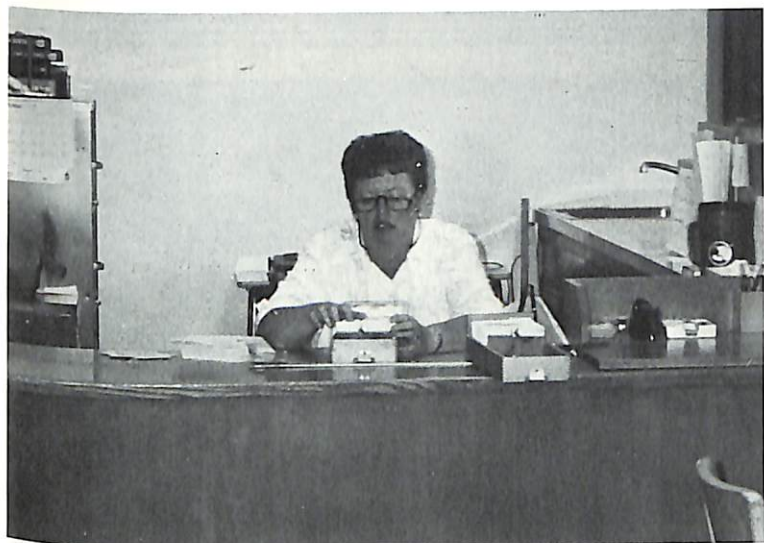

Mrs. Genera Robinson had a lot of responsibility on her shoulders last year. Besides being the school librarian, she was also the Cheerleading and Pep Club advisor.

Joelle Dana and Jenny Ferrin take a break while waiting for business in the Pep Club's concession stand.

Pep Club and Cheerleaders Meet Wolves Star

The Pep Club might have had only a few members, but the lack of size did not dampen their spirits. Only three members went to State, but they yelled as loud as a whole crowd. They supported the cheerleaders, the drill team and the basketball teams with all their Cokeville Pride.

At State, the cheerleaders and the Pep Club had an opportunity to meet one of the stars of the movie, Dances With Wolves. It was quite an exciting experience not only for the members of the Pep club, but also, for the fans of the other teams.

After a long, hard day's work, Kara Thornock is too tired to walk back to the football field, so Jamie Buckley gives her a ride.

Even though working in the concession stand was not a fun job, Kara Thornock, Veronica Setser, and Jaime Buckley found time for fun and food.

Cheerleaders Mandi Taylor, Amy Bagaso, and Kristi Moore cheer as loud as they can while riding on a car during the Homecoming parade.

SIXTH STRAIGHT STATE

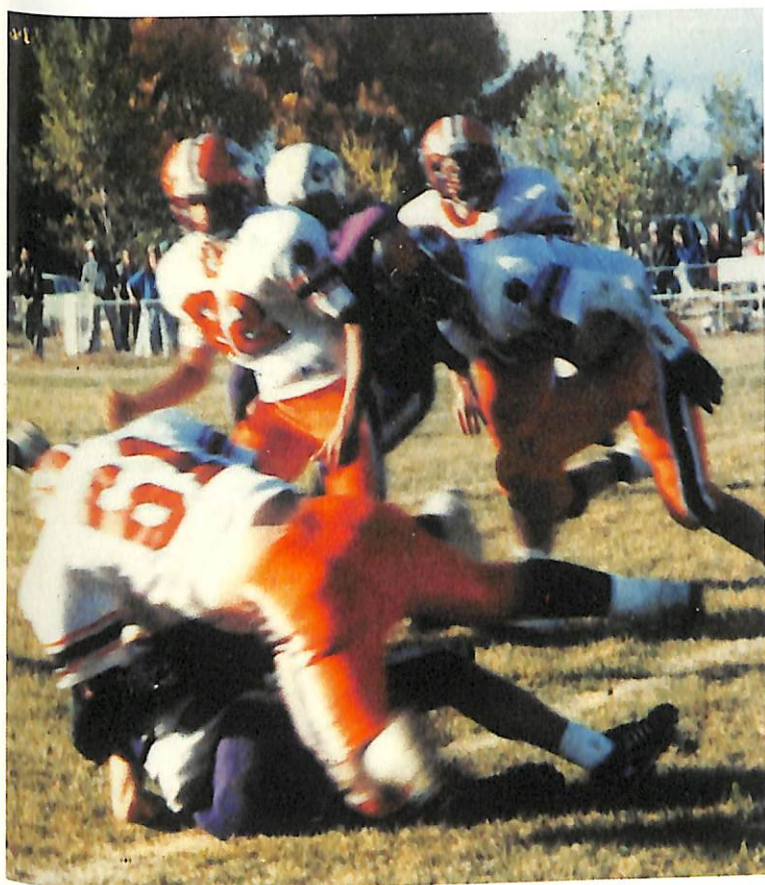

1992 — the year the Cokeville Panther football program proved that a team with the biggest man weighing in at 180 pounds could blow away opponents with a line averaging 200 plus. People in the town of Cokeville had a lot of doubts, but the Cokeville football squad pulled through, taking state for the 6th time in a row.

In hot pursuit, Kent Cassels zeroes in on a Pine Bluffs Hornet.

GIRLS TAKE THIRD

The girls basketball team had a very successful season. They had their ups and downs but in the end they came out proving they had Panther Power. They showed teamwork and good sportsmanship throughout the entire season. They made it to state where they won their first game against LaGrange 57 to 27. They lost their next game against Burlington, but that defeat didn't get them down. They came back the next night with all they had and beat Dubois 67 to 33. They had all the Cokeville Pride a team can have and then some. They proved to everyone and to themselves that they have what it takes to Tear Up the basketball court.

DISAPPOINTED AGAIN

The basketball team had a very successful season with only a couple of losses. When the team did lose a game, they still held their heads high. The team took the regional crown, but the state championship remained illusive for second year in a row.

Girls Take Regionals

At regionals the girls took first for the first time in a long time. For several years the team was so small that they couldn't really hope to win, but this year was quite different. They had enough girls to have the hope of winning. The girls were quite thrilled to take regionals, because they had just gotten a new coach, Mr. Briant Teichert, and they really didn't know what to expect. So when they took regionals both the girls and the new coach were excited.

Another tradition held every year was the Junior-Junior Prom, since the seventh and eighth graders weren't allowed into the regular prom. The Junior-Junior Prom was held the Monday after the regular prom during seventh hour. Even though junior high kids weren't thrilled about the dance they went anyway, probably just to get out of class.

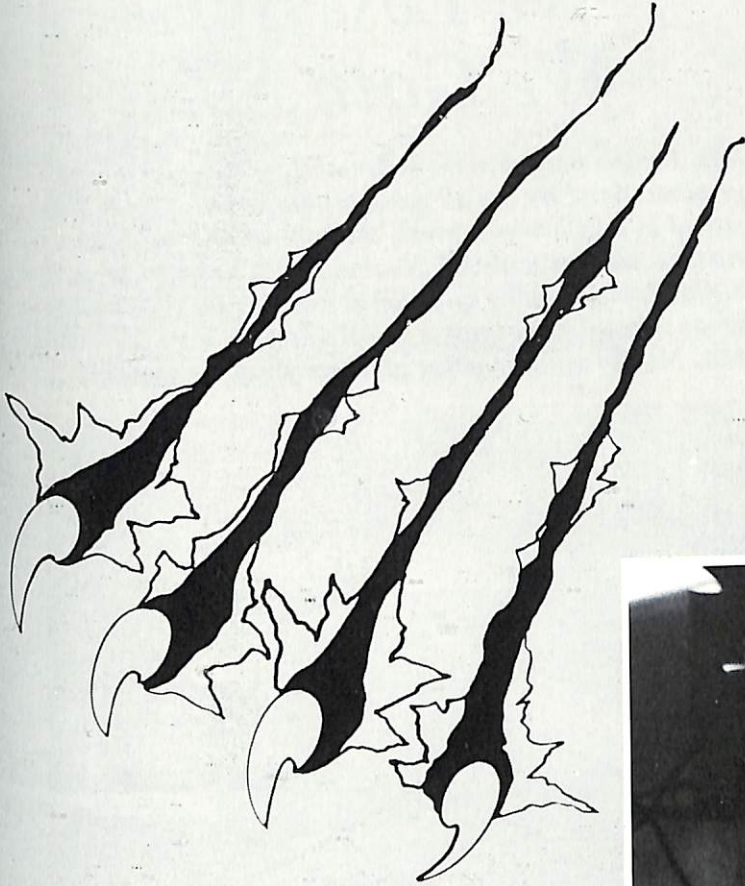

Everybody got into the swing of things at the Junior-Senior Prom.

ACADEMICS

Mrs. Weston helps newcomer Kenny Henderson with his homework.

There aren't very many things that go on behind Mr. Peiper's back, but sneaky Travis McKinnon gives Mr. P. an extra set of ears.

Mrs. Bette Rentfro retired as the high school secretary.

We Lose Some We Gain Some

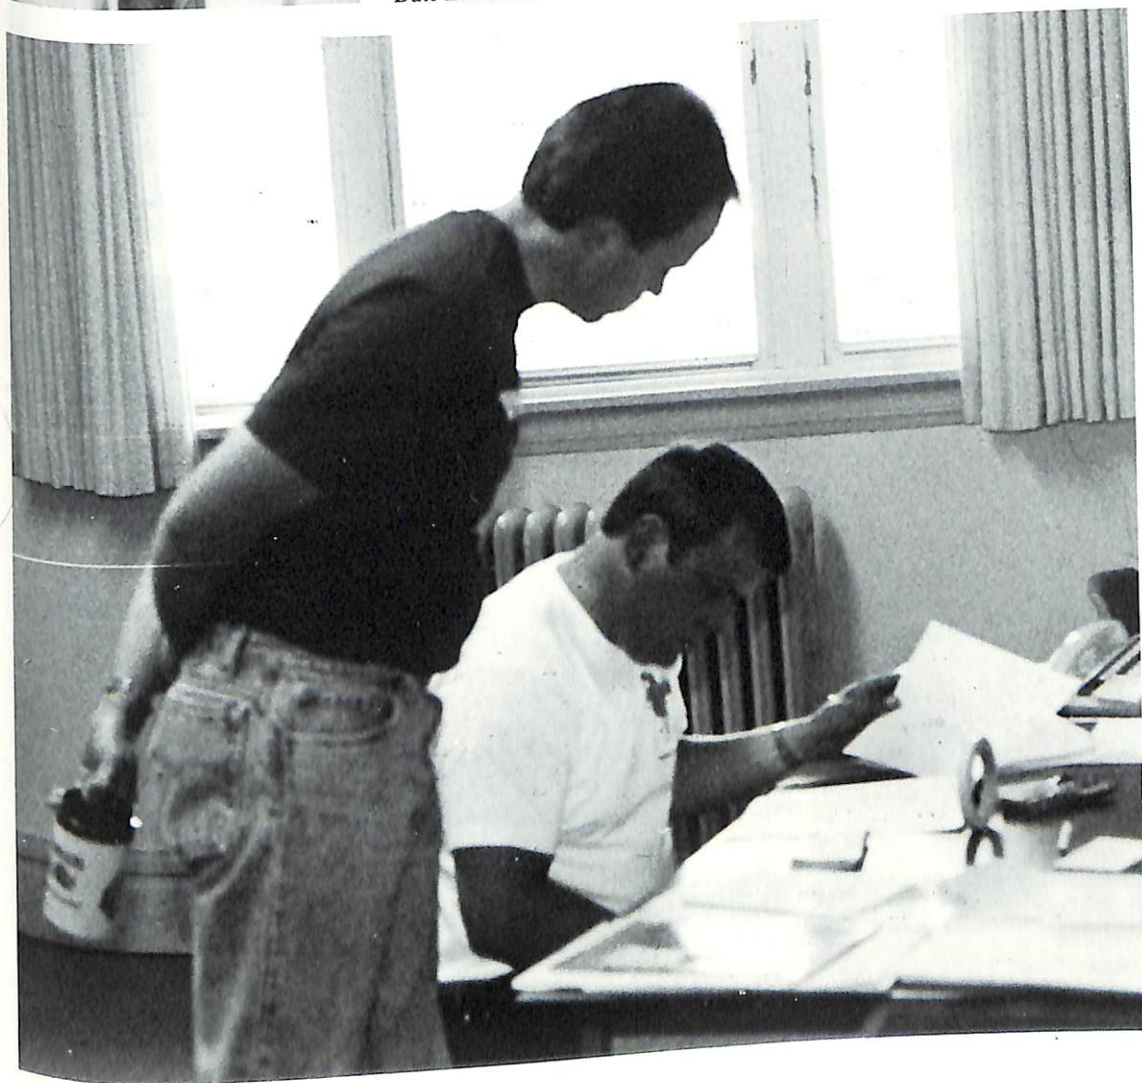

Mrs. Rentfro worked at the high school for 32 years. She was a great secretary! We are all going to miss her a lot. After she retired at the Christmas break, she went on a long vacation to Arizona with her husband. Now we have a new secretary. Mrs. Stella Mackey is doing very well at learning the things that she needs to know about being a school secretary. We're sure that Mrs. Mackey will be another great secretary.

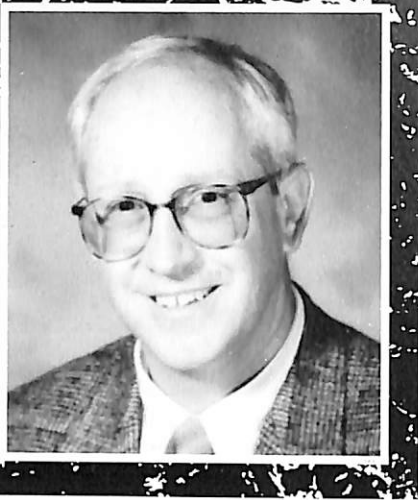

Mrs. Stella Mackey became the new high school secretary in the middle of the year.

The "Principal of the thing" is Mr. Dale Lamborn.

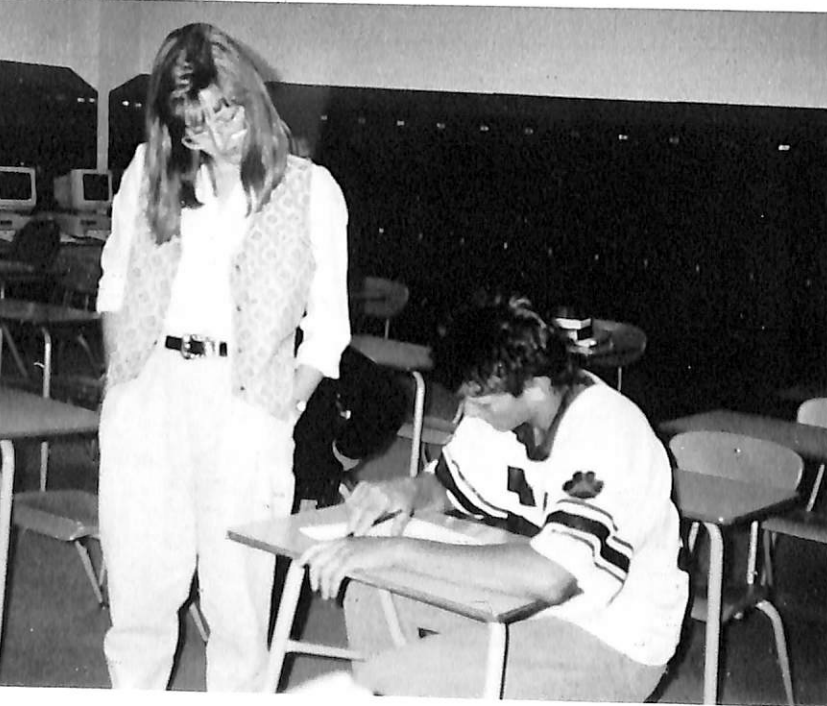

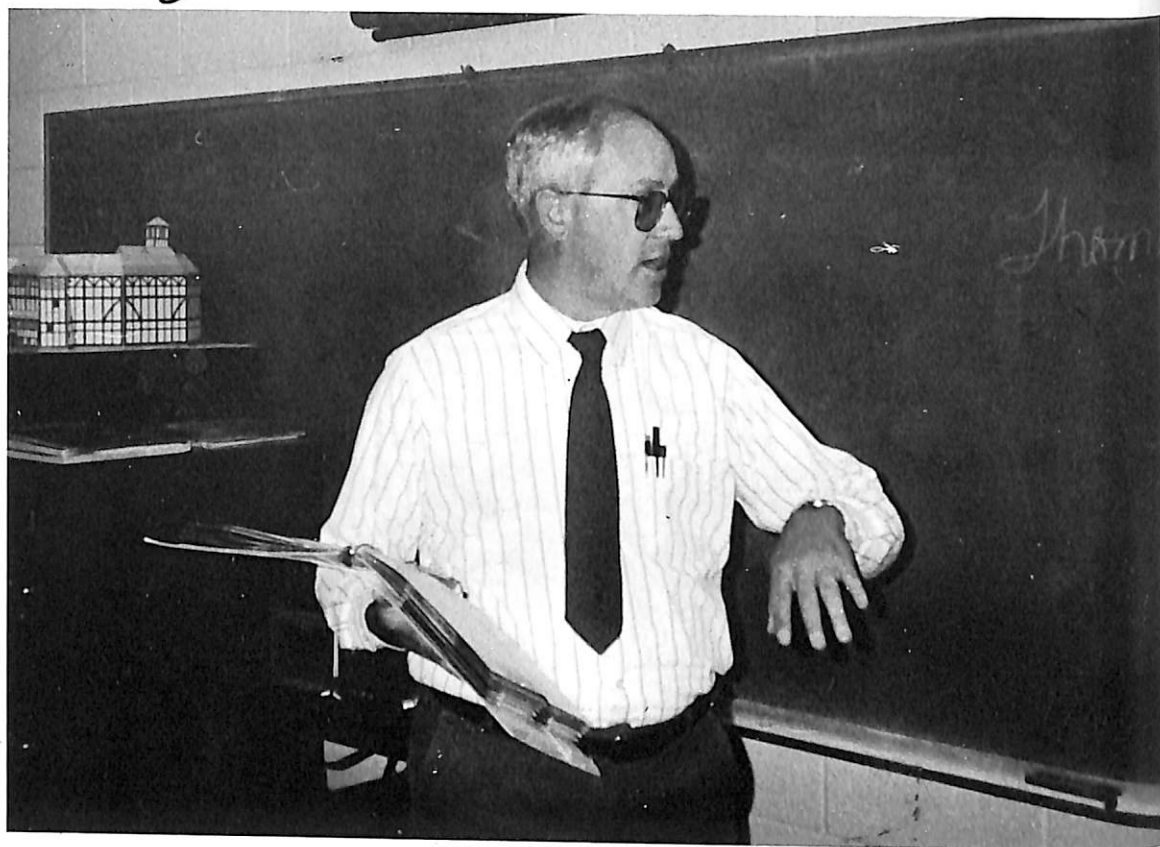

Mr. Lamborn and Mr. Miller take some time during play day to discuss some scheduling problems.

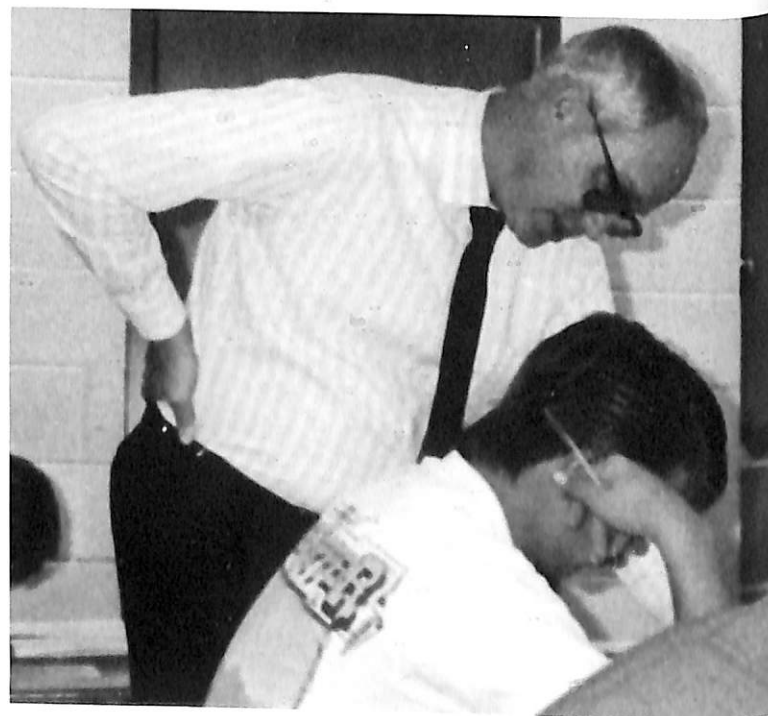

Mr. Glenn Birch

Biology Class Makes Babies

The biology class did indeed make babies. . .with a piece of paper, a pencil, a penny, and instructions. The idea was first to flip the penny and then see if it was heads or tails. They would read and follow the instructions according to the result of the toss, giving their babies the features as instructed. The final results were quite interesting. There were girls with bushy eyebrows and small ears, girls with narrow eyes and big ears, boys with big ears and big eyes, boys with little eyes and big noses. All these babies were quite different from real life babies, but the experiment proved its point, that you can't always get what you expect your going to get. The biology class, not knowing really what to expect, were really quite thrilled with their creation.

David Clark and Lea Kae Roberts draw features of their baby according to the toss of the coin.

Everything She Did, She Did It For the Junior Class

One reason the Junior Prom decorations were so nice, was our art teacher, Mrs. Brooks. She has been the assistant advisor to help the juniors decorate for the dance now for many years. Her talent and ideas always help, and the time she puts in is much appreciated. She is always there on her own time during the last week when all the juniors are running around trying to finish things. She is one teacher who likes TEARIN' IT UP at CHS.

Volleyball Girls — NOT

Jr. High Football had a winning season by winning 3 and losing 2, but football isn't the only sport they played. While waiting for their game against Mountain View, the boys decided to try their luck at volleyball. Instead of wearing regular volleyball uniforms they decided to change the uniforms just a bit by wearing football pads, football pants, and jerseys. They seemed to be pretty good at it too.

Austin Henderson watches for someone to block for running back Travis McKinnon.

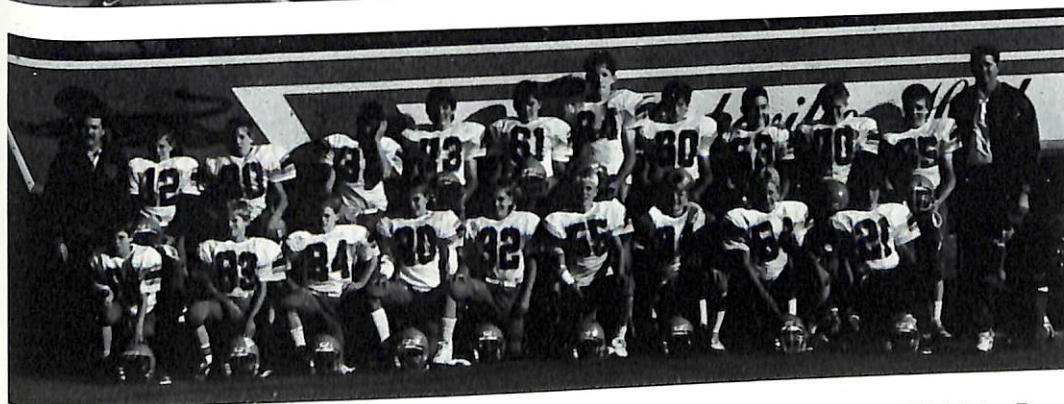

Taking a break from all the action. The eighth grade boys wait for the outcome of the "fifth quarter."

Ryan Teichert runs into the endzone for one of his many touchdowns.

The junior high coaches don't teach in the junior high. Coach Briant Teichert teaches third grade and his assistant, Allan Burton, is a janitor at the high school.

Coach Willis had a new assistant, Scott Ferguson, new blood in the coaching staff.

7th grade shows the victory spirit at dinner.

Team Goes To Dinner

The junior high boys basketball team had all the reasons for winning. One reason might have been that they had just got a new coach, Scott Ferguson. They probably wanted to show him what junior high basketball is about, but the main reason probably was that Coach Willis would buy them supper at the Texaco if they did exceedingly well in the tournament. For most of the season, Coach Willis probably thought he was not going to have to buy, but they did surprisingly well at the tournament. So poor Coach Willis was stuck buying almost twenty kids supper. Giving them a $10.00 limit, he took the boys to dinner, which turned out to be more of a victory party.

MAKING IT BIG

The seventh grade coaches were excited because of the large team they had. There were twenty-one girls on the team (including the 6th graders) and they all had the opportunity to play during their games.

Britney Swenson starts the fast break.

Jolene Buckley shoots from the free throw line during the game against Rich.

Shellie Burton moves underneath to receive a pass from Jennifer Setser.

Karee Thornock looks inside for the assist and an easy basket.

Chris King crossfaces his opponent while trying for the takedown.

Tearin' It Up! Happenings

The "C" painted on the football field by Travis Walker helped the school spirit during Homecoming week.

the third year in a row the volleyball girls were invited to participate in a national volleyball tournament in Chicago.

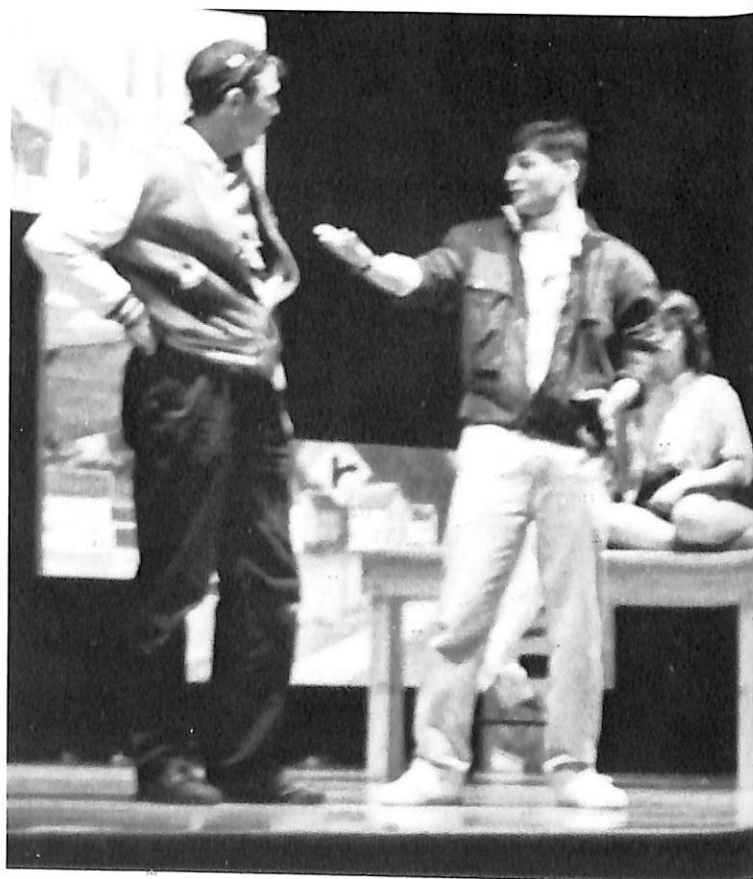

Jennifer Cory becomes a magician's assistant-for-a-day by imitating a fountain to occupy a bird.

Payton Mackey helps demonstrate the bed that the astronauts use up in space.

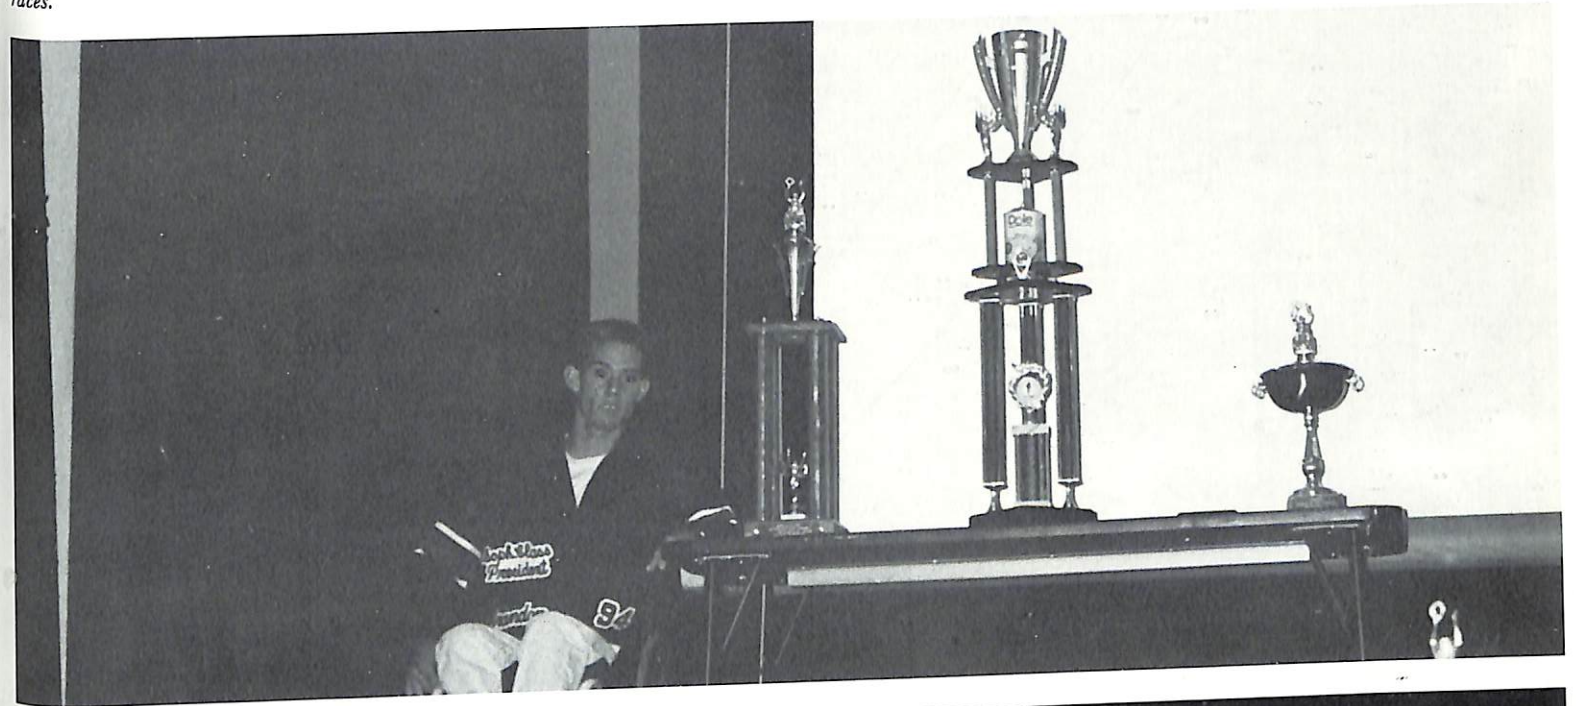

A Mexican folksinger taught use a few things about Spanish music.

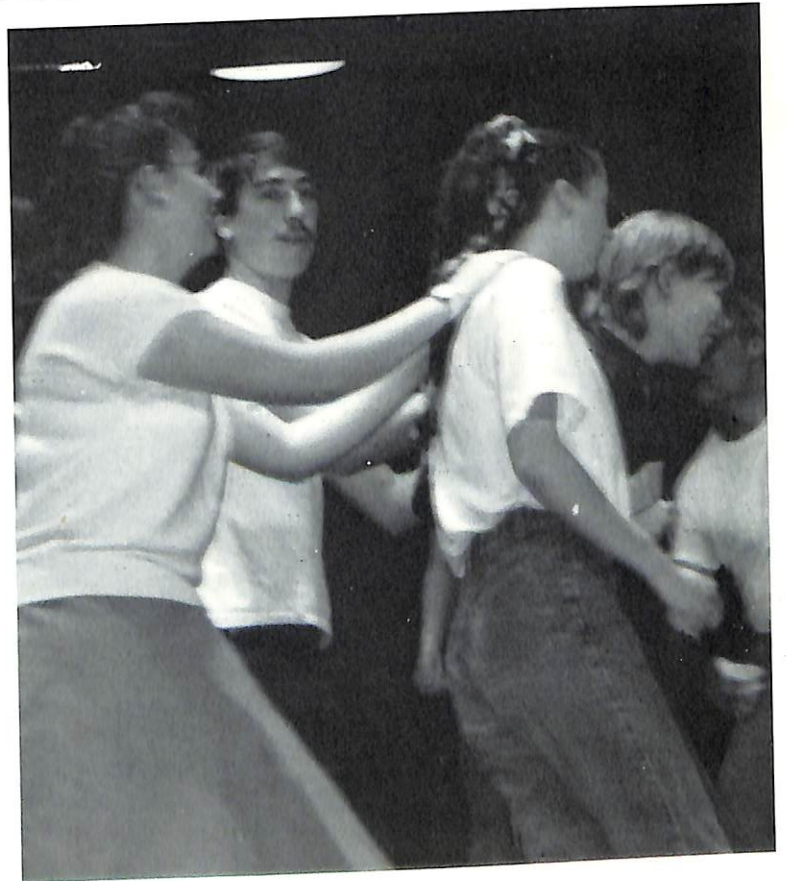

The junior high had an assembly all their own. A few students from a college came and put on a modern-day version of "Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde".

Assemblies

Brandon Harris showed us all the trophies that he has won in wheelchair races.

Look at that face! A mime came and showed us what he does best.

World Happenings

Firefighters were unprepared for the sight they were met with in Kuwait — scores of oil wells sending plumes of red and orange flames 30 yards into the air. Oil lakes and soot blackened the sand.

Desert Storm Commander General H. Norman Schwarzkopf gave a thumbs up to the crowd as he made his way up Broadway during New York's Operation Welcome Home ticker tape parade in June 1991. A fireworks extravaganza capped off the celebration.

About 2 million Iraqi Kurds and other minorities fled north in April 1991 when Kurdish rebels in the north and Shiite Muslim rebels in the south failed to oust President Saddam Humsein in the aftermath of the Persian Gulf War. At least 6,700 of the Iraqi refugees died fleeing to the Turkish border.

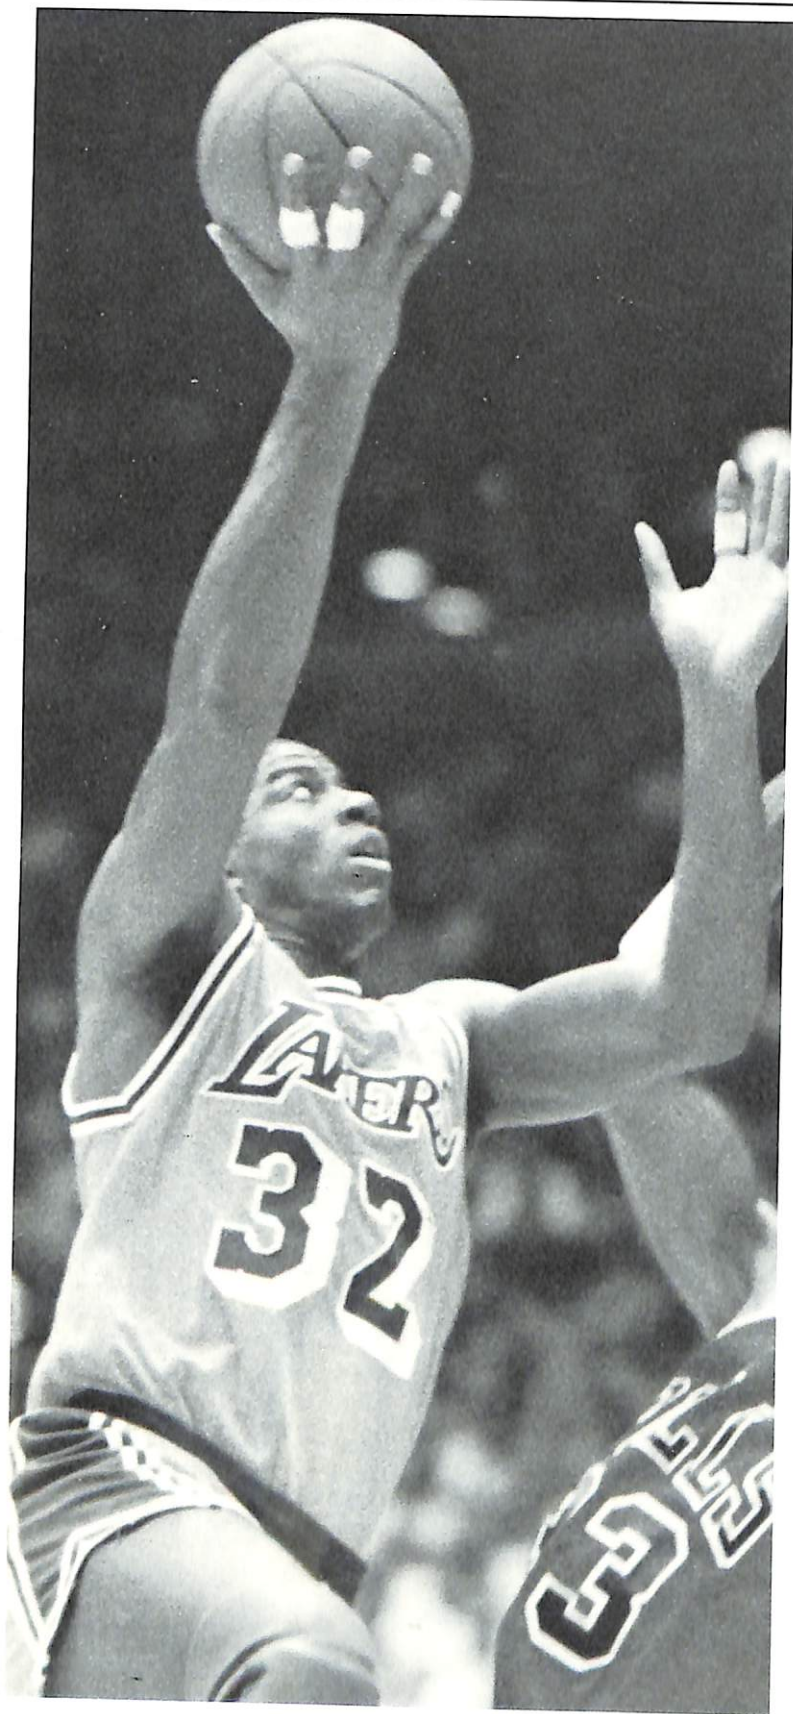

Russian President Boris Yeltsin waved the white-blue-and-red Russian tricolor flag from the Russian Federation building before the crowd of about 100,000 jubilant supporters celebrating the end of the three-day coup attempt. Bodyguards held bulletproof shields in front of him.

Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev and his family were placed under house arrest in the Crimea on August 19, 1991, as an eight-man emergency committee led by Vice president Gennady Yanayev took power in a coup attempt in the Soviet Union.

Convoys of Soviet tanks moved into Moscow, less than two miles from the Kremlin. The Communist hard-liners who ousted Gorbachev sent the army's tanks rolling within a mile of the Russian Parliament building where Russian President Boris Yeltsin was staying.

Paul Simon is still singing.

Magic Johnson had entertained fans for more than a decade. Finding out he has HIV, he retired from the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Minnesota Twins beat the Atlanta Braves 1-0 in the extra inning.

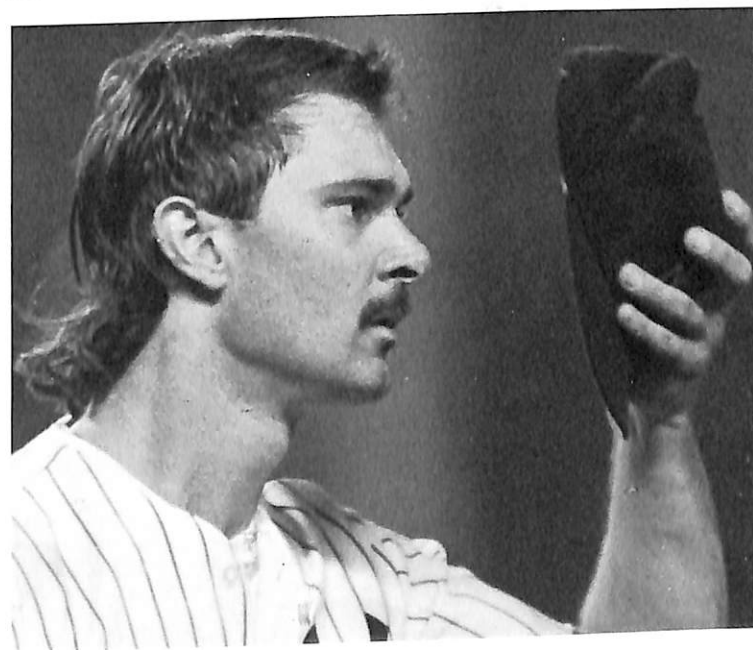

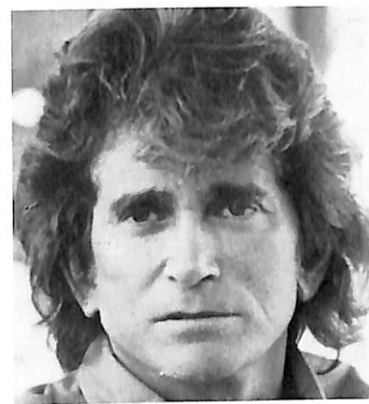

On September 14, 1991, Carolyn Suzanne Sapp from Honolulu, Hawaii, shed tears of joy as she was crowned Miss America.

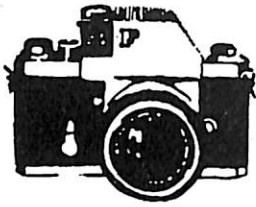

Mark Rypien was named MVP of the Redskins' 37-24 Super Bowl victory over Buffalo on January 26, 1992.

Some great entertainers died during the school year: Miles Davis, Dr. Seuss, Michael Landon.

Don Mattingly refused to get a haircut resulted in his being benched just before the New York Yankees' game against Kansas City.

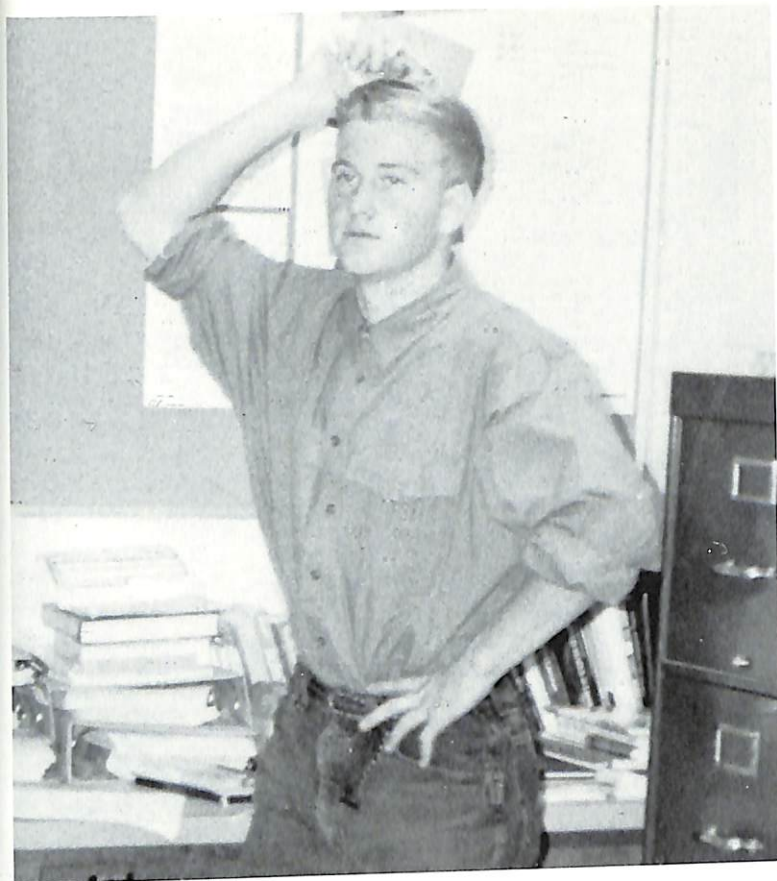

Brayson Buckner looks for some candid shots for his feature pages.

SEATED: Brayson Buckner, Jared Hammond, Amy Bagaso, Mandi Taylor, Jayson Byers, McKay Teichert.
STANDING: Michelle Saulls, Kristi Moore.

Yearbook Staff

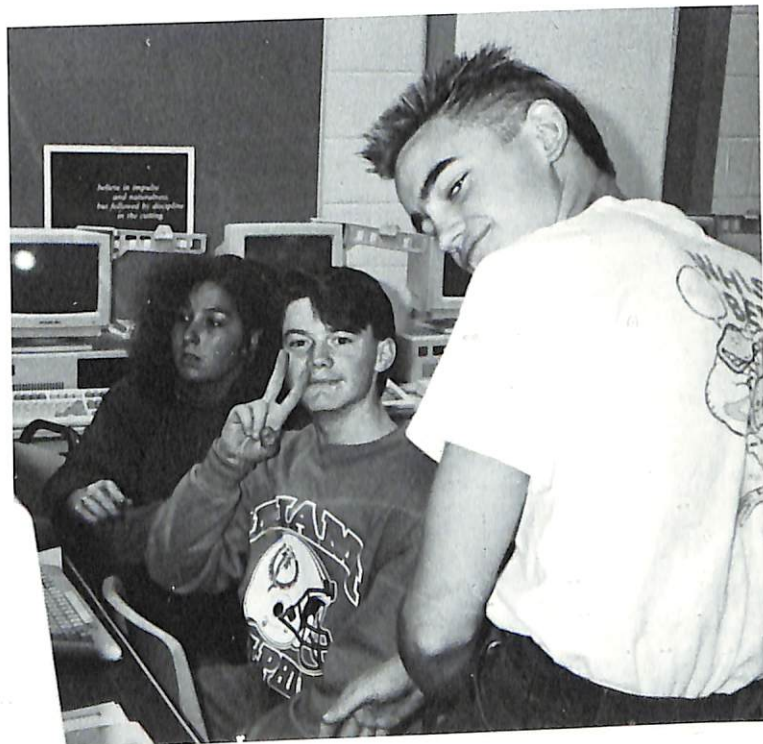

HARD AT WORK

The yearbook staff worked hard. They didn't think that they would ever get their spreads done on time, but luckily Mr. Birch put them under a lot of pressure. It's probably a good thing because at the rate they were going, there wouldn't be a yearbook. Sometimes the staff members waited until the last minute to do their spreads. By then it was too late. Stress was a big factor in this group and even Mr. Birch found himself under a lot of it.

With Jared Hammond looking on, McKay Teichert gets some help at the computer from Mr. Birch.

Mandi Taylor, McKay Teichert, and Jayson Byers agree that peace should be allowed in yearbook class as well as in the world.

Elementary Potpourri

It was a stageful when the elementary band teamed up with the junior high band.

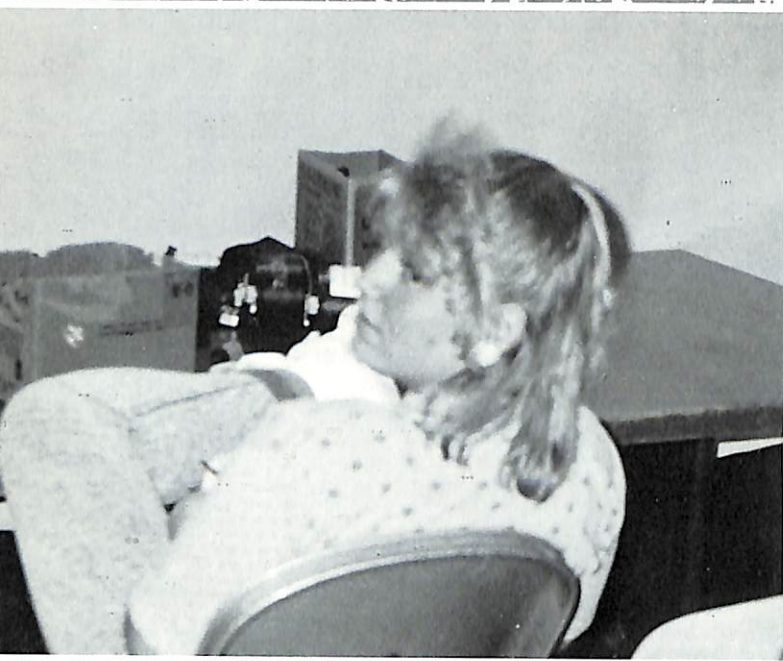

Hat Day was a lot of fun!

These kids had a great time performing with the Missoula Childrens' Theater.

Practicing does have its rewards.

If you look carefully, you can tell that Jeremy Andersen is a Utah Jazz fan.

Looking Back

What can a yearbook editor say to sum up the year other than the students at CHS had fun TEARIN' IT UP! Like the Panther, every page throughout this yearbook reminds us of the path we took, and the fun we had tearin' up everything from academics to music, or stalking our prey in sports. Besides being full of enthusiasm, this year was also full of memories. The seniors this year were the sixth graders when our elementary was held hostage and bombed. From setting to lynching underclassmen in the hallway, seniors make it fun at CHS. Whether it's students in a frantic frenzy, getting pumped up for the homecoming football game, getting fancied up for the Junior Prom, students make CHS always an exciting place to be. From winning championships, to getting scholarships, whether on the playing field or in the classroom, students will continue to TEAR IT UP at CHS.
