...Running Out Of Room...

My attention was diverted from a normal winter day to a cold seat on a hard brown car. "Now why are we out here again?" With only a reply of laughter, everyone piled on and we drove to school. Walking to my first hour class in the annex, the winter snow slid out from beneath my school worn shoes and lay silently on the hibernated earth. Out of time, out of breath, and out of energy, I fell in the rut of campus life. My body crammed against others, and lockers, and finally I burst through a classroom door. I turn pages, turn pages, and turn pages until I hit the brown back of my notebook and realize I have no room left to write. With only six hours left and a short lunch break in between, I pushed my way through the crowded day. We are constantly bombarded with large classes, long days, lots of homework, and over 800 students packed in a small country school. Every aspect of our day makes up the tight fit that tells us we are always

CHICKEN WITH THE Scissors. SBO president Kellyn Merritt and SBO secretary Kelli Harris play salon. Kelli Harris said, "When I first started, my hands were shaking because I was so nervous, but after I got into it, it was so much fun. I was just so afraid of giving him a bald spot like I gave Brock Felt once." Kellyn Merritt said, "The SBOs have a weird kind of relationship. We have gotten to know each other so well this past year. We have had a good time and it has definitely been a hair raising experience."

WALKING WAY AGAIN The '96 SBOs... Chris Halford, Doran Fluckiger, James Anderson, Sam Linford, Mike Beus, David Allred, Misty Croft, Nichole MacDonald Wivell, Kindra Grover, Dusty Hoopes, Kellyn Merritt, Megan Moser, Cali Felt, and Tara Nield.

Soaked Spirits

Layout by Aleesha Walker

Blazing Spirits... While in between plays, junior Josh Galloway and senior Derek Haderlie protect themselves from the rain. Through pouring rain and cold breezes, the players kept their spirits on and off the field. Most of the fans enjoyed the game in spite of the rain. Some even said it made the game more interesting...

It's fun to sit in the rain and watch big guys PUSH each other around," said freshman Rhiannon Powell. Although the weather was poor, loyal supporters of the stuck it out through the entire game to watch their team come out victorious...

RIPPIN' ALONG... Tiffany Matthews and Betsy Erickson help things along by cutting paper for the freshman float. This year, many students showed their school spirit by contributing time to their class float. All of the floats were well done and you could see the personality of each class represented. Each class had their favorite float, (usually their own). All in all, the floats helped bring out the best in each class...

"IT WAS THE HOTTEST BALLGAME I'VE EVER SEEN..."

Layout By Aleesha Walker

"IT WAS THE HOTTEST BALLGAME I'VE EVER SEEN!" said Kasidy Manhart. Seniors John Heiner, Chris Heiner, Brian Robertson, Casey Jackson, and Sophomore Candice Frome soothed their cold-stricken bodies, by basking in a hot-tub. Although most of the fans didn't bring their own personal hot tub they stayed warm by using heavy coats, blankets, and sitting in cars. It was a Homecoming to be remembered, the Braves fought and conquered the Powell Panthers 27 to 3...

Umph!! Unexpected jolts caught students by surprise during the snake dance. Mr. Banta guides Jenny Facer, Matt Hare, and Sara Archibald out the door of the Elkhorn, where others point them in the right direction. "The snake dance is my favorite part of Homecoming," says senior Ryan Hoopes, "because you get to hold somebody's hand. The burning of the dummy is cool too, but a little suggestion... steal the other team's mascot and burn it. That'll really get them fired up..."

Pedaling wildly colorful bicycles and gliding on rollerblades, the art club was draped from head to toe in school spirit. The Sophomores took the victory in the float competition. Second place was snatched by the Juniors, the Freshmen took third, and the Seniors fourth. Vicki Hansen said, "Riding the Homecoming Royalty float was fun, but scary. Kellyn was the driver and he kept popping the clutch, so I was afraid I'd fall off..."

HOMECOMING PARADERS

Layout By Aléesha Walker

Jazzy Paraders... Jazz Band Students tough out the cold to show everyone what they've got. "I thought that the Jazz Band float was one of the coolest in the parade... well except for the cheerleaders!" said Freshman Cheerleader Katie Williams. Jazz band definitely came through to make the parade more enjoyable. Band member Tausha Simkins said, "I liked riding on the float a lot because I felt like I was a part of the parade." Everyone in Band and on other floats put forth a lot of effort to make this parade a great one.

Riding High... Minde Draney enjoys a horseback ride during the homecoming parade. Dressed in a traditional leather brave costume, and sitting atop a war painted horse, she showed the spectators what being a brave is all about. It took an extra effort this year for the cheerleaders to keep the fans fired up through the rain and the cold. Each member of the cheerleading squad contributed and did their part in keeping students' spirits high for Homecoming...

Eat Your Heart Out!!
 Sophomore Amanda Jenkins practices her cooking skills with some friends on the weekend. She said, "Sometimes the weekends get so flippin' old that I have to find things for myself to do. That's why I'm making Rice Krispie Treats because they taste good and it's an excuse for me to tell my mom why I need all my friends to come over." Whether it's cooking, snowboarding, cruising main, boys night out, girls night out, or date night, the weekends are what you make them to be. So have fun, life's weird...

...HEADING TO THE WEEKENDS...

Layout By Aleesha Walker

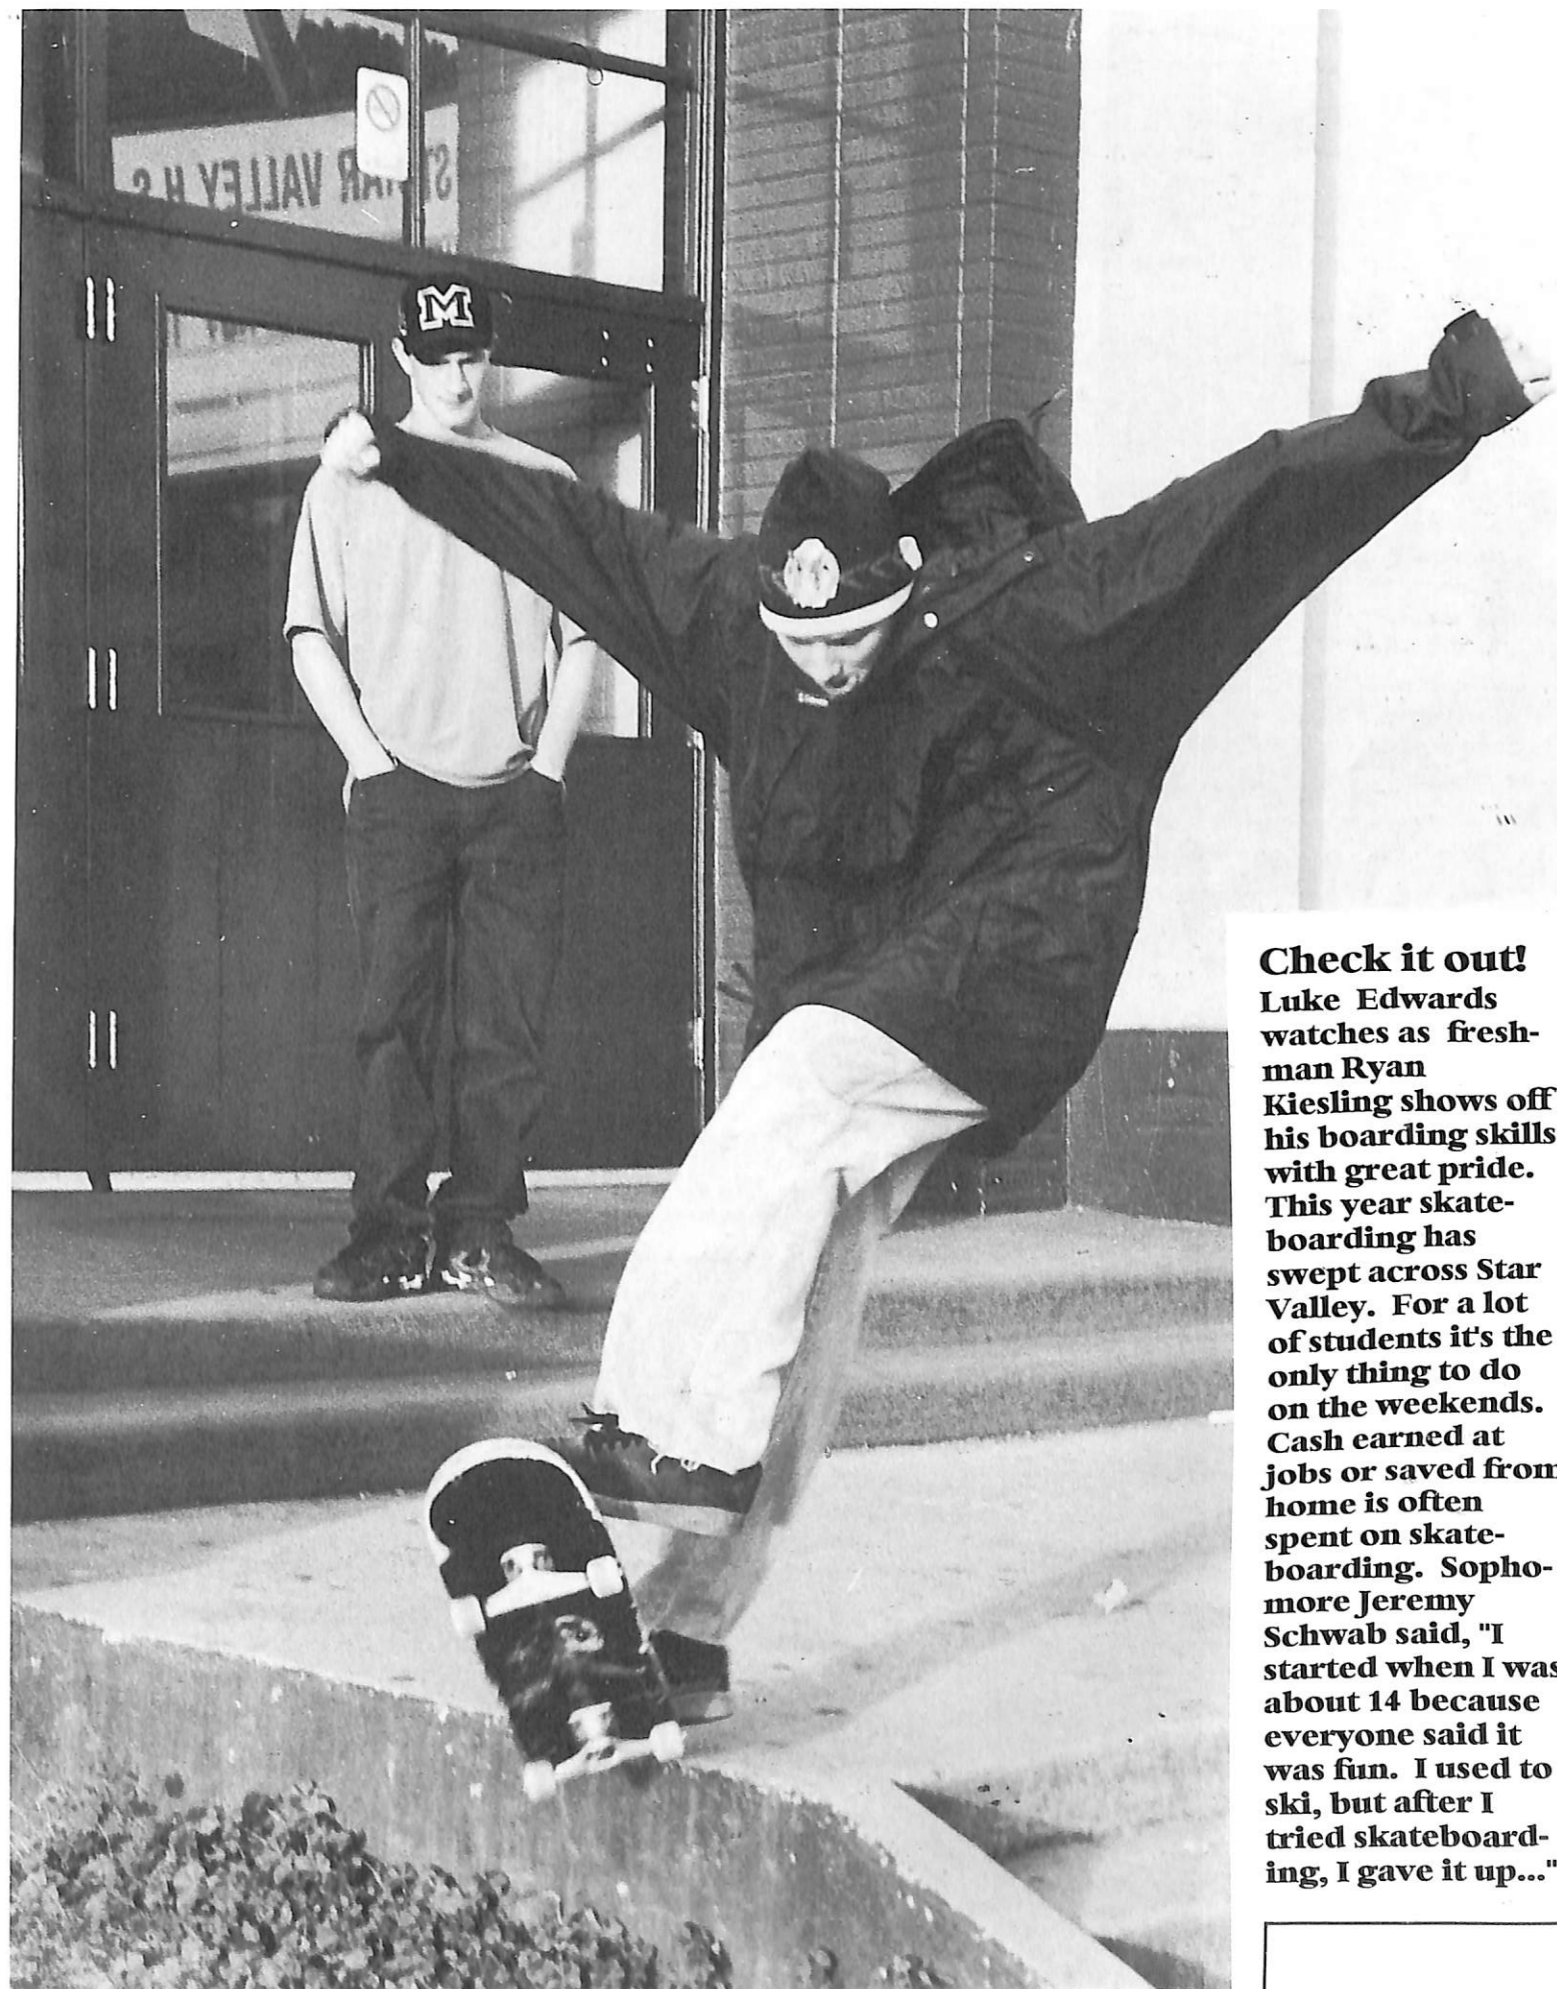

Head to Head... For Sophomores Forest Call and Riley Rees Head To Head down hill mountain bike races are what they enjoy most on the weekends. This year many of their weekends were spent in Moab, Utah at the downhill races. Forest Call said, "My favorite thing is being at the top of the mountain after a long, hard hike, you look down, and the feeling is incomparable."

What's THE Frame of your WEEKEND?..

Layout By Aleesha Walker

Working girl... Aside from the obligations of school and home, there also comes work. Occasionally on the weekends, Sophomore Chantel Heap works at the Elkhorn Family Restaurant. Laura Merritt, who works at Taco Time, said, "I like my job because it keeps me in town so I don't have to go all the way to Jackson to work."

Check it out! Luke Edwards watches as freshman Ryan Kiesling shows off his boarding skills with great pride. This year skateboarding has swept across Star Valley. For a lot of students it's the only thing to do on the weekends. Cash earned at jobs or saved from home is often spent on skateboarding. Sophomore Jeremy Schwab said, "I started when I was about 14 because everyone said it was fun. I used to ski, but after I tried skateboarding, I gave it up..."

Winter Weddings... Clint Reeves carefully ties a "life-saver" ring onto Stephanie Jenkins finger while Mr. Banta ends their wedding ceremony. As part of a Sadie Hawkins tradition, many couples exchanged vows at the dance. This unofficial wedding brought laughs and smiles to all those who participated. Hollie Heiner said, "I thought getting married was really cool. It was like saying, "You get him just for the night and he was there just for you!" Getting married wasn't the only funny and special part of the dance. The decorations and mood of Sadie Hawkins lived up to an ideal theme, "A Perfect Winter's Night."

Town away...

Eating with the stars... Amy Moser, Kelli Harris, Annie Vance, Misty Croft, Kellee Thomas, and Shanna Merritt are surrounded by famous faces as they eat at Planet Hollywood in Phoenix, Arizona over Spring Break. Engulfed in a chaotic environment, the six girls were in awe at the many different and interesting items from all the stars. Every step taken was a new glance at the renowned property. Kellee Thomas said, "Spring Break was the best this year. Usually I just go away with Ma and Pa Thomas to see some National Park in the middle of nowhere. This year was completely different, instead of heading away with the fam, I headed away from them. Freedom is rad!"

Sight seeing... Joy Hunsaker and Karlie Kennington decided to spend their Spring Break basking in the hot San Francisco sun. They are pictured here in front of the beautiful, privately owned sailboats and the towering buildings. "We loved San Francisco, and wished we could have spent all of Spring Break there. It was the coolest city either of us had ever seen!" said Joy.

Familiar scene! As Rick Jackson gets done running the slope of the Hawaiian Mountain, he stands to be photographed. Going to Hawaii over Spring Break to get away from the endless winter weather of Star Valley and ending up spending an awesome day skiing may seem a little strange....Snow covered hills, cold breezes, and moist air are not the first words you think of when you hear the word Hawaii. Rick Jackson's thoughts on Hawaii were, "No wave too deep, no slope too steep!"

UM . . . UH . . . STYLE . . .

Layout By Maggie Perkes

A GUIDE TO WHAT'S STYLISH IN STAR VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL 1995-96

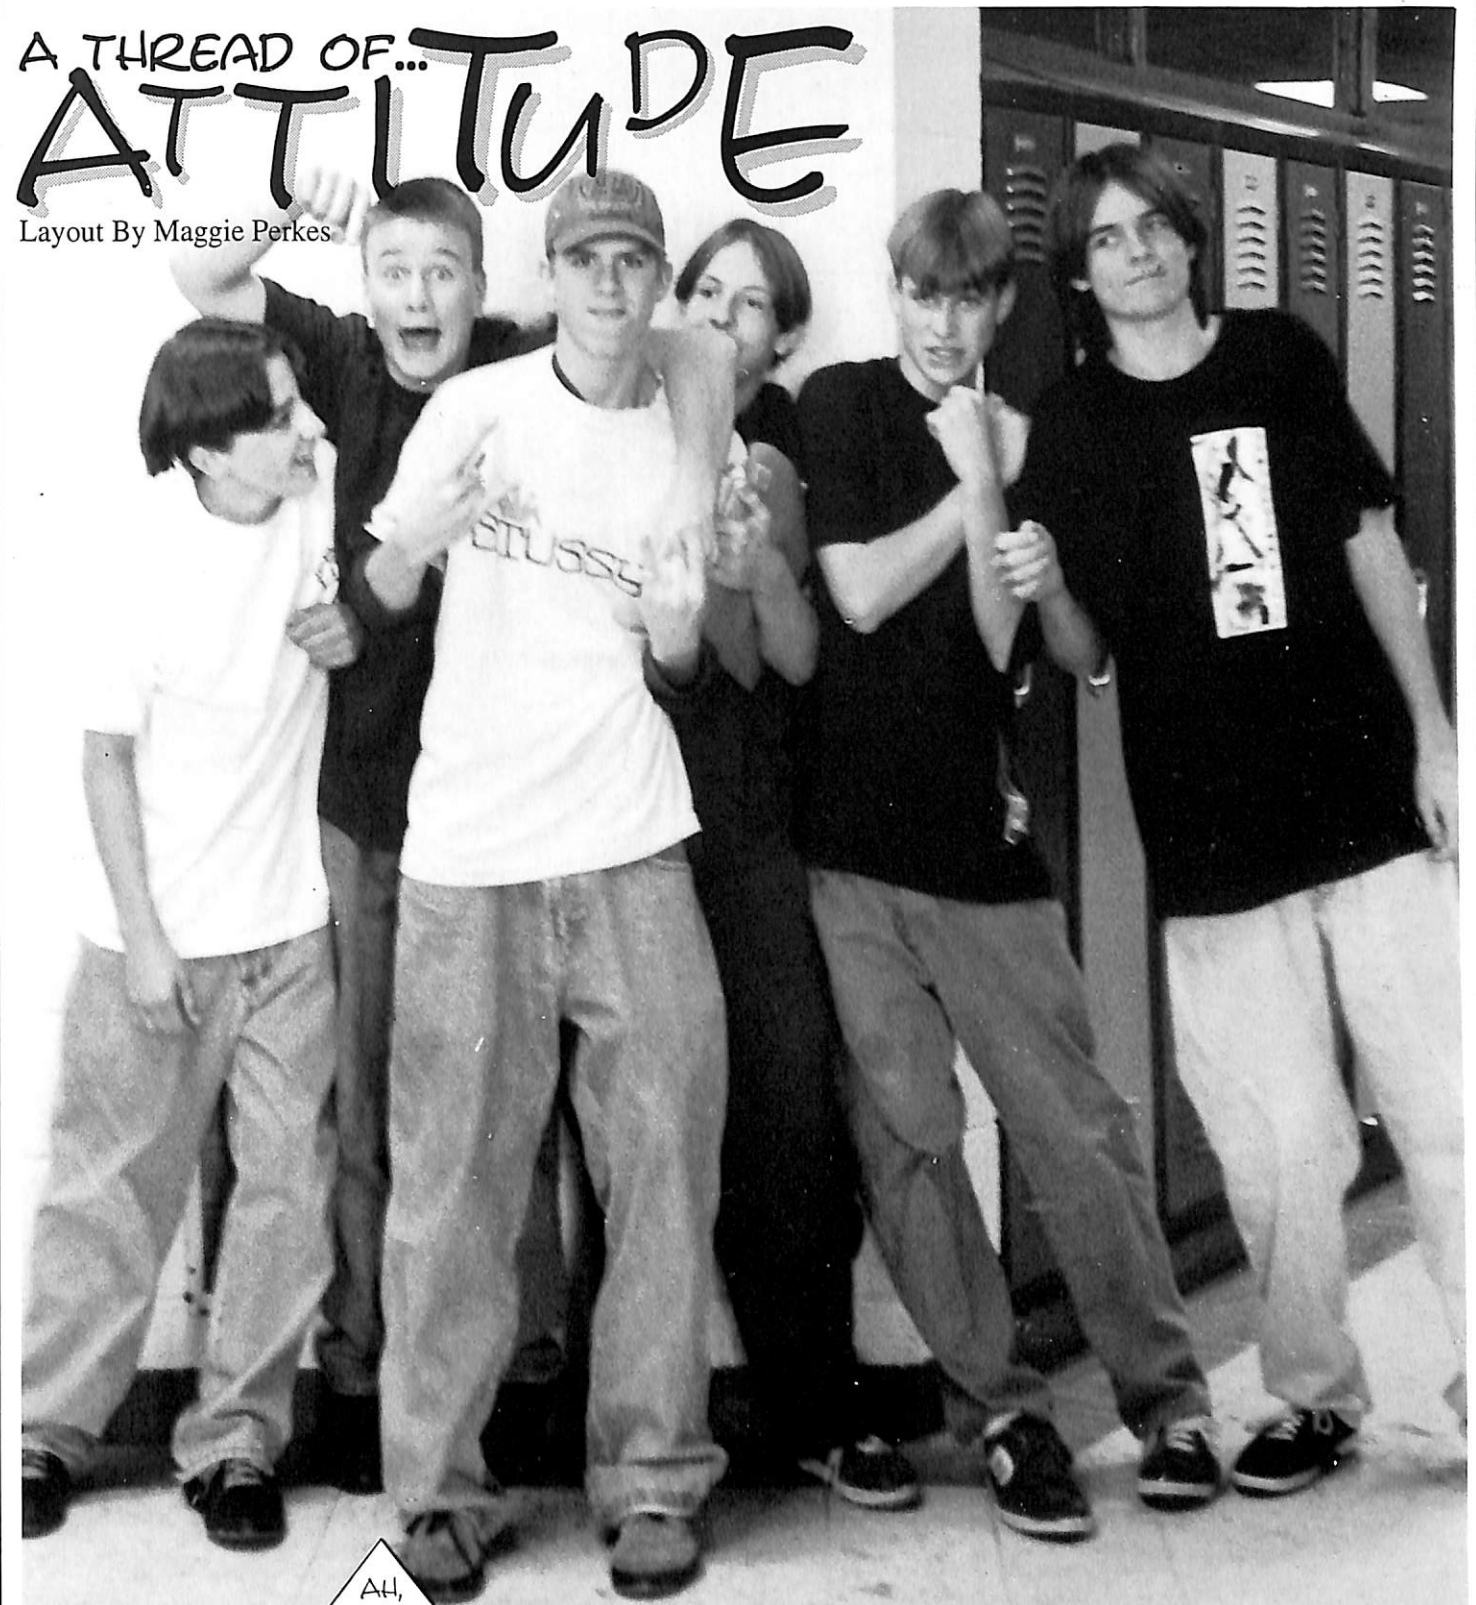

Style. What is it anymore? We live in a pretty liberal time for style. There is an odd open-mindedness to style these days. You can even wear bell bottoms and still be stylin'. What is this world coming to?! Aleesha Walker said, "Everyone's entitled to wear ugly clothes. But I think some people abuse the privilege." Riley Rees said, "I can't even remember getting dressed this morning." It seems that to be stylish, you either have to look like you don't care or you have to look like you spend a lot of time caring. The majority of styles wandering through the halls have something to do with not being able to find the right size < baggy pants for example >. Ever feel like the seventies have come back to haunt us? With the death of Jerry Garcia < R.I.P. > And the end of Grateful Dead, comes a tie-dye boom. Also the Airwalk shoe company has made a fortune off of Star Valley kids. Even though the ideal image in Star Valley is to look completely different than everyone else, if you have Airwalks or Van's you'll fit right in.

TREND-SETTERS. MIKE REUS, DUSTY HOOPES, KENNY BARRUS, JENNIE SANDERSON, LISA HUNSAKER, AND JONI DRANEY ARE SPORTING THEIR OWN TASTEFUL TRENDS. "SETTING A TREND IS A FUN THING TO DO. A LOT OF PEOPLE ARE GETTING SHOES LIKE I BOUGHT THIS YEAR," STATED JUNIOR KARA KENNINGTON. STYLE IS ALL ABOUT ATTITUDE, WHAT YOU WEAR REFLECTS YOUR ATTITUDE.

AH, YES IT'S THE CLASSIC T-SHIRT & JEANS

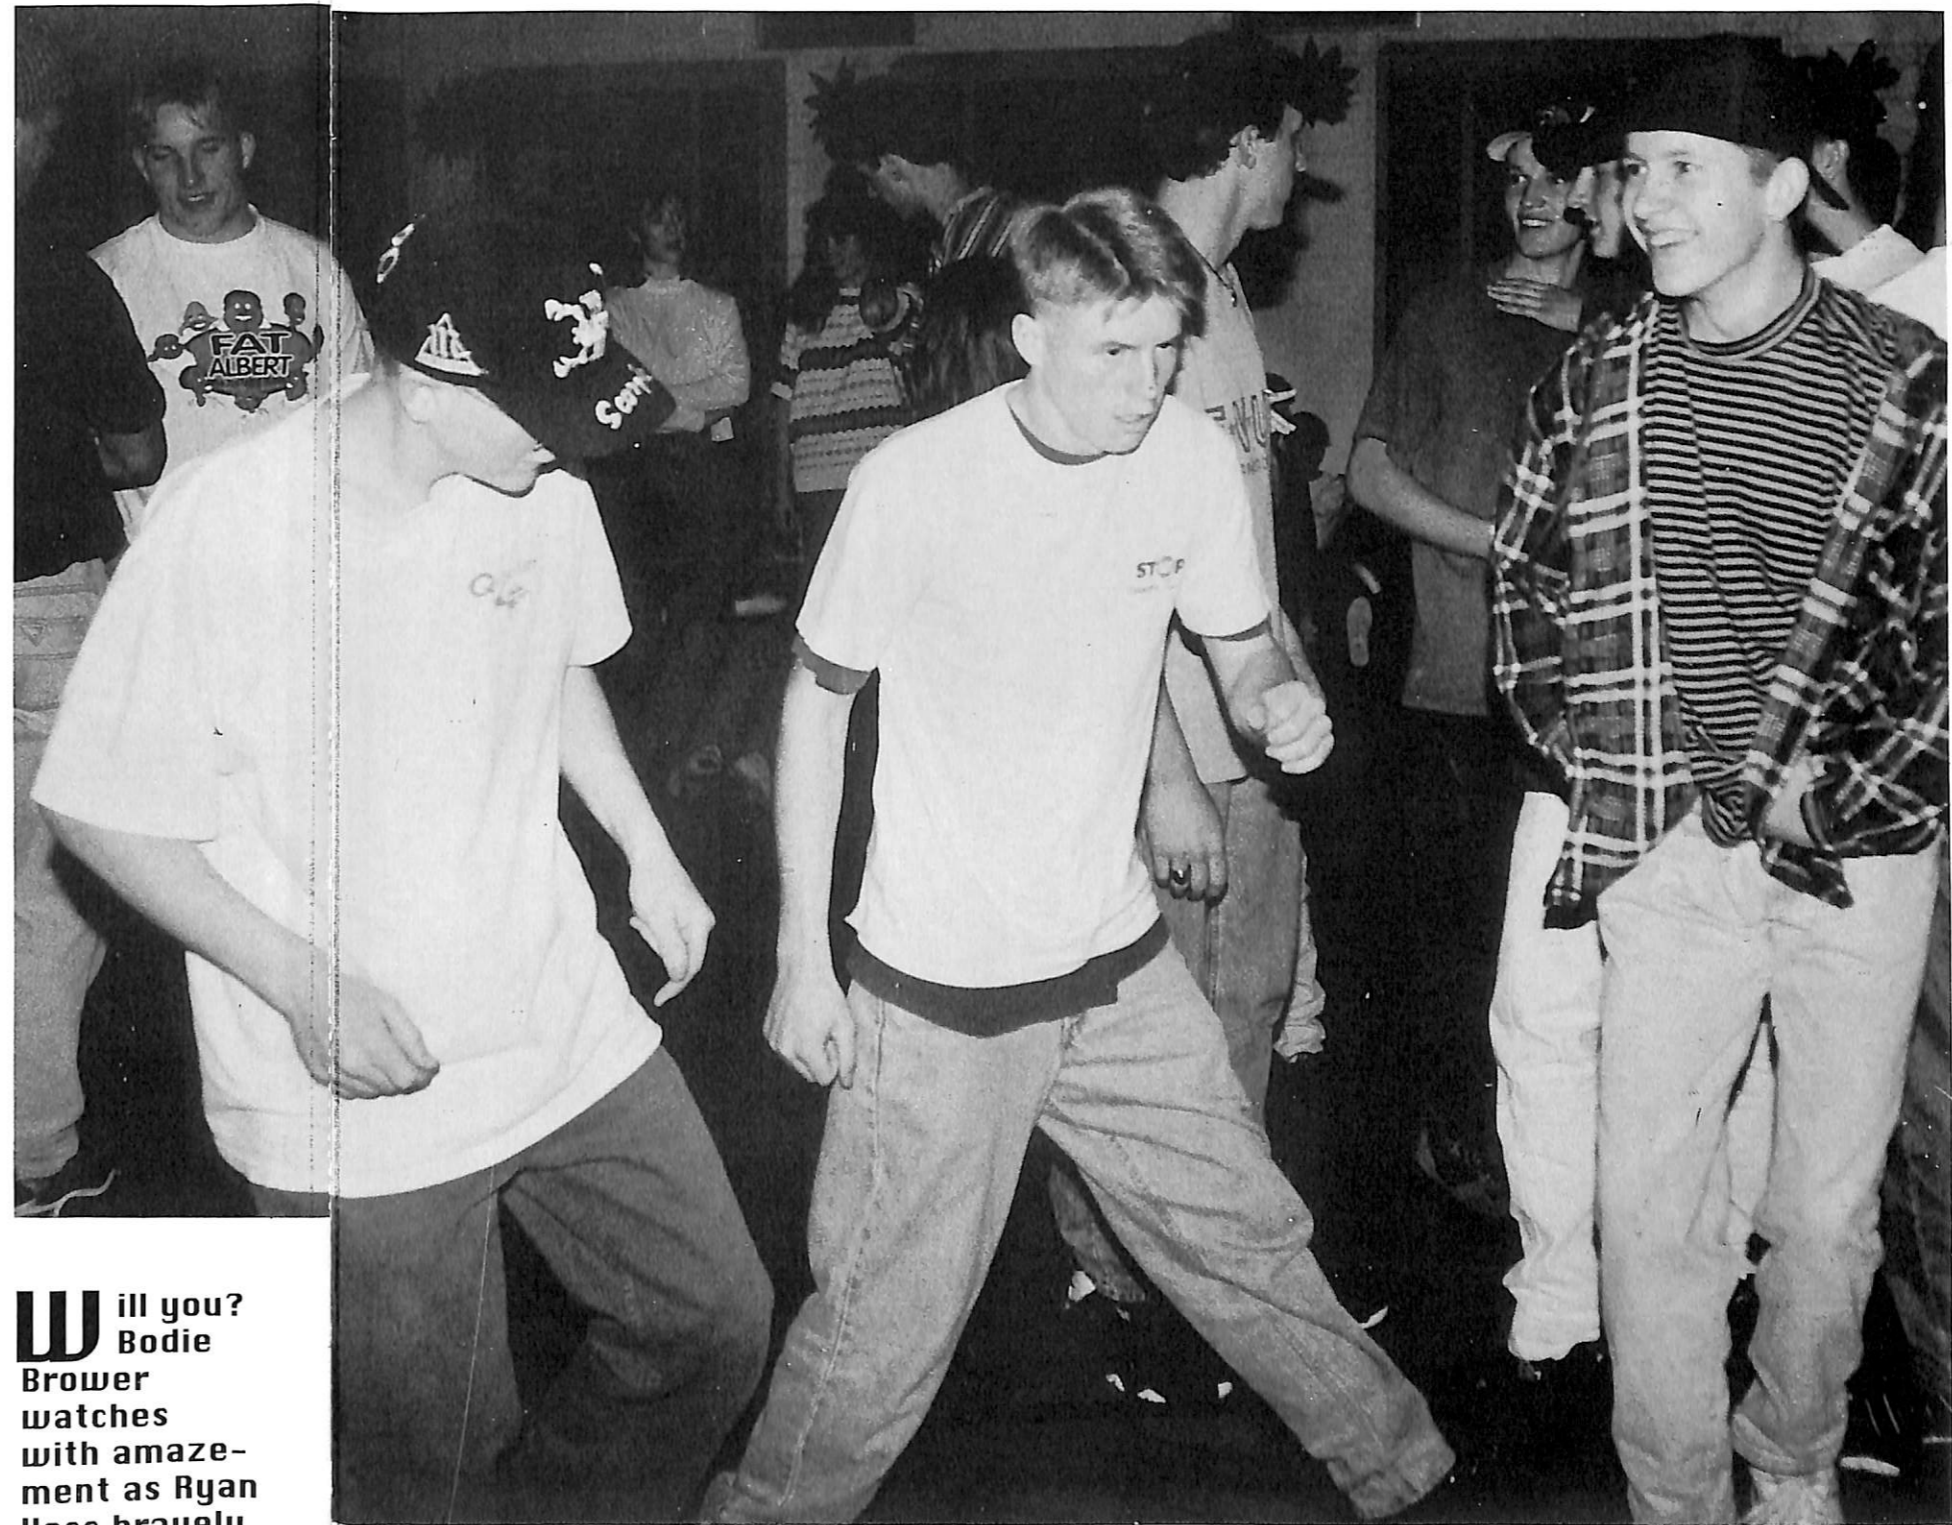

COMBO, IT WILL ALWAYS BE THERE FOR YOU. JEANS ARE GOING TO BE AROUND FOR A LONG TIME, SO GET USED TO IT, BUB. NEARLY ALL STYLES GRADUATE TOWARD THE JEANS. WHAT WOULD GUYS WEAR IF WE DIDN'T HAVE JEANS? HOPEFULLY NOT KILTS! IT COULD GET TO BE PRETTY GRUESOME. CAMERON CARTER, JOSH JENKINS, BEN STEWART, BRIAN STAUFFER, RILEY ROCK, AND RY WOODY EXPRESS THEIR FEELINGS WITH THEIR THREADS.

Groovin' to the Music

Layout By Jessica Seigny

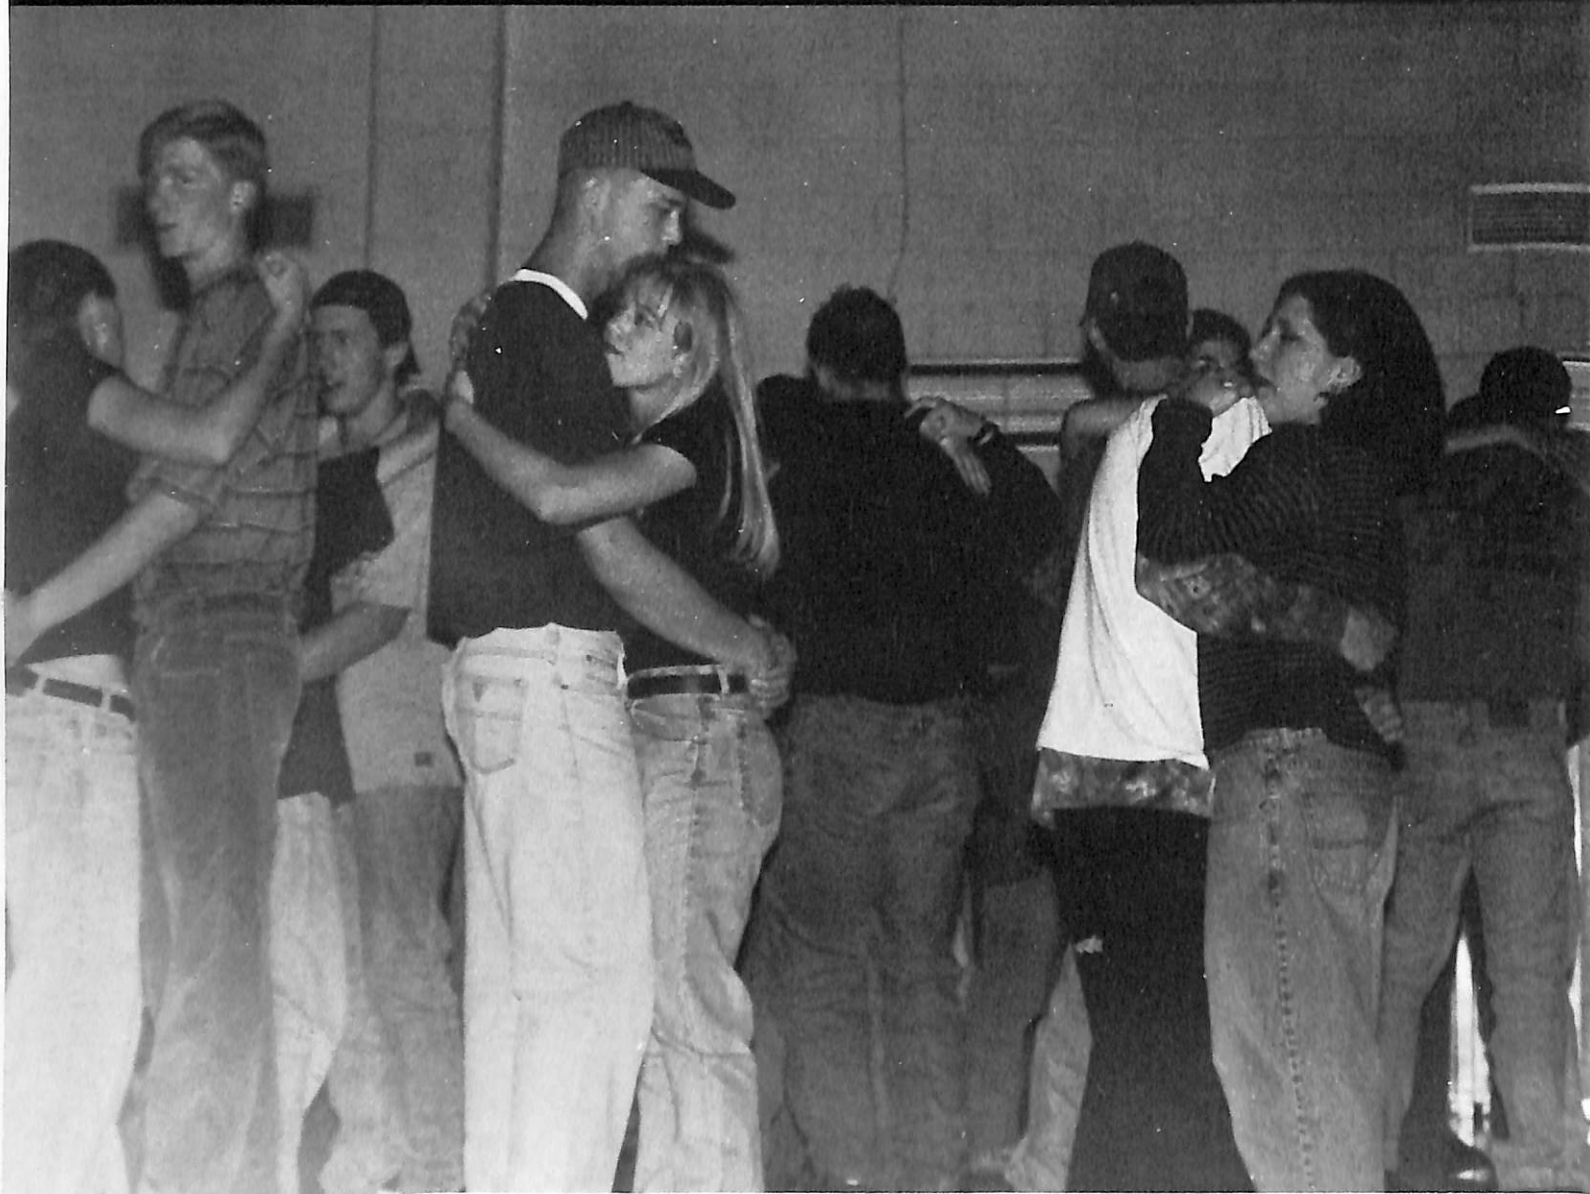

Will you? Bodie Brower watches with amazement as Ryan Hess bravely asks Lacey Wolfley to dance. Lacey Wolfley said, "When a slow song comes on my heart beats faster and faster until I think it's going to bust out of my chest. I always think about my dream guy and just hope that I will get to dance the night away with him..."

Like this... Corey Jackson shows his friends, Josh Peavler and Trenton Jones how to groove. Dances not only let you get away from the school environment, but they also let you express yourself. Cole Wilkes said, "Dances get pretty wild sometimes." Corey said, "I like going to the dances because it helps me to relax and forget about my school stress."

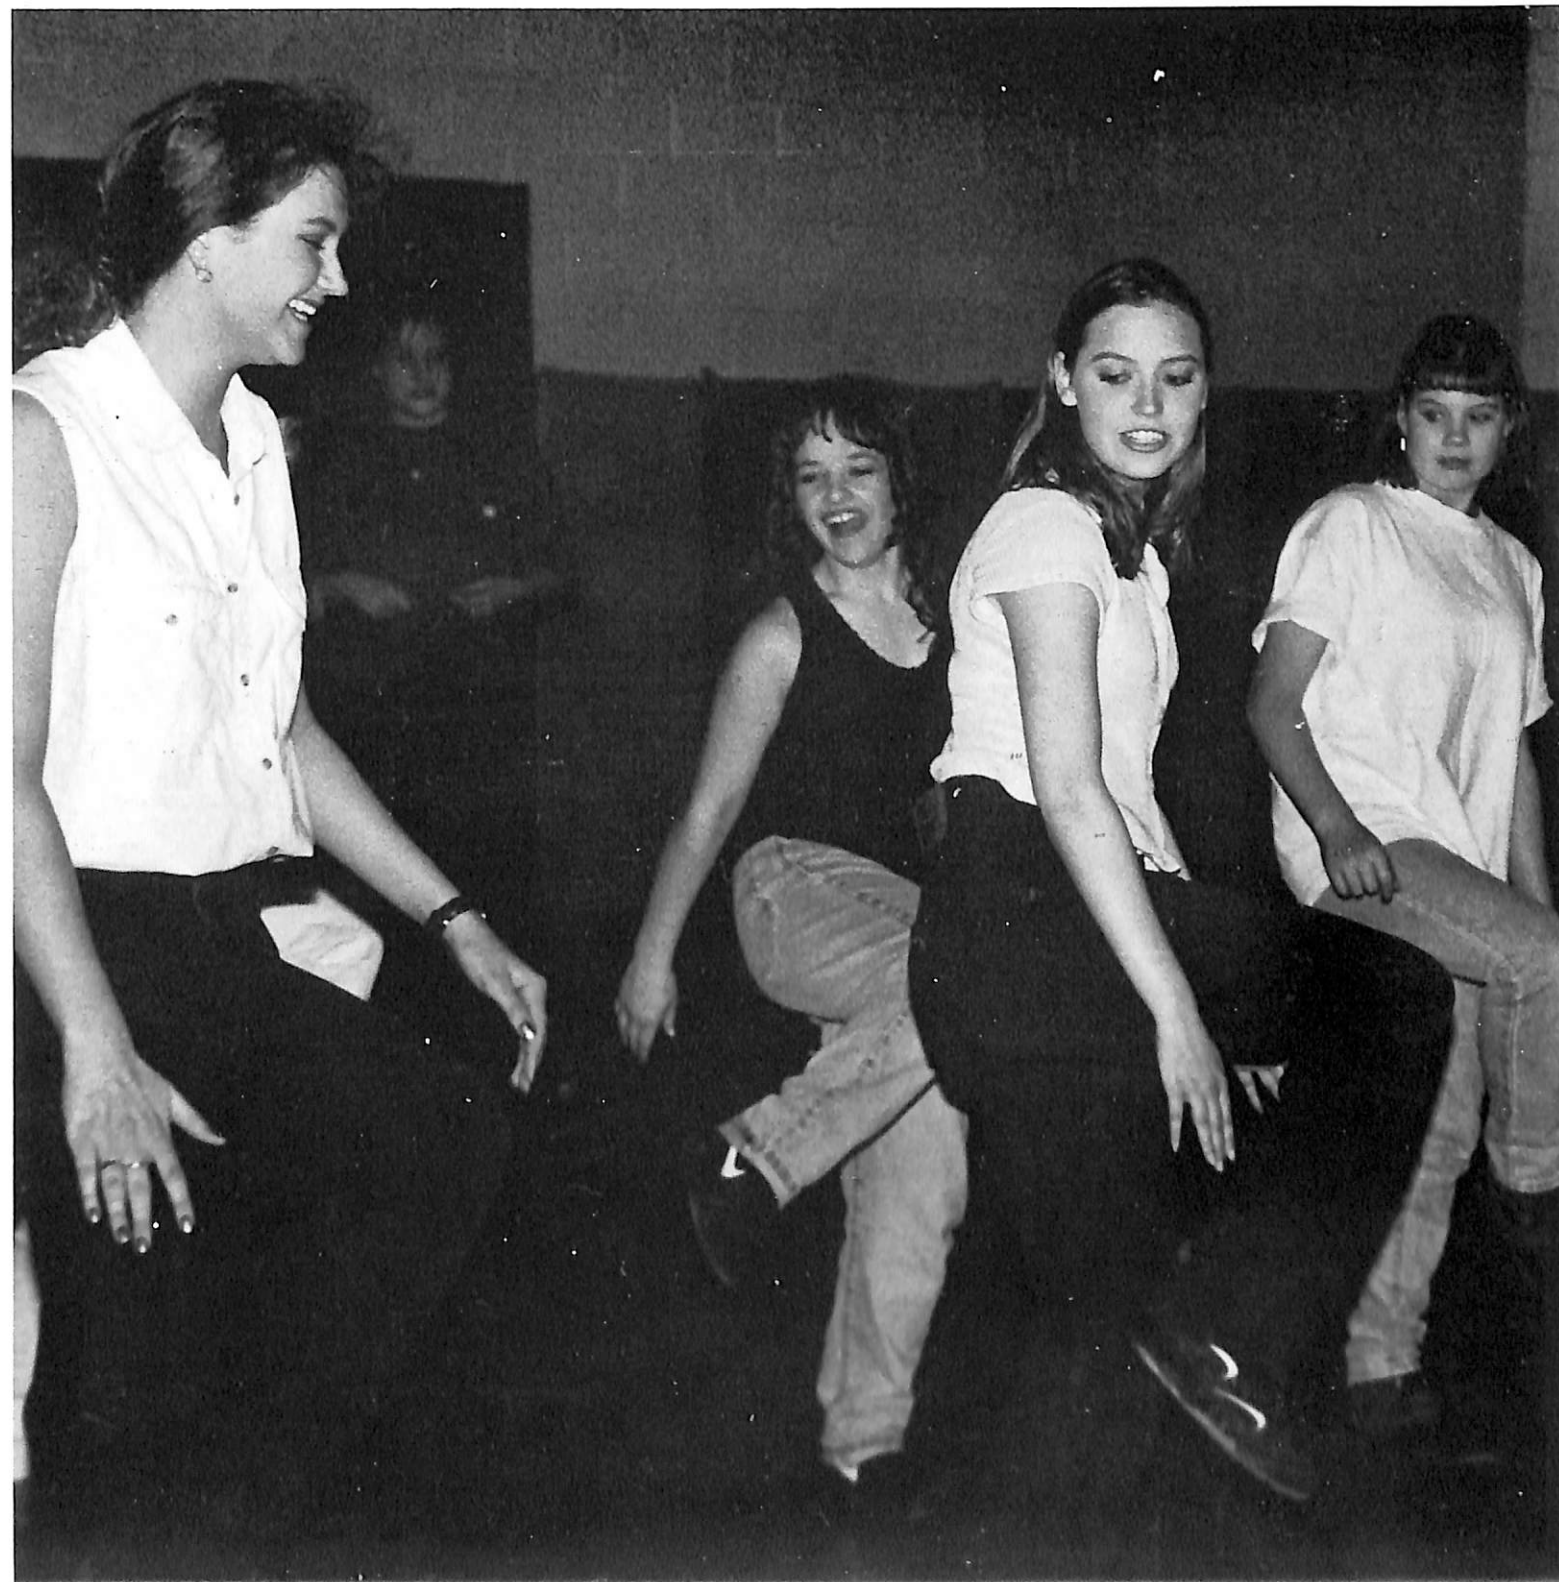

Close Encounters...

Layout By Vicki Hansen

Swayin in the Dark... Pictured above, Lisa Hunsaker, Sam Linford, Derek Johnson, Cindy Richins, and SueAnn Roberts snuggle with their partners for a slow dance. Many people love the slow dances but some would disagree saying that it takes a lot of courage to go up to an almost total stranger and ask them to dance. Ben Goodson said, "I love the school dances. They are a way to be relieved from all the tension that builds in school. The fast dances are fun if you get into it, but the slow dances are the best."

Swinging through the night.. People stand in awe and watch Kathryn Clinger, Erin Owens, Kelly Romine, and Juanita Aullman as they show their stuff "swingin" to a country song. Kathryn Clinger stated, "I like the country line dances because I actually feel the music is in rhythm with the steps. It really makes me feel good. It's cool when other people join in with me." Just as people have different personalities, people have different styles, and different ways to express themselves. The different styles of music usually bring different styles of dancing. When a country song comes on, people gather up their friends, form a line, and start to twist and turn and kick...

AdventuROUS activities

Layout by Cari Call...

Giddy up Horsey! Brienne Dyess, Josh Peavler, Jenny Tippetts, Sid Stood, and Amy Raymond go for a chilly ride before prom. Many of the students came up with creative, and sometimes off-the-wall pre-prom activities. Ashlee Erickson said, "We went to Jackson and went swimming. Then we went to K-Mart and had a scavenger hunt. We ended up spillin' windex on everything in the cart. It was crazy."

"I think the activities are the best part of prom. They let you be wild and crazy before you have to be serious. It also gives you a chance to relax before you see your date looking his best!"

And Born... Casey Jackson soars high above the snow while his date Malynnda Horrocks watches. For some of the more adventurous prom-soers pre-prom activities were not necessarily limited to the indoors. Haley Leatt said, "The activities before prom were really fun. We went to Jackson and had to run around the square doing stupid, embarrassing things while being video taped."

Official Beginning... Jenny Johnson, Loren Crook, Katie Robertson, and Daniel Truchot sign in at Prom, while Mr. Nethercott tries to get in on the excitement of the evening. Besides your sore feet and aching back, Prom will be remembered by the signatures in the book. Loren Crook's thoughts on the prom from beginning to end were, "Promenade was heavenly. The dance was exquisite. I had a most enjoyable time."

Having a Royal Ball... With the votes tallied up and the tension finally over, the new 95-96 prom royalty take the floor for the traditional royalty dance. As their names were announced, the faces of the king & the Queen gleamed with excitement. The queen, Dianna Cazier said, "I thought to myself, 'April Fools!' The king, Chris Halford, said his first thoughts after his name was announced were, "Sweet, I get to shake Doran Fluckiger's hand, my life long dream!"

Cool moves... SueAnn Roberts and Tennille Jenkins get down on the dance floor. Many students enjoyed dancing to the fast beat songs. Ashlee Erickson said, "I had a blast at prom. We went wild on the dance floor." From decorations to dresses to dancing, prom became a night that many will remember...

A night in the city... Christina Gordon, Rachel Jaomerman, Chris Wolfley, and Chris Heiner relax and enjoy the music and romantic atmosphere. Michele Smith said, "The music and decorations really set the mood and created a nice atmosphere."

*P*osing for Perfection... Kellyn Merritt, Cari Clark, Shanna Merritt, and Aaron Brown squeeze together under one of the Prom backdrops. Throughout the night, the dim Jr. High gym was lit up with flashes as cameras suspended that moment in time forever. *F*un loving faces. Trevor Buchanan and Katie Kunz dance to "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes", the promenade theme song. This year's promenade dance was choreographed by Kristi Allred and Bonni Gudgel. Both of them, along with Ashley Dana, spent many lunch hours and early mornings teaching dedicated junior and senior couples the intricate steps. Was it successful? Ashley Dana said, "The practices went well and overall it was pretty good, but ten couples didn't show up that night, so it threw everyone off."

"Consider yourself at home..." Rasidy Manhart (Noah Clogpole), Dusty Goodson (Charlie the thief), and Clint Stevenson (Dodger), sing a happy tune to welcome Emily Brimley (Oliver) into the family of thieves. Sunny Pendleton said, "I think the play was one of the best we have ever had. The cast worked really hard to learn their parts."

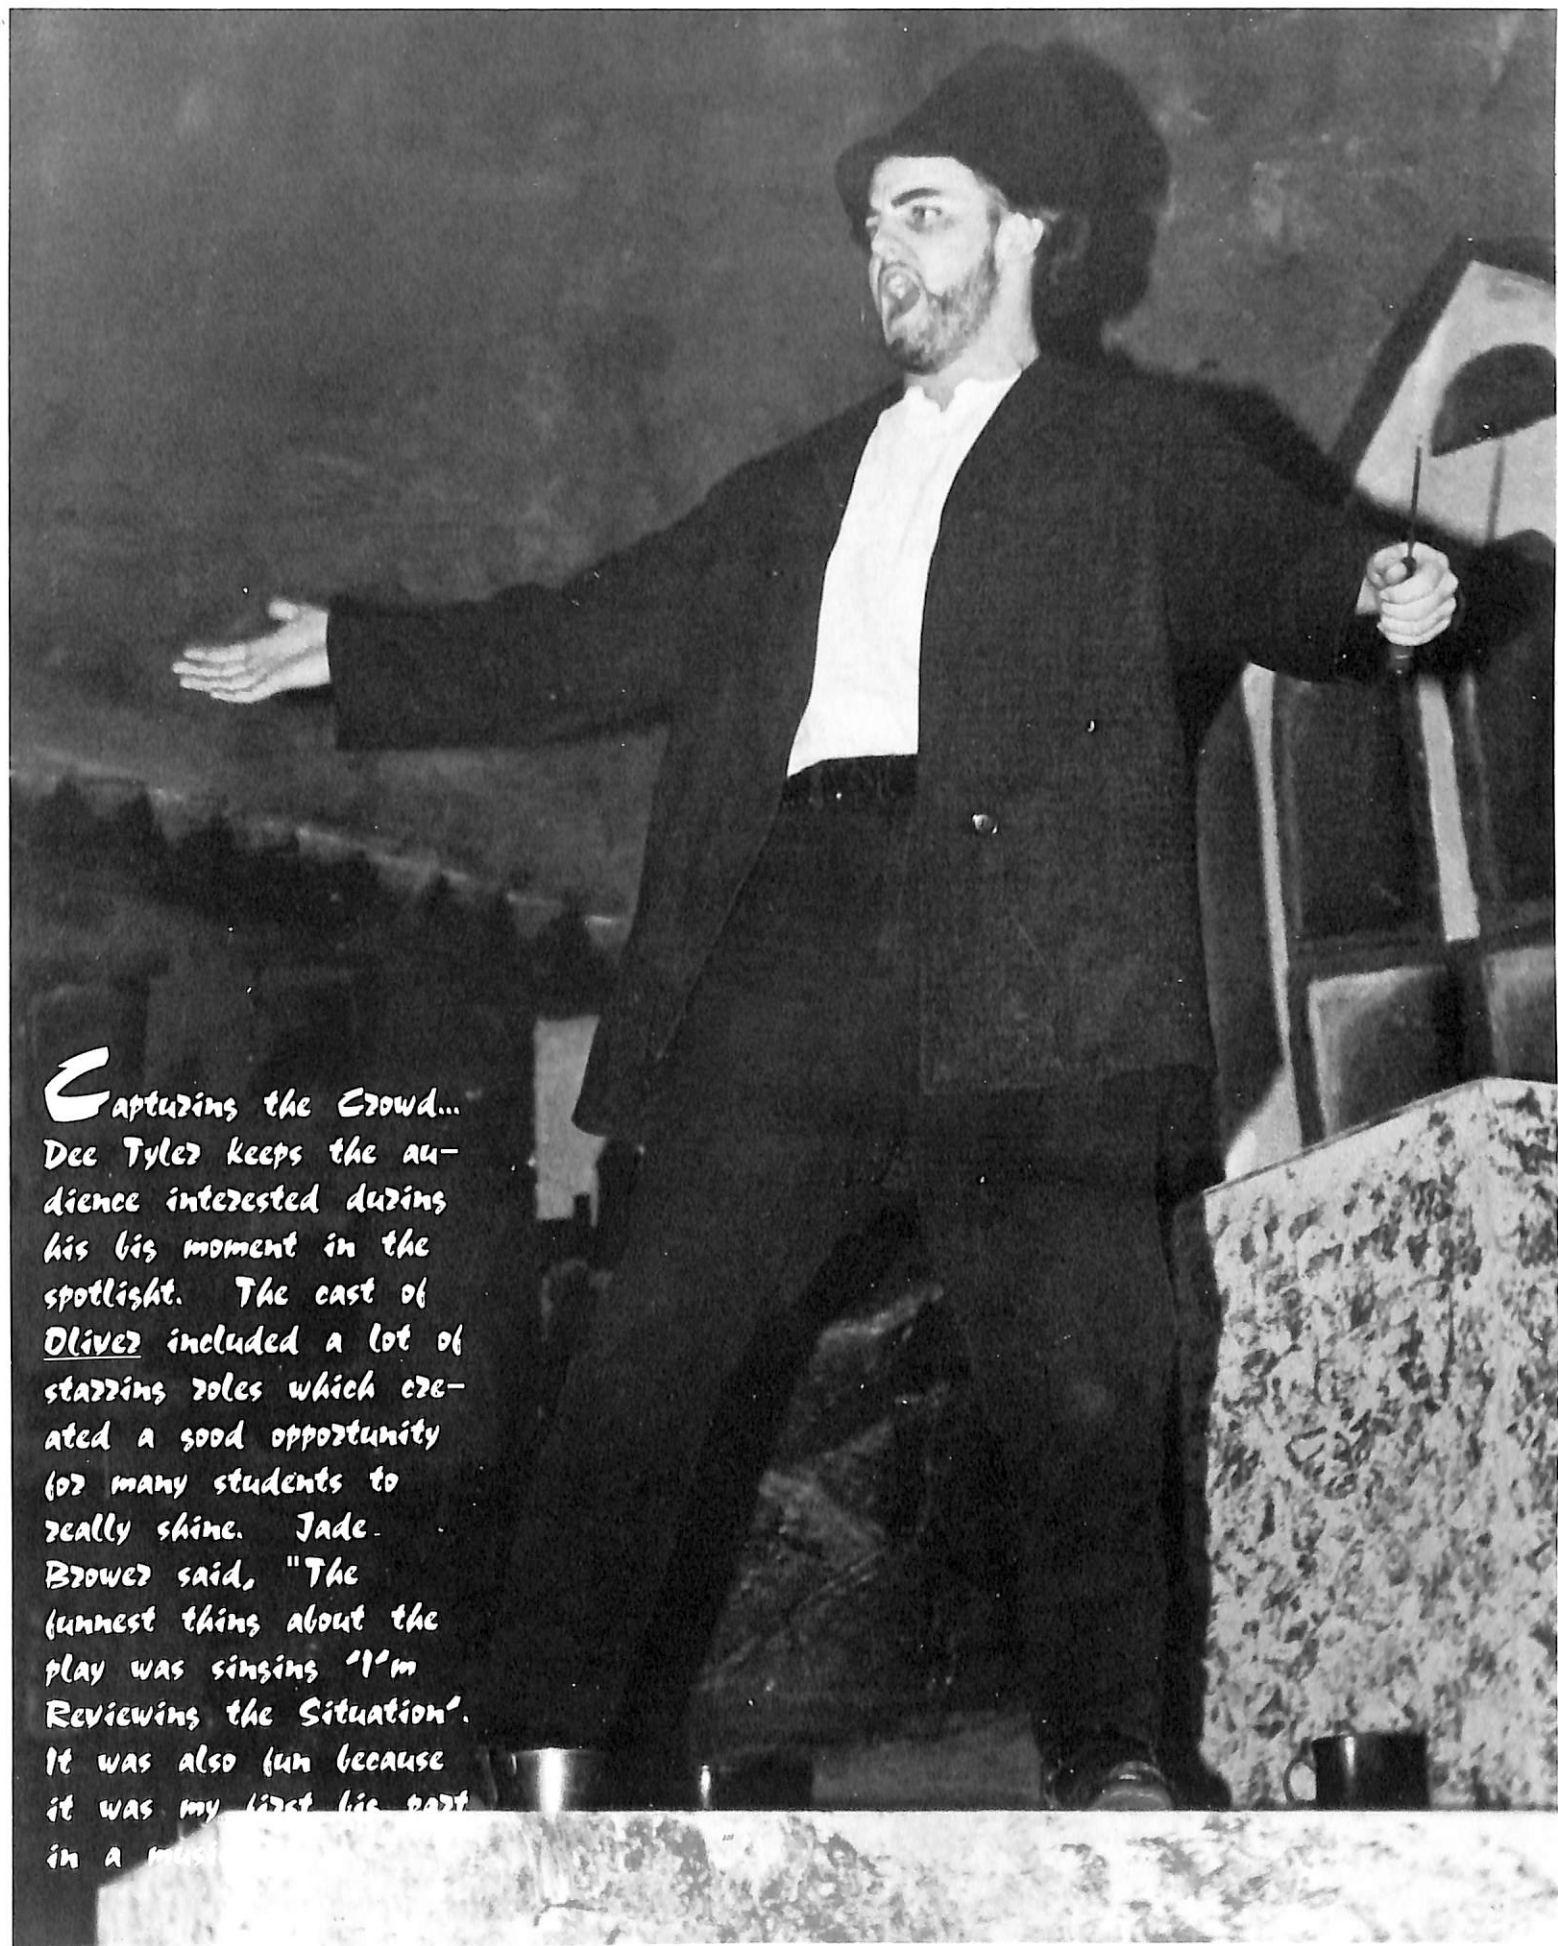

What the Heck?!... Kara Bennington (Vendor) turns around surprised to discover Emily Brimley (Oliver) hiding under her dress. This year's musical, Oliver was a huge success. Hillary Guzman said, "I liked how the cast all seemed to want to work together." Through all the hard work of memorizing lines and attending practices, most of the cast members seemed to have a good time. "Of the three High School musicals I have participated in Oliver was the best. It was a great chance to make new friends and I felt we all had a great time in the performance!" commented cast member Clint Stevenson.

A Passionate Performance...

Layout by Cari Call...

Intense acting... Kandice Kenninston, Emily Brimley, and Courtney Astle give an impressive performance in the musical Oliver. The actors and actresses did a great job of staying in character and drawing the audience into the play. Kasidy Manhart said, "I really enjoyed getting to know all of the other people who were in the play. The acting was so passionate. It really came from the heart."

Capturing the Crowd... Dee Tyler keeps the audience interested during his big moment in the spotlight. The cast of Oliver included a lot of starring roles which created a good opportunity for many students to really shine. Jade Brower said, "The funnest thing about the play was singing 'I'm Reviewing the Situation'. It was also fun because it was my first big part in a musical."

Jumping into the spotlight...

Layout by Alisa Allred...

Who says you can't jump and sing at the same time?.. These multi-talented actor/gymnasts Chris Hallford, Donell Huchiger, Justin Crook and Travis Helm amazed us with their singing and dancing. When asked what the worst thing he imagined happening was, Justin Crook said, "I hoped my hair wouldn't fly in the air."

Imagine things is the next best thing to having them... That's what the orphans, Travis Helm, Sara Luthi, Blake Hansen, Lannea Sandner, and Emily Brimley learned during their stay at the orphanage. Lannea Sandner said she thought the play was fun because "...it's not every day you get to act like a boy."

Renewing the year... Members of the senior class enjoy their long awaited moment of changing the date below the star. Thirty seven faithful students climbed star hill over looking the valley. After hard work and with a combination of dirt and lime covering their clothes, the students plummeted down the mountain and jumped into graduation night...

Free entertainment... Ryan Hoopes and Misty Croft sing for all to hear at the all night party after graduation. On graduation night, everyone danced to the last songs of the year and then left the seniors behind to attend the senior party.

SNEAKING

Bonnie Bates and Seth Haderlie calmly wait for The Fire Dragon to begin its stomach wrenching journey. Why would someone put themselves through all this? "I loved the thrill of all the scary rides. It was cool to be able to look back at it, and be able to say that you had been there and done that," said senior Bonnie Bates. Whatever the reason, most seniors enjoyed the sunny, exciting day at Lagoon as their final high school trip together.

...POINTING OUT OLD TRADITIONS...

Layout By Marci Nield

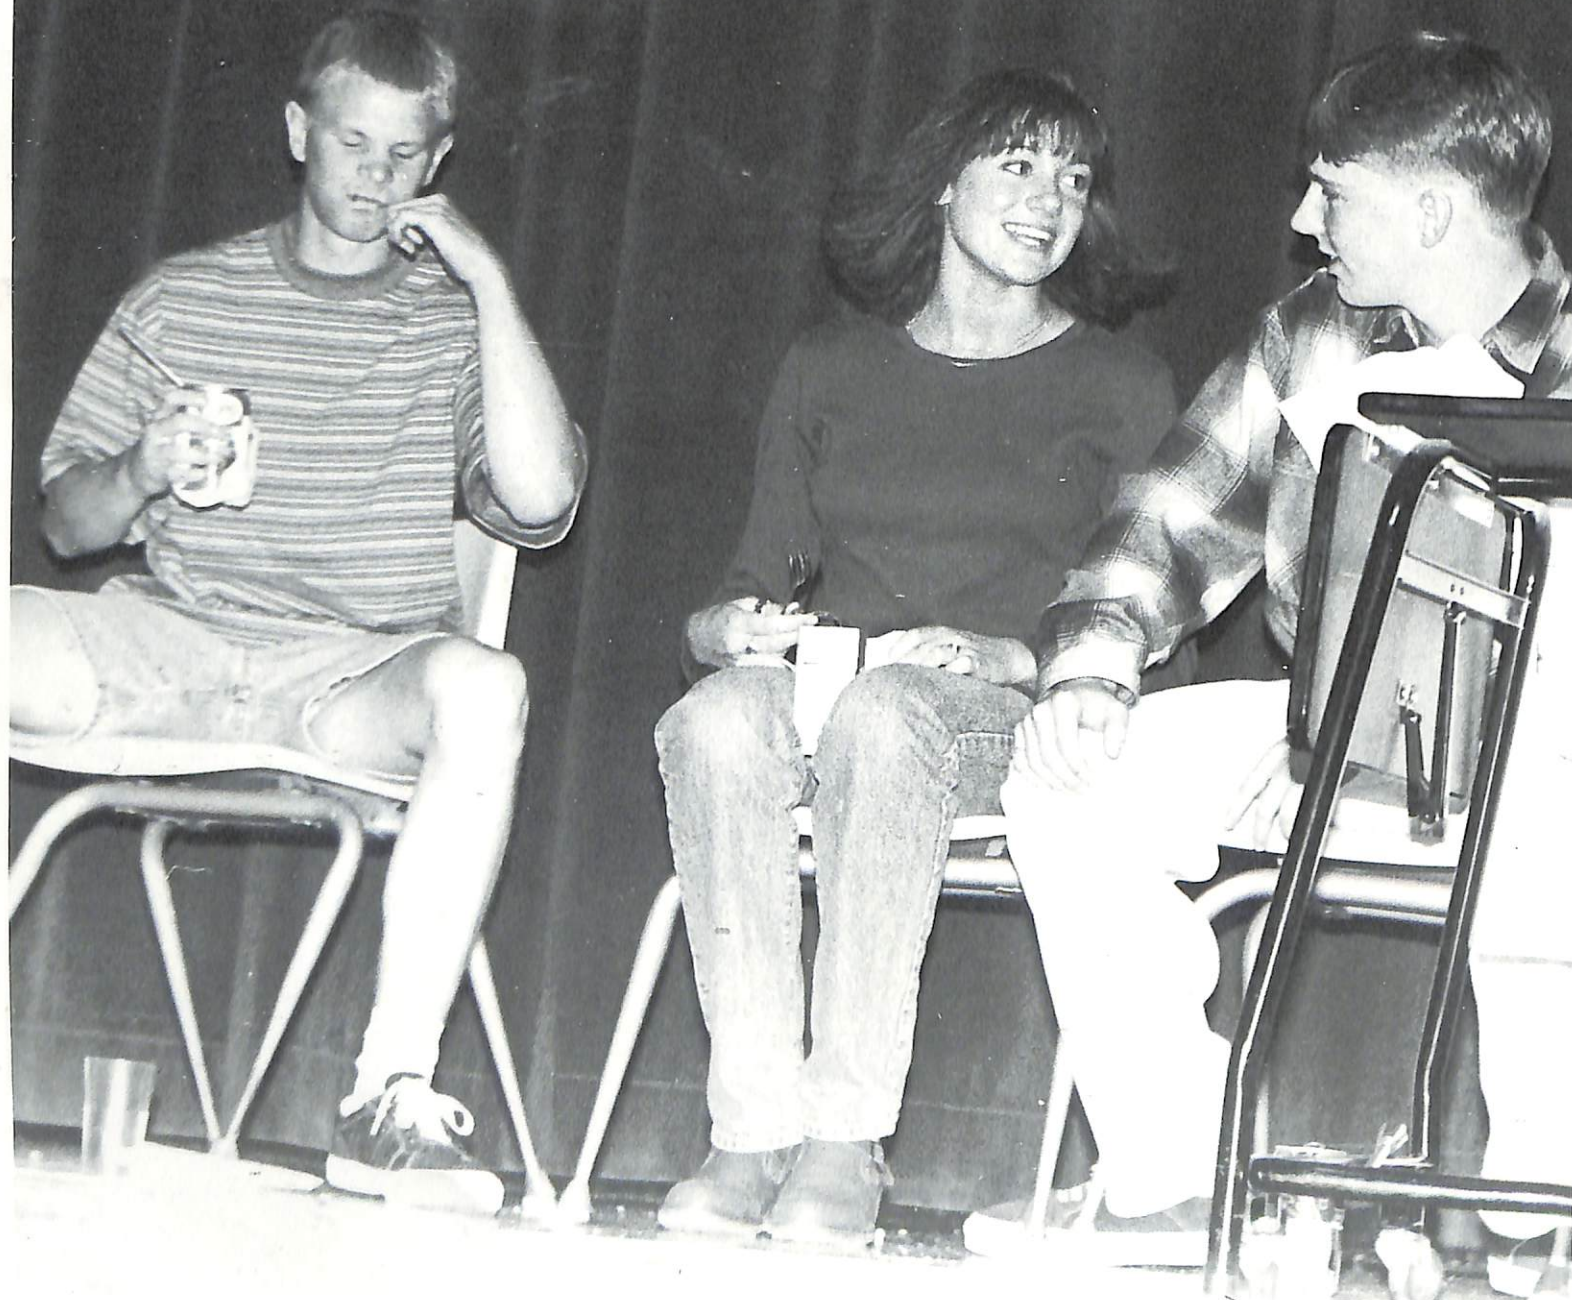

Long Time, No See!!! Aleesha Walker and Amanda Jenkins renew old acquaintances at the traditional yearbook dance! Students crowd around in the annex looking for long lost buddies while others sit scrunched together flipping through each others' yearbooks and reminiscing about last year. "Being on the yearbook staff, I was curious and excited to see the yearbook! For an entire year we work on the yearbook, not knowing exactly how it will turn out and when you finally see how it looks, it's a sigh of relief because you realize all the hard work and effort was worth it," said Christina Call...

Prepare to Land!!! Mr. Linford livens up his early morning American History class by demonstrating his airplane experiences. Teachers play a big part in school traditions. "Anyone who has been in Mr. Linford's class for a semester has heard his Air Force entrance exam story at least twice, complete with hand gestures and motor mouth noises," said John Heiner...

Brush those pearly whites!!! Doran Fluckiger begins the toothbrush tradition at the opening assembly. He dabs a big blob of toothpaste on his toothbrush and goes to work on his teeth. Kelli Harris said, "I was eating Spam and thinking how gross it was going to be because Doran was eating mustard and sardines." Some students looked forward to the event. "It's the sick-est tradition I know, but I like it," said sophomore Kitch Head...

Surprising Traditions...

Layout By Marci Nield

Sports...

"THIS YEAR'S BASKETBALL SEASON HAS BEEN VERY DIFFERENT FROM PAST YEARS. FROM THE VERY FIRST DAY WE HAVE GOTTEN ALONG SO WELL. WE ARE FRIENDS OFF THE COURT SO WE ARE ABLE TO COMMUNICATE AND WORK TOGETHER AS A TEAM ON THE COURT. WE HAVE YOUNGER GIRLS WHO ARE PLAYING WELL AND ENCOURAGING US TO KEEP WORKING AND IMPROVING. IT'S BEEN GREAT SO FAR AND IF WE KEEP IMPROVING WE HAVE A GREAT CHANCE OF TAKING STATE...."

THERE IS NOTHING LIKE PLAYING IN THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP GAME, AND THERE IS NOTHING LIKE WINNING. FOOTBALL IS THE BEST..."

MIKE HEINER

Posing for the camera... Shanna Merritt stated, "Golf is as important as any other sport in the high school. We work as hard as everyone else by having practice through the summer, every night after school, and any other spare time that we have." After all their hard work and hours of practice they placed 4th in the state championship tournament. Team from left to right - Kelsie McCue, Shanna Merritt, Britt Robinson, Sunny Pendleton, Kelli McKim, and Dodi Burgess.

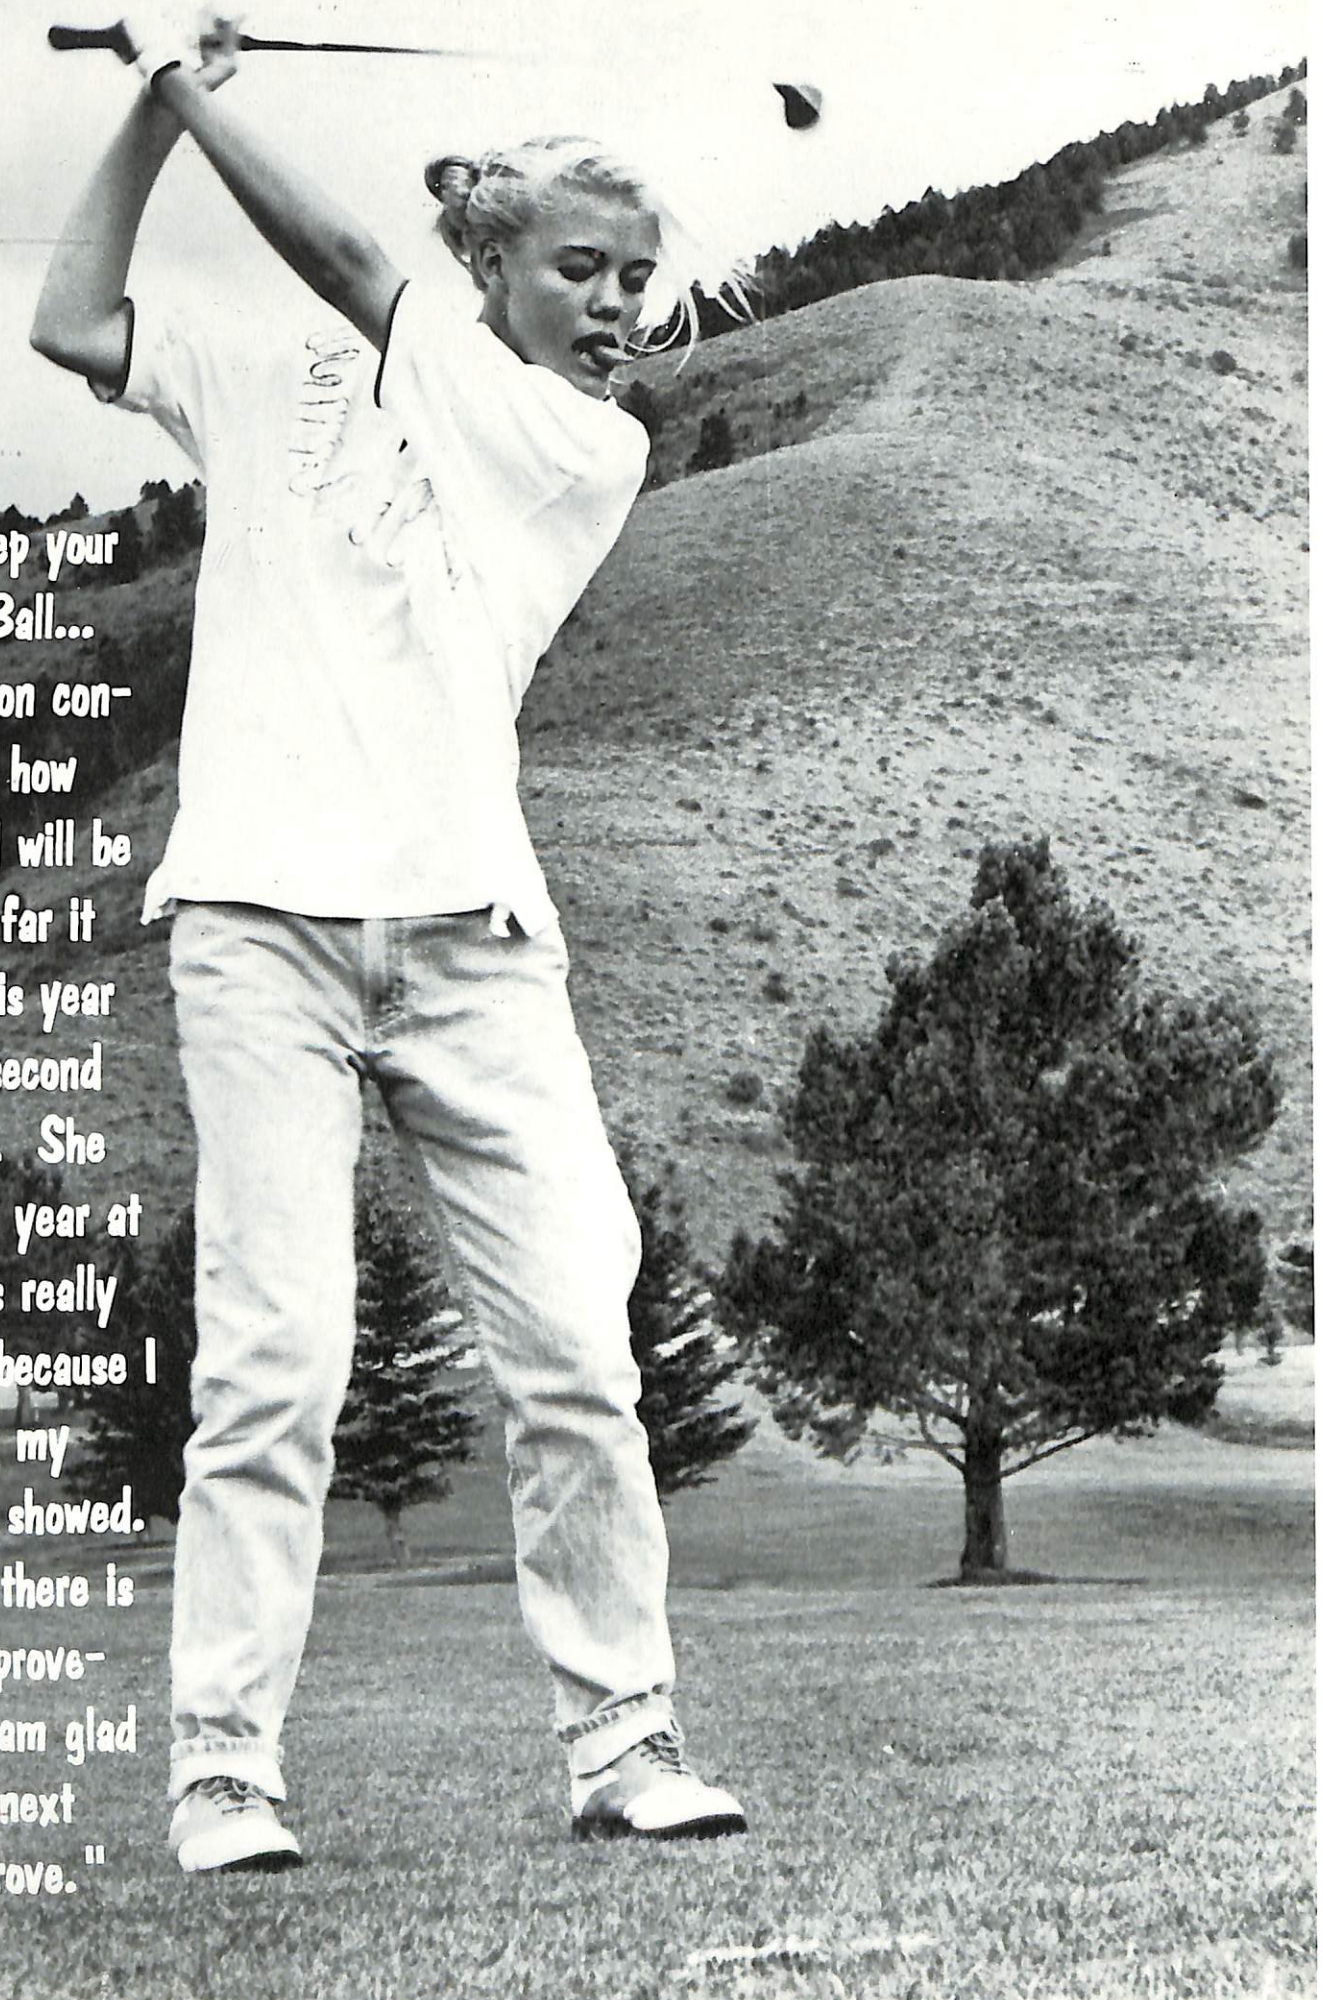

Watching the Ball Fly. Kelli McKim golfs under the supervision of her teacher's watchful eye. Now it is time for the critique of her swing. After four years of high school golfing, Kelli finishes off this section of her career by placing second at State Tournament. She says, "Golf is worth the time and effort when I am relaxed and at peace with the game and myself."

WATCHING THE BALL FLY!!!

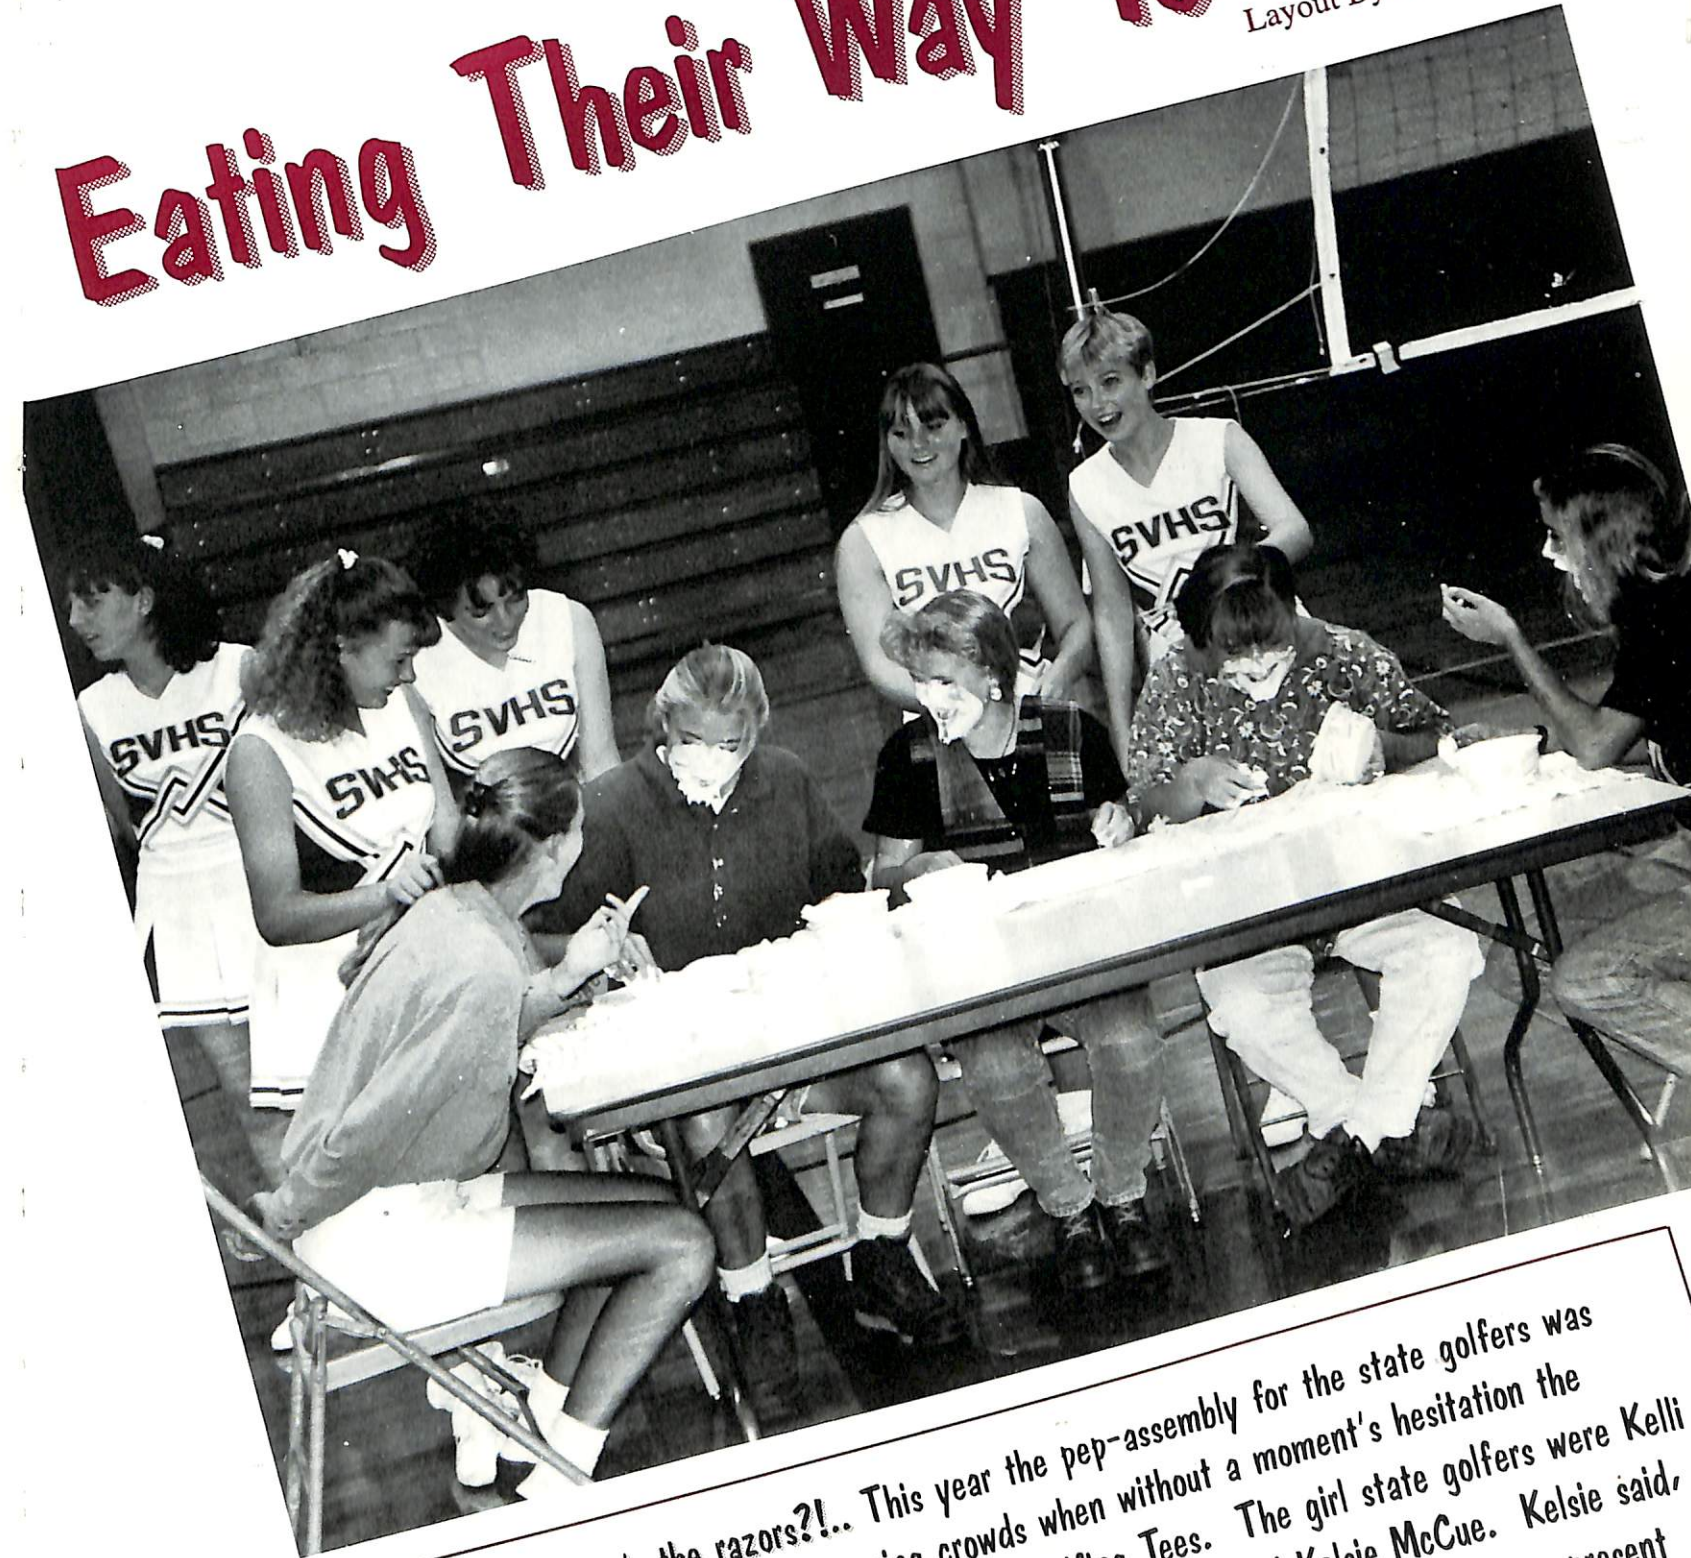

Being gentle. Halie Erickson putts a ball into the first hole while Bethany Simpson holds the flag out of the way. Bethany said, "Golf practice is the time I am able to have fun and let my daily problems go. The younger golfers, Decia Haderlie, Halie Erickson, and I don't get to go to very many tournaments but they learn how to have fun and enjoy the sport of golf."

Keep your eye on the Ball... Britt Robinson concentrates on how hard the ball will be hit and how far it will fly. This year was Britt's second year of golf. She said, "This year at State, I was really discouraged because I wasn't doing my best, and it showed. I know that there is room for improvement and I am glad that I have next year to improve."

Eating Their Way To State

Layout By Cozette Birch

Now where's the razors?!... This year the pep-assembly for the state golfers was full of excitement of cheering crowds when without a moment's hesitation the girls went face down into cool whip looking for golfing Tees. The girl state golfers were Kelli McKim, Britt Robinson, Shanna Merritt, Sunny Pendleton, and Kelsie McCue. Kelsie said, "The best part of state was having the honor of being one of the people sent to represent Star Valley."

A Taste of Victory. Eric Lyman recalls, "The highest point in the State Tournament was being in first place after the first day. My stomach was tied in knots while we were waiting for Mike to come in from the 18th green. It was the awesomest when all of the strokes were added up and Star Valley was just a few strokes ahead of Lander. The adrenaline was really pumpin'. It felt good to be a part of the first boy's golf state championship team in Star Valley's History..."

THE WILD, WILD, WEST... The state boys golf team which consists of Mike Hokanson, Eric Lyman, Henry Howell, Josh Peavler and Dusty Burgess took time out of their day to go to Jackson for the afternoon and have old fashioned pictures taken. Coach Hoopes said, "After school one night we went to Jackson for something different. It was really fun to watch all the kids interact with each other when they were dressing up and having their pictures taken. The most exciting part for me will be the team next year. All of the golfers that took state will be here again. So, next year, we will be very competitive. The boys' attitudes are where they should be..."

poor attempt at a sand castle... Chad Whiting, Lael Harmon, and Clint Frome present some of their skills at one of their practices during the summer. Sam Pead had this to say about his golfing season. "Golf was fun. It required us to work hard every day, while gambling on each shot we took. It was a lot harder for me than I had expected it would be."

Is This Going To Hurt... During the State

Golf Championship Assembly, Mike Hokanson thrills the student body as he golfs blindfolded off of a tee in Andy Louder's mouth. Mike said, "Sure it was dangerous, but it wasn't my dental work I was messing with..."

DON'T

Tense Moments... #42, Jared Johnson takes off full speed in a frantic search for the goal line. While, Bryan Jensen, #12, prepares to accurately throw the ball in the few seconds he has before the opponent attacks. Along with making split second decisions, the JV and Freshmen football players sometimes have no time to decide what is happening to them. "One humiliating thing that happens in football is when you get knocked flat in front of the stands," said Jesse Owens.

THE FIVING PILLARS

Keept the Change... Chris Allred and Sean Stewart give each other a high-five as they celebrate another victory. When the energy is high, the football players overflow with excitement. James Barnes said, "I didn't get calmed down for two weeks after a game." Chris Allred said, "I run around and scream until I'm worn out." Whether running out of breath or out of time, the players have had a great experience as they have been part of the championship team. Loren Crook said, "We went to Cody and stayed over night one time. When the wake up call for breakfast came, Bret Taylor answered it and then went back to sleep. The whole team waited for us to eat." There's one thing that all the players agreed on... The best thing about football was the championship win.

Stacked Up Like Pancakes With Syrup... Matt Linford, Josh Balloway, and Derek Haderlie form a tower as they face the opposing team. Coach Linford said, "We were really discouraged at the start of the season, but we still believed we had the talent. If the kids would come back we could get it all together and win." The opponents kept the syrup coming but in the end we still came out on top.

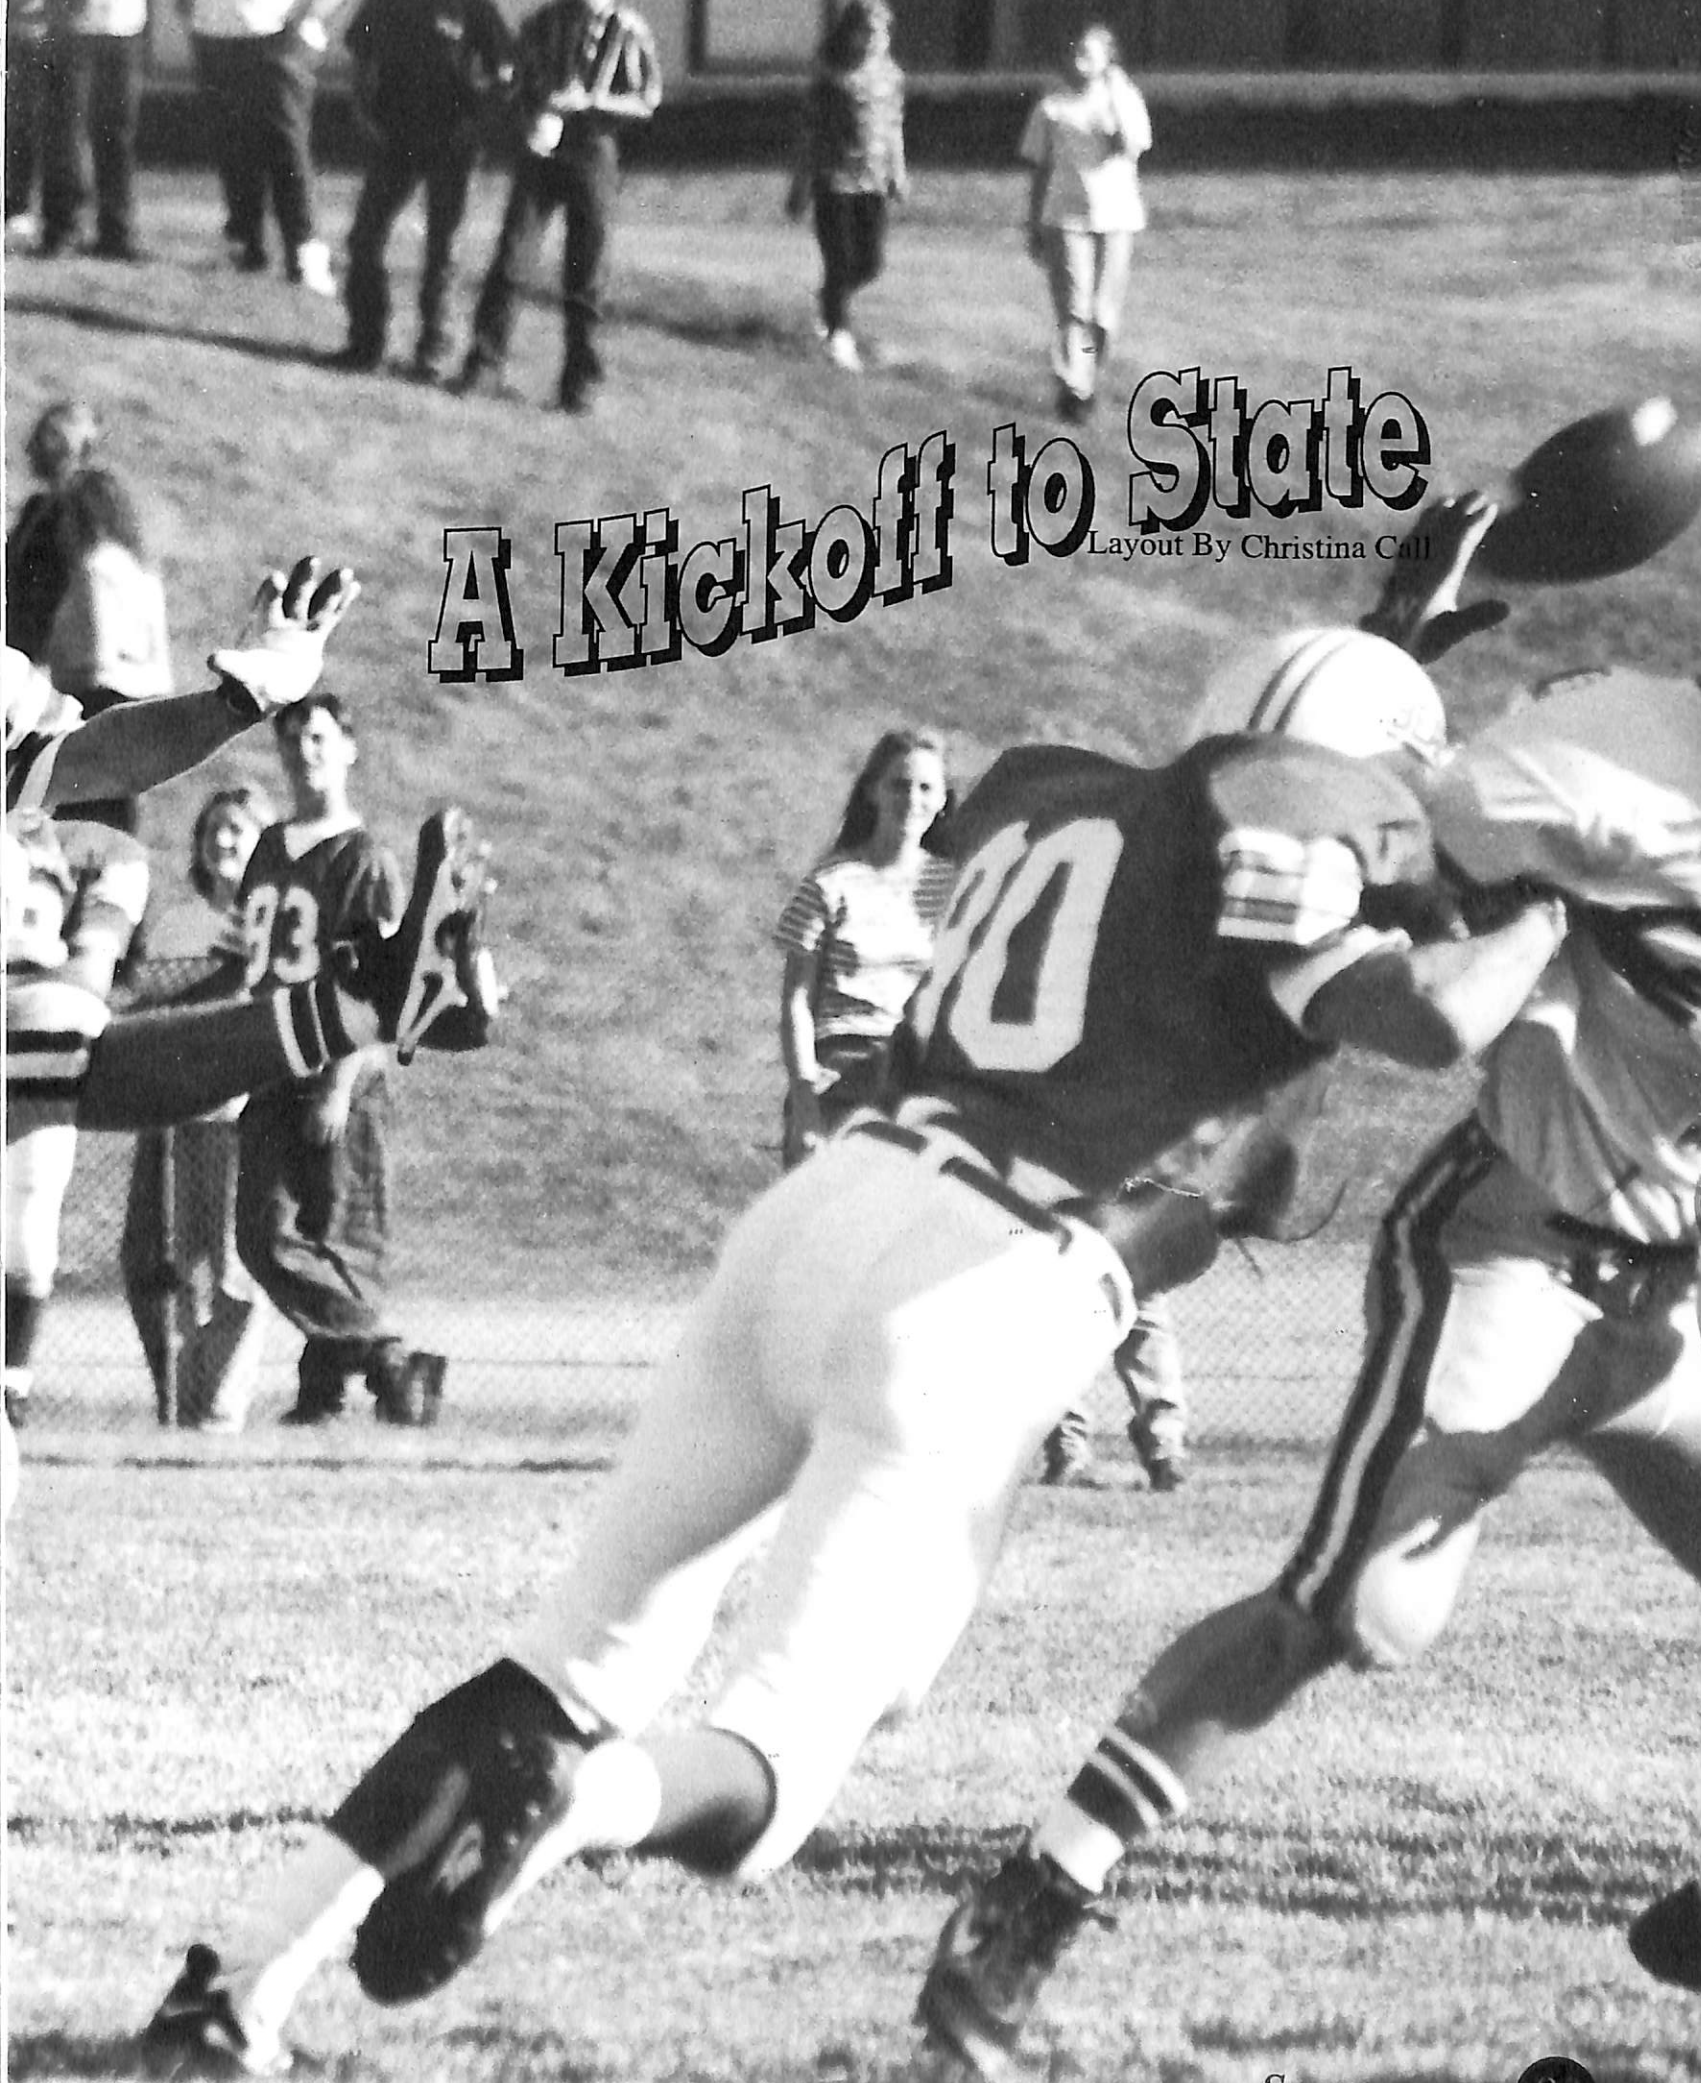

Stretching To the Limit. Aaron Brown gives it all he's got as he begins the season with a kickoff against Bear Lake. A stream of exciting games followed as our varsity football team got it's fair share of good and bad games. Jeremy MacDonald-Wivell replied that the turning point came when "We found out that we wouldn't be able to win on just our good looks and charm." So putting that aside, the team pulled together and in a 32-14 winning game against Lander, became the 1995 State Champions. (see scoreboard on pg. 92)

...Slam! Wendi Wolfley successfully slams a hit past her opponent. The unsuccessful block from the other team lead to another point for Star Valley. Planning, coordination and practice were key elements in the success of the team. A lot of after school hours were put in by the team and coach to make this year's team one of the best ever. The Freshman team ended the year with 10 wins, 10 losses and 1 tie... (see scorebox on pg. 93)

...Suspended thoughts. As Kim Harris breathes deeply, with full concentration, her serve is successful in gaining another point for her team. Kim offered these feelings about the volleyball season, "Volleyball was really fun and a great learning experience. We had a great coach with great ideas that helped us be what we needed to be." Mrs. Anita Harmon, the Freshman coach commented, "The team gradually progressed to reach my potential. They are a great group of girls. There are always those that work hard at practice and everything they do... and those are the girls that made coaching this season worth it."

Total exertion. With determination being the only thing on her mind, Amber Ivie slams the ball, while her team watches it fly past her opponent's arms. It takes tremendous skill to win each match. As the ball is being hit back and forth with such turbulence, one wrong move could cost them the game. Coach Juli Lauritsen said this about the team, "I enjoyed coaching the SVHS JV Volleyball team this year. I felt they started out strong and progressed greatly over the past season. I am happy with the success of the players. They are a great group of girls."

Strained Intensity

Strained Compulsion. Patience Erickson and Haley Izatt's team work helps them as they leap to block the ball. Most of the varsity team have been playing together since Jr. High. Working that long with one another makes the game more than just a game. Cindy Richins says. "This year we were all really good friends. We all trusted each other which helped us communicate and work together as a team..." (see scoreboard on pg. 93)

ERIN SANDERSON LIFTS HERSELF TO MEET THE BALL. CONCENTRATION IS ESSENTIAL FOR ALL OF THE TEAM MEMBERS. KAMI HADERLIE SAID, "VOLLEYBALL IS A GAME THAT REQUIRES CONCENTRATION. YOU HAVE TO WATCH THE BALL CONSTANTLY BECAUSE THINGS HAPPEN SO QUICKLY." PLAYERS HAVE BEEN TRAINED TO RESPOND QUICKLY TO THE SUDDEN MOVEMENTS OF THE BALL, AND DURING GAMES THE CONCENTRATION LEVEL SOARED TO UNIMAGINABLE HEIGHTS.

...Looking Towards Victory...

Laout By Julie Merritt

Pushing through the season. Kristin Keeley waits for a rebound, while her opponent occupies the remaining room on the court. Jenny Jenkins said "It was really fun being on the team. During games, it made my adrenaline pump!" It wasn't just that way for the team, though, this year there was a big turnout at all of the games. "When there is a close game going, that is all you pay attention to, there is no room for anything else. For that moment all you care about is the game. Some of the games are really exciting," said junior Dianna Cazier.

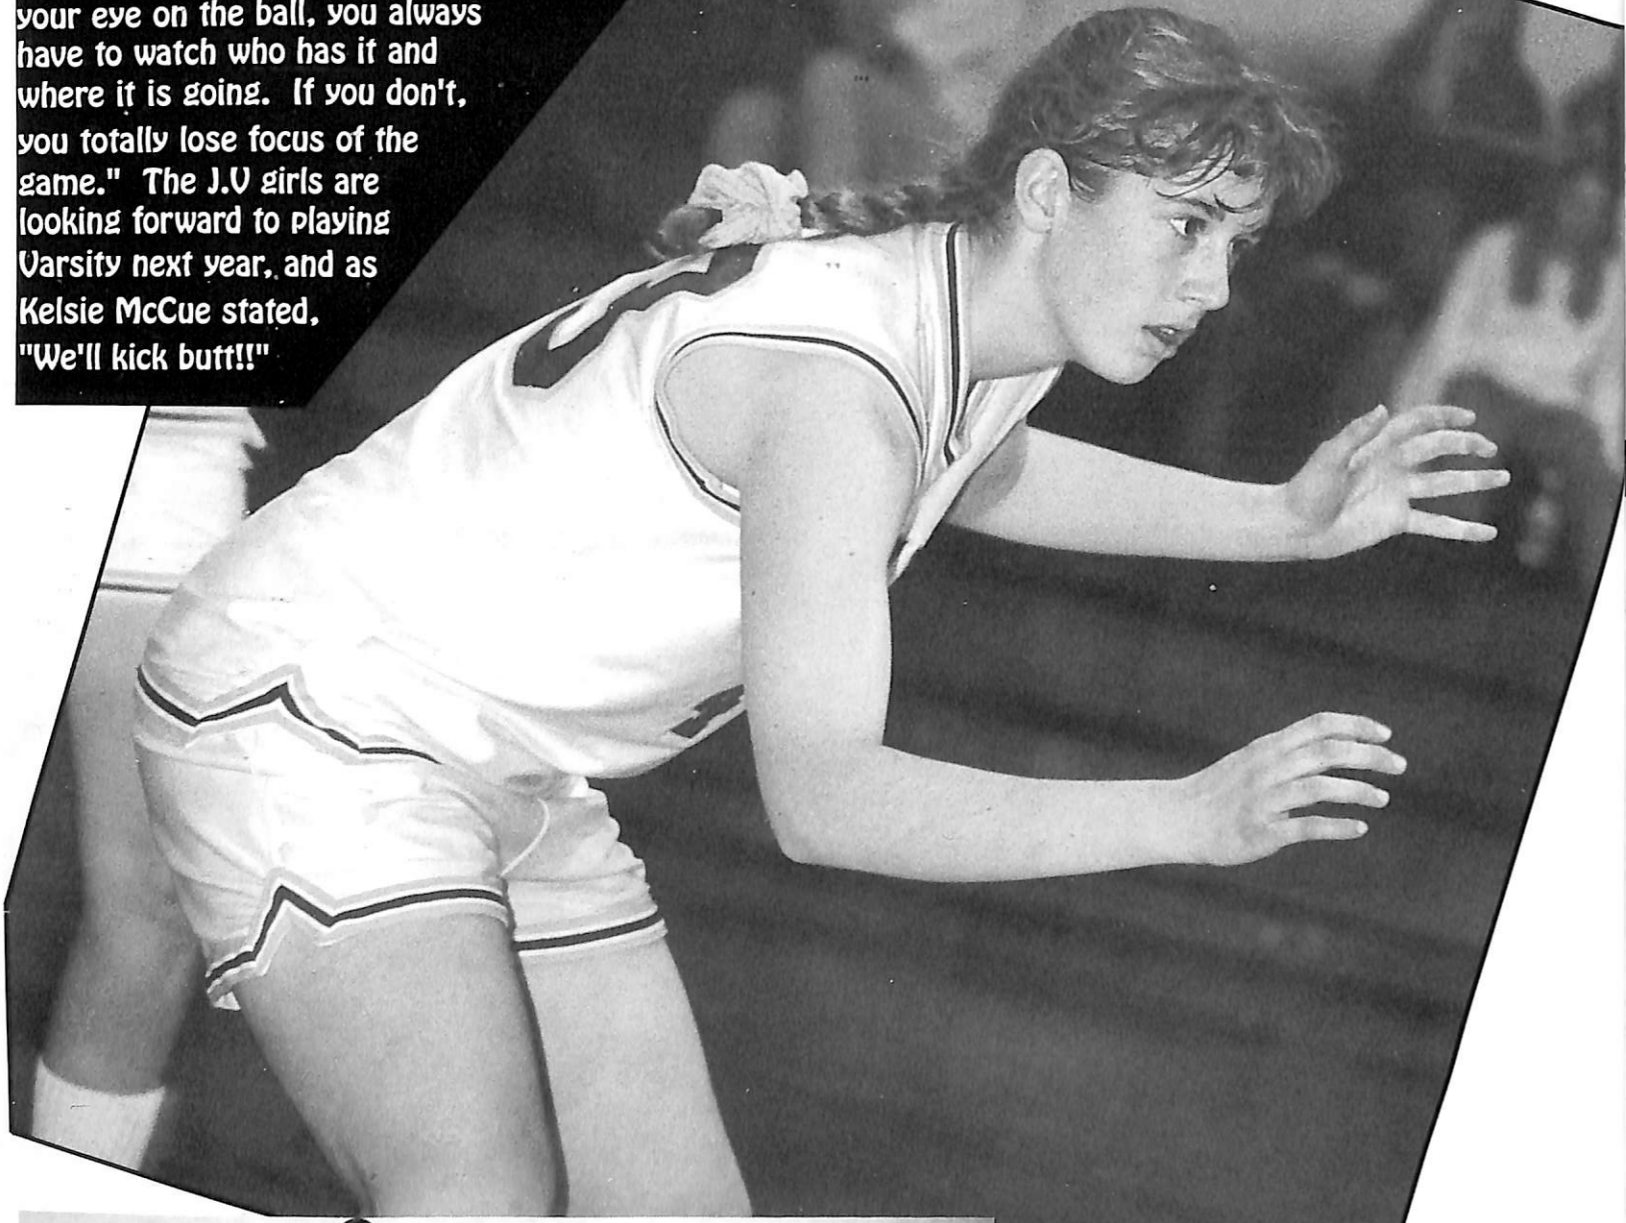

"The effort levels seemed to vary from game to game and from practice to practice. Some games were played with a great deal of effort while othes were played well below our potential. Ideally, we would all like to put in our best effort every time we take the court..." Coach Joe Wetzel.

Charging to win... Lacey Wolfley dribbles around her opponent hoping to create enough room to make a shot in the basket. "Our team works together really well. It's the best to be able to sit and watch the thrill and excitement of a close game," said Freshman Cheerleader Angelia Weeks. The Freshman team put forth all their efforts, and placed 2nd in the tournaments. (see scorebox on pg. 110)

Eyes Up... Freshman Janna Thomas guards her opponent while keeping her eyes up and on the ball. Amber Ivie said, "It is so important to keep your eye on the ball, you always have to watch who has it and where it is going. If you don't, you totally lose focus of the game." The J.V. girls are looking forward to playing Varsity next year, and as Kelsie McCue stated, "We'll kick butt!!"

Reaching for Victory... Shooting for three, Joni Draney makes the shot look easy. Sophomore Stephanie Brown stated, "The toughest game we played this year was Green River, we beat them last year, and lost this year, so it was a big disappointment." The J.V. Girls finished the season with a record of 15 wins and 4 losses. (see scoreboard on pg. 110)

HOLDING ON FOR VICTORY... PATIENCE ERICKSON SNATCHES THE BALL AND HOLDS ON TO IT WITH ALL SHE'S GOT. MANY FANS WITHIN THE CHEERING CROWD SCREAMED WITH PRIDE FOR OUR VARSITY GIRL'S TEAM. LAUNEE VISSER PUT IT THIS WAY. "THEY ARE SO INTENSE ABOUT WHAT THEY DO. I ALWAYS LOOK FORWARD TO WATCHING THEIR GAMES."

GO TEAM!!! PUMPED WITH EXCITEMENT AND ADRENALIN, JENNIE DANA, BRITT ROBINSON, JANA E CLEVERLEY, JONI DRANEY AND JANNA THOMAS GIVE A LOUD CHEER TO HELP SUPPORT THEIR TEAM. FELLOW TEAM MEMBERS WERE ONE OF THE LOUDEST CHEERING SECTIONS OF ALL...

Shoot it! Shoot it now!..Releasing the basketball, Deon Draney takes it to the top. Deon Draney states, "The team worked hard to get the ball to the basket." (see scorebox on page 124)

Sky High...Reaching high, Tausha Simkins aims for a shot above her opponent's reach... Throughout the season the Braves soared far above the rest and landed in some exciting games at State Tournament.

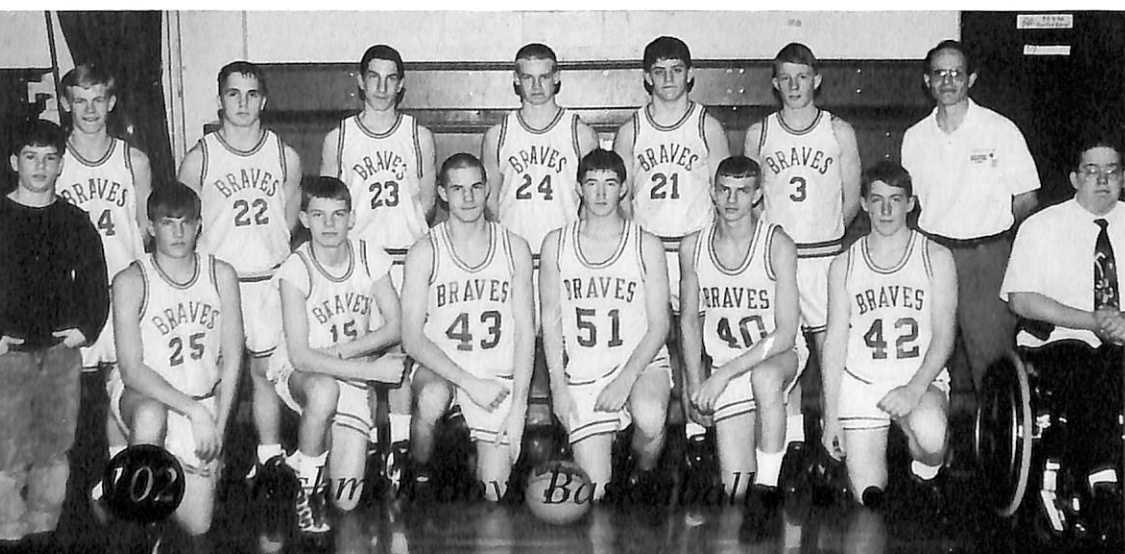

On an offensively excellent team, Sharon Jackson shoots a superior shot. Britt Robinson said, "The team worked well together and no matter what happened, we found a positive point in everything. All-in-all we did exceptionally well..."

...The Direction of Triumph...

Help!!! Searching. Tyson Cuthi aims for a pass as his teammates scatter like marbles on a hard wooden floor. The crowd intensely watches the exciting game, hoping for the win that will leave the Braves on top.

Reaching for success... Focusing on his opponent, Mike Dana, #43, smoothly repels a shot. "Our team played unusually well this season," states coach Dahl Simpson. "We broke a state record and ended up taking 2nd at state." With a coach full of endurance and two helpful managers, the Freshman boys achieved outstanding goals. (see scorebox on page 124)

Looking to...

Frozen suspense... Danny Goulding and three of his opponents freeze as they wait for the ball to fall. Kade Erickson said, "I liked playing basketball this year. One reason is because we always had to scrimmage against the older kids. That made us all better because we knew we were playing against more experienced competition. It helped us improve on all of our skills. I thought we had the best coaches. They always had faith in us..." (see scorebox on page 124)

Rising Hopes... #33 Clay Brog jumps for the rebound and hopes he will be on the receiving end. Playing basketball can be a lot of work and is definitely a challenge. Bryan Jensen, who plays for both J.V. and Varsity said, "Playing with the varsity team has helped me learn what it will be like to be a Junior and Senior. Working with both coaches was very helpful. We have some of the best coaches in the State!"

HOLDING 'EM BACK...JUNIOR MIKE HOKANSON GUARDS HIS OPPONENT, KEEPING HIM AWAY FROM THE BALL. SAM LINFORD SAID, "OUR TEAM WORKED REALLY HARD IN OUR PRACTICES AND I THINK THAT'S WHY WE DID SO WELL OUT ON THE COURT." THE BASKETBALL TEAM TOOK 2ND AT REGIONALS AND ALSO ATTENDED THE STATE TOURNAMENT. (SEE SCOREBOX ON PAGE 124)

Guarding With Intensity... Jeff Wheeler sets a defensive stance and stays there until the job is done. The defense of the Varsity Boys team has been exceptional this year. Jeff states, "In my opinion the strongest point of our team was how well we managed to pull together through all the rough times of the season..."

Layout By Kristin Tolman

Constant Control... Aaron Erickson holds tight to his struggling opponent while hometown fans hold their breath. There is a lot more to wrestling than what takes place on the mat. Even before the season started, many wrestlers were preparing themselves, mentally and physically, for the sport. David Cleverley said, "When you're on the mat, it's you and your opponent... If you win, it's because you deserved it and if you lose, then you didn't try hard enough."

Overwhelming Strength... Kelly Merritt grasps his opponent and plans his next move. This year's JV Wrestling team worked very hard at each wrestling match. With good attitudes and hard work, they were able to win most of their matches. (see scoreboard on page 124)

Making room to conquer...

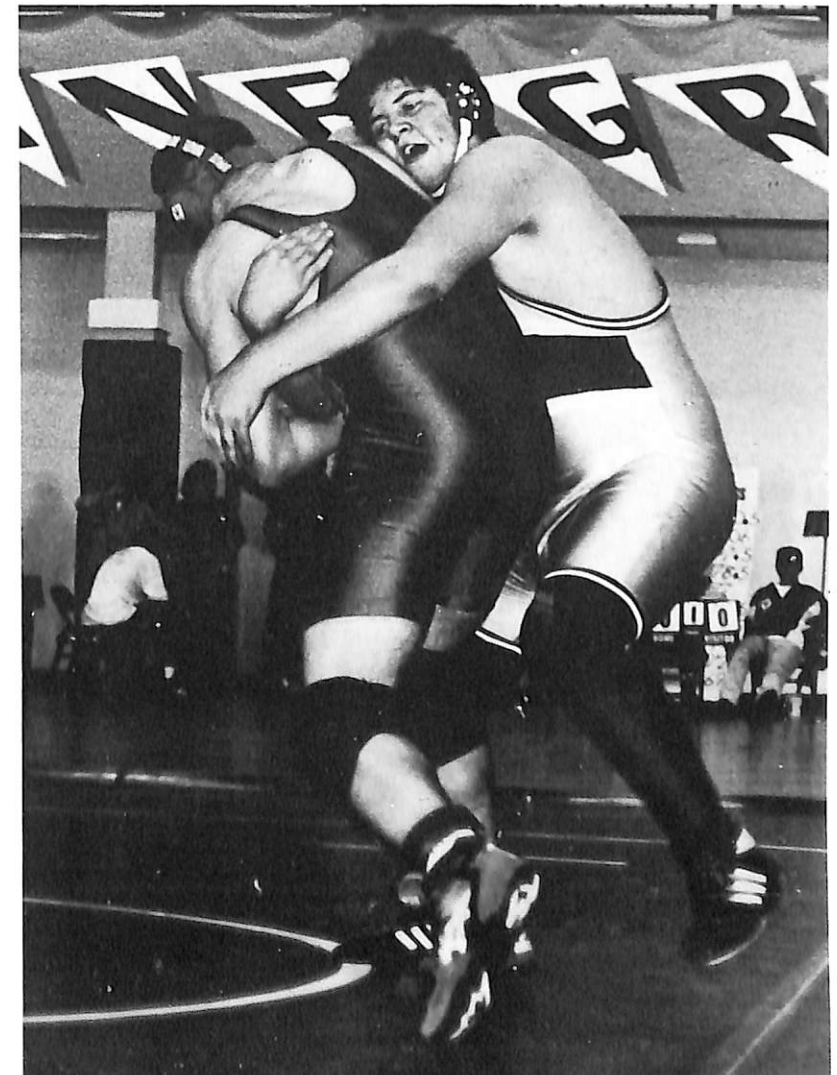

Layout by Jessica Seyigny

No room to breathe... Nick Aullman works every muscle in his body to pin his challenger against the hard, cold mat. He puts out his last burst of energy to hear the referee slam down his hand for the win. This year the Varsity team took state once again, adding another trophy to the already full trophy case. The team worked hard this year and each winning match placed them one step closer to the championship... (see scoreboard on page 124)

You're goin' down... Scott Dana squeezes his opponent creating a dominating hold, which helps him control the next move of his contender as they struggle through a long, tough match.

Forceful Endurance

Layout by Jessica Sevigny

Does it hurt yet?! Determined to win, Ryan Hoopes flips his opponent over. There can only be one winner in the boundaries of the mat, and both are aiming high. With determination of steel and hours of practicing, these young men took state for the fifth time in a row. This did not come without hard work and lots of commitment. Many times the wrestlers had to skip a couple of meals just to be the right weight. Not only did they have to be good wrestlers, but they also had to be good students. A failing grade could keep them from competing...

Strained Control. Jason Wheeler holds his opponent firmly to the mat as he keeps him from gaining points. Jason said, "Being faster and smarter can make all the difference." Many of these wrestlers have been wrestling for years. Most of them started in Little League and gradually moved up to Varsity level. These things don't just happen overnight, it takes a lot of hard work, practice and endurance. Each night the wrestlers work themselves almost to the limit to become powerful athletes. As raging, screaming fans cheer for them in the home section, it becomes obvious as to just how hard these men work. Most agree that it is almost impossible to keep still while watching these athletes in action...

Strength Of A Woman... This year track had a new event-- girls pole vaulting. In past years it might have not been offered because they didn't think girls were strong enough, but Jenna Bagley proves her strength as she clears 8'3". Pole vaulting is very hard work and takes a lot of strength and technique. Jenna Bagley stated, "It was really fun to be able to participate in this event because it is the first year that it has even been possible for girls to participate. My coaches told me to break a leg and I came pretty close..."

Sprinting to the finish... Laradene Smith, a member of the varsity girl's track team focuses on the next hurdle. Track is a very trying sport that takes a lot of effort. Students that are members of the team give up much of their free time in order to attend practices and meets. "Track takes a lot of self motivation, because it is such an individual sport, it's up to you to perform your best," said Kristy Haines.

Nearing the end... Bridgette Reinhart uses the last of her energy to pass the baton to Sharon Jackson. "Track takes all of my energy. After a meet, I am so tired I don't want to do anything but sleep forever," commented Laradene Smith. Many participants feel the same. Most agree that the most enjoyable thing to do after a meet is to go home, eat a good meal and relax.

"THE CRAZIEST THING I'VE EVER DONE? WELL, MY SENIOR PICTURE CAN DEFINITELY FIT IN THAT CATEGORY. AT THE TOP OF THE COLTER'S BAR, I TOOK ON A WHOLE NEW FORM. IT WAS DEFINITELY INTERESTING..."

CINDY DAY

"FIRST OF ALL, MY OUTDOOR PICTURES MADE ME LOOK LIKE DUMB AND DUMBER, AND I ENDED UP WITH A GALLON OF PINE GUM ON ME, SO I ENDED UP GETTING THEM TAKEN OVER IN LOGAN..."

COLE WILKES

"...SCHOOL PICTURES? THAT'S A JOKE!!! THEY ALWAYS SEEM TO CATCH ME AT THE WRONG MOMENT...LIKE THIS YEAR MY EYES ARE CLOSED. CHECK IT OUT!"

CAROL FLUCKIGER

"... I JUST LOVE GETTING MY PICTURE TAKEN. I DON'T KNOW WHY, MAYBE IT'S CAUSE I'M SO PHOTOGENIC. WELL, THAT'S WHAT MY GRANDMA SAYS. BUT MY GRANDMA LOVES ME, SO WHO KNOWS IF IT'S THE TRUTH."

JUSTIN VISSER

"I HATED THEM... IT WAS AWFUL."

DARNELL SIMPSON

"BRIAN ROBERTSON, JOHN HEINER AND I DECIDED TO GO TO DENVER, COLORADO TO GET OUR SENIOR PICTURES TAKEN WITH A LIVE EXOTIC ANIMAL. AFTER TALKING WITH OUR PARENTS INTO LETTING US GO, WE HEADED OFF. WE HAD CAR TROUBLE, BUT WHEN WE FINALLY GOT TO DENVER, WE DECIDED TO GET OUR PICTURES WITH THE COUGAR. HE WASN'T TAME, SO IT GOT SCARY AT TIMES, AND WE HAD TO CLEAN UP AFTER THE ANIMALS SINCE WE DIDN'T WANT TO PAY FOR USING THEM. IT WAS ONE AWESOME WEEKEND WHICH WE NEVER PLANNED..."

A Circle Of Friends. Top row, left to right. Renae Madsen and Katie Williams. Bottom row. Lisa Jennings, Brooke Nelson and Angie Weeks. Being a cheerleader for the first time is a learning experience for all of the freshmen cheerleaders. Renae Madsen said, "Being a cheerleader has helped me to be more assertive, and has given me a lot of knowledge about some sports that I didn't know much about."

Over The Crowd...

Layout By Marci Nield

Soaring Sky-high!!! Erin Owens is tossed into the air, capturing the eyes of the crowd and lifting the spirit and excitement of the game. "When it's time for our squad to work on stunts, there is no more joking or giggling because it's something to be taken seriously," commented Karlie Kennington. Cheerleading has many advantages, like having front row seats to all the games, and sharing the excitement of the win.

... Shanna Merritt gears up for an awesome leap in one of the home game routines. With flashy routines and spiffy new costumes the Brave Cadettes jumped into the spotlight and caught the eye of the audience. Kristi Allred made this comment about the group, "We're like a little family. We're just all good friends." The Brave Cadettes are: Bethany Simpson, Heather Hoopes, Sarah Allred, Heather Allred, Ann Merritt, Susan Raymond, Misty Croft, Jessica Clifford, Erica Wilson, Amber Goodwin, Amanda Schreiber, Shanna Merritt, Bonni Gudgel, Kristi Allred, Melinda Smalley, and Annie Allred...

...Reaching High...

The crowd roars in pain as the Brave Cadettes (manipulated to have that smile on their faces) jump and land in the Chinese splits. Then, as though the Chinese splits weren't enough to marvel the crowd, they get up and fall to the floor like dominoes. The crowds roar for the Brave Cadettes and their performances get rave reviews whether at home or out of town. Kristi Allred said, "It's a huge adrenaline rush being in front of all those people cheering for us. Star Valley crowds are very supportive and accepting..."

Wandering eyes... Jerry Blackburn helps his Champion friend with his math homework. After school on Mondays and Tuesdays the Champions Against Drugs gave of their time for half an hour a day helping the young elementary kids with homework and reading. Jerry Blackburn said, "I got involved with Champions because I like what they stand for and enjoy helping the kids..."

Finding room for everyone...

Katie Goodson gives her reason for joining Champions, "It is important for me to be a good role model for kids because they are always looking up to us and maybe they will grow up to be good examples themselves."

Remembering their youth...

Jade Brower, Tara Barber, and Heidi Hancock sit on the Holdaway Elementary Jungle Gym after an eventful assembly put on by the Champion group. Each year the Champions go around to all the elementary schools to get kids excited about saying no to drugs. Tara Barber said, "My favorite part of Champions is going to the elementary classrooms to be one on one with the kids, because they love to be with you and look up to you so much..."

SERVICE IN ACTIONS...

LAYOUT BY GINGER WEBBER

Intense acting! Alisha Turner lays perfectly still as she is used as an Emergency Training victim. TLC went to the Junior High to be volunteers for the EMT's. Brandi Jenkins said, "TLC helps me know who I am. It helps me make good decisions and we all have fun while doing it. We all come from different groups of friends, but we all become closer when we are together." Katie Kunz said, "The way you feel when you are in group is great. No one cares what you have gone through before, only who you are. You see the real person, not like they are at school." Laura Merritt said, "It gave me a new perspective on life and I learned how to deal with my problems in a new way." Stacie Romine said, "We all have become very close. The people in TLC know more about me than my PARENTS!!"

I have no idea. Misty Croft tries to help a Junior Higher with his homework. Throughout the year TLC has many opportunities to get close to one another. Some of these activities include parties, group, tutoring, and going to a camp to get to know each other. Kandice Kennington said, "I liked tutoring and helping the kids." Amy Moser said, "I love TLC. You get to listen and help people with their problems." Azure Haderlie commented, "A funny experience is when I helped a Junior Higher with his vocab and I got most of them wrong." Tomi Clark said, "The best part of TLC is helping the younger kids. I think they help me more than I could ever help them."

Front-Mindi Nield, Cali Felt, Bridgette Reinhart, Tara Barber, Cozette Birch, Kara Kennington, Kelly Romine, Laura Merritt, Kellee Thomas. Middle row-Tomi Clark, Marci Nield, Teresa Humpherys, Dianna Cazier, Kristi Merritt, Sundiann Sanderson, Christina Call, Kelli Harmon, Nicole Owens, Cindy Day, Melissa Turner, Amy Moser. Layout By Christina Call

Footnotes... Skylar Hall flinches as cold, slimy paint is slathered on her foot, while making a "Stomp 'Em" banner for state football. Nicole Owens told us, "But other things like little school spirit are worse than getting paint on your feet. We have fun and cheer our guts out, but other people just sit there."

Pom-Pom Pepstars... An enthusiastic crowd cheered as the players ran down the field. Jenny Head commented, "I wish our school had more school spirit. It would be so neat if everyone showed up to a game ready to scream and yell..."

Classic Creativity

Layout By Jessica Sevigny

...The Art Club Members escape to the scenic area of blue skies, green trees, and clear air to let their thoughts and feelings flow with their pencil. John Turner relaxes on the base of an old tree as he draws the texture of the forest. "I enjoy art club because it allows people to use and develop their creative talents without the restraints of academics. It gives art students the chance to study art and nature without having to worry about whether or not it will get a good grade," says John.

SKYLAR HALL

A Different Type...

Explain this part one more time... Sacia Cox and Mark Lewis study Sacia's debate case, during a Wednesday night meeting. Speech kids put in a lot of extra time and effort to prepare for the weekend speech meets, and after all of that, the winning means even more. "When I think I did really good, I feel like I am walking on air 2 feet above the ground when I come out of the room." said Nephi Lewis.

!! When I am performing I feel self confident because I like what I am doing, but I also feel nervous because I don't know if the judges like what I am doing. !!
Justin Cook

!! I compete in an area called extemp because it is a challenge. I have to work hard at it if I want to win. !!
Serena Muir

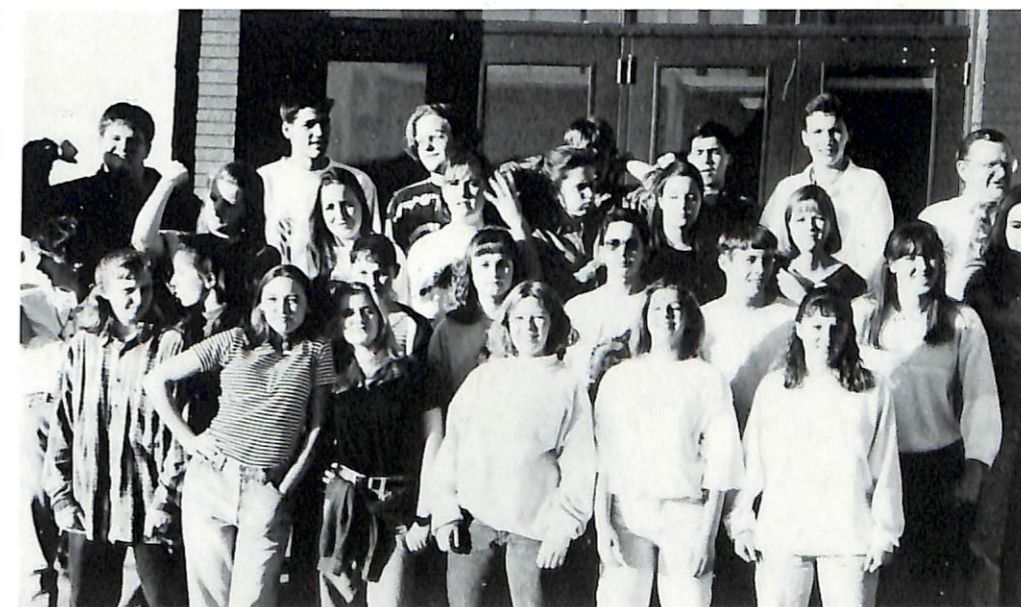

Finding the time to rehearse... Camie Izatt and Betsy Erickson find a corner to practice their duet during a speech meet. Life at a speech meet is very different, your emotions are going up and down, because you are competing, waiting, competing, waiting, competing, waiting, and then at the end during the awards assembly you find out how well you did. "On speech meets during our spare time we walk around talking with people from other teams. We play, and even more importantly we play cards." added Bridgette Reinhart.

KNEADING TIME AWAY... STUDENTS IN MR. LAURITSEN'S CERAMICS CLASS ARE SET FREE TO EXPRESS THEMSELVES IN THEIR CLAY. JUNIOR HEATHER ASTLE, SENIOR BROCK FELT AND LUCINDA MERRITT CAREFULLY BEGIN MOLDING THEIR PIECES. ART INSTRUCTOR MR. LAURITSEN SAID, "THE LEVEL OF ABILITY THIS YEAR IS VERY GOOD. IT'S FUN TO TEACH THEM BECAUSE THEY'RE SO GOOD." ART WAS A POPULAR ELECTIVE THIS YEAR. STUDENTS COULD BE SEEN LINED UP IN THE COUNSELING OFFICE WANTING TO SPEND AN HOUR IN AN ARTISTIC ATMOSPHERE...

PRECISE MARKS. FRESHMEN ALYSSA WOOLLEY, AND BRITNEY REEVES CAREFULLY CONCENTRATE ON ONE OF MR. LAURITSEN'S ASSIGNMENTS. ART IS ONE OF THE MORE CHALLENGING ELECTIVES FOR STUDENTS. THEY ARE ABLE TO EXPRESS THEMSELVES IN A WAY THAT IS NOT POSSIBLE IN ANOTHER CLASS. MANY STUDENTS GO MUCH FURTHER THAN TAKING THE CLASS. ART STUDENTS GET INVOLVED IN ART CLUB, AND WORK TOWARD GETTING THE PRIVILEGE TO ATTEND SYMPOSIUM. ALL TOGETHER, ART, ART CLUB, AND SYMPOSIUM SERVE AS A REWARD FOR THOSE WHO TRULY ENJOY ART.

Dazed Discussion...

Layout By Nicole Owens

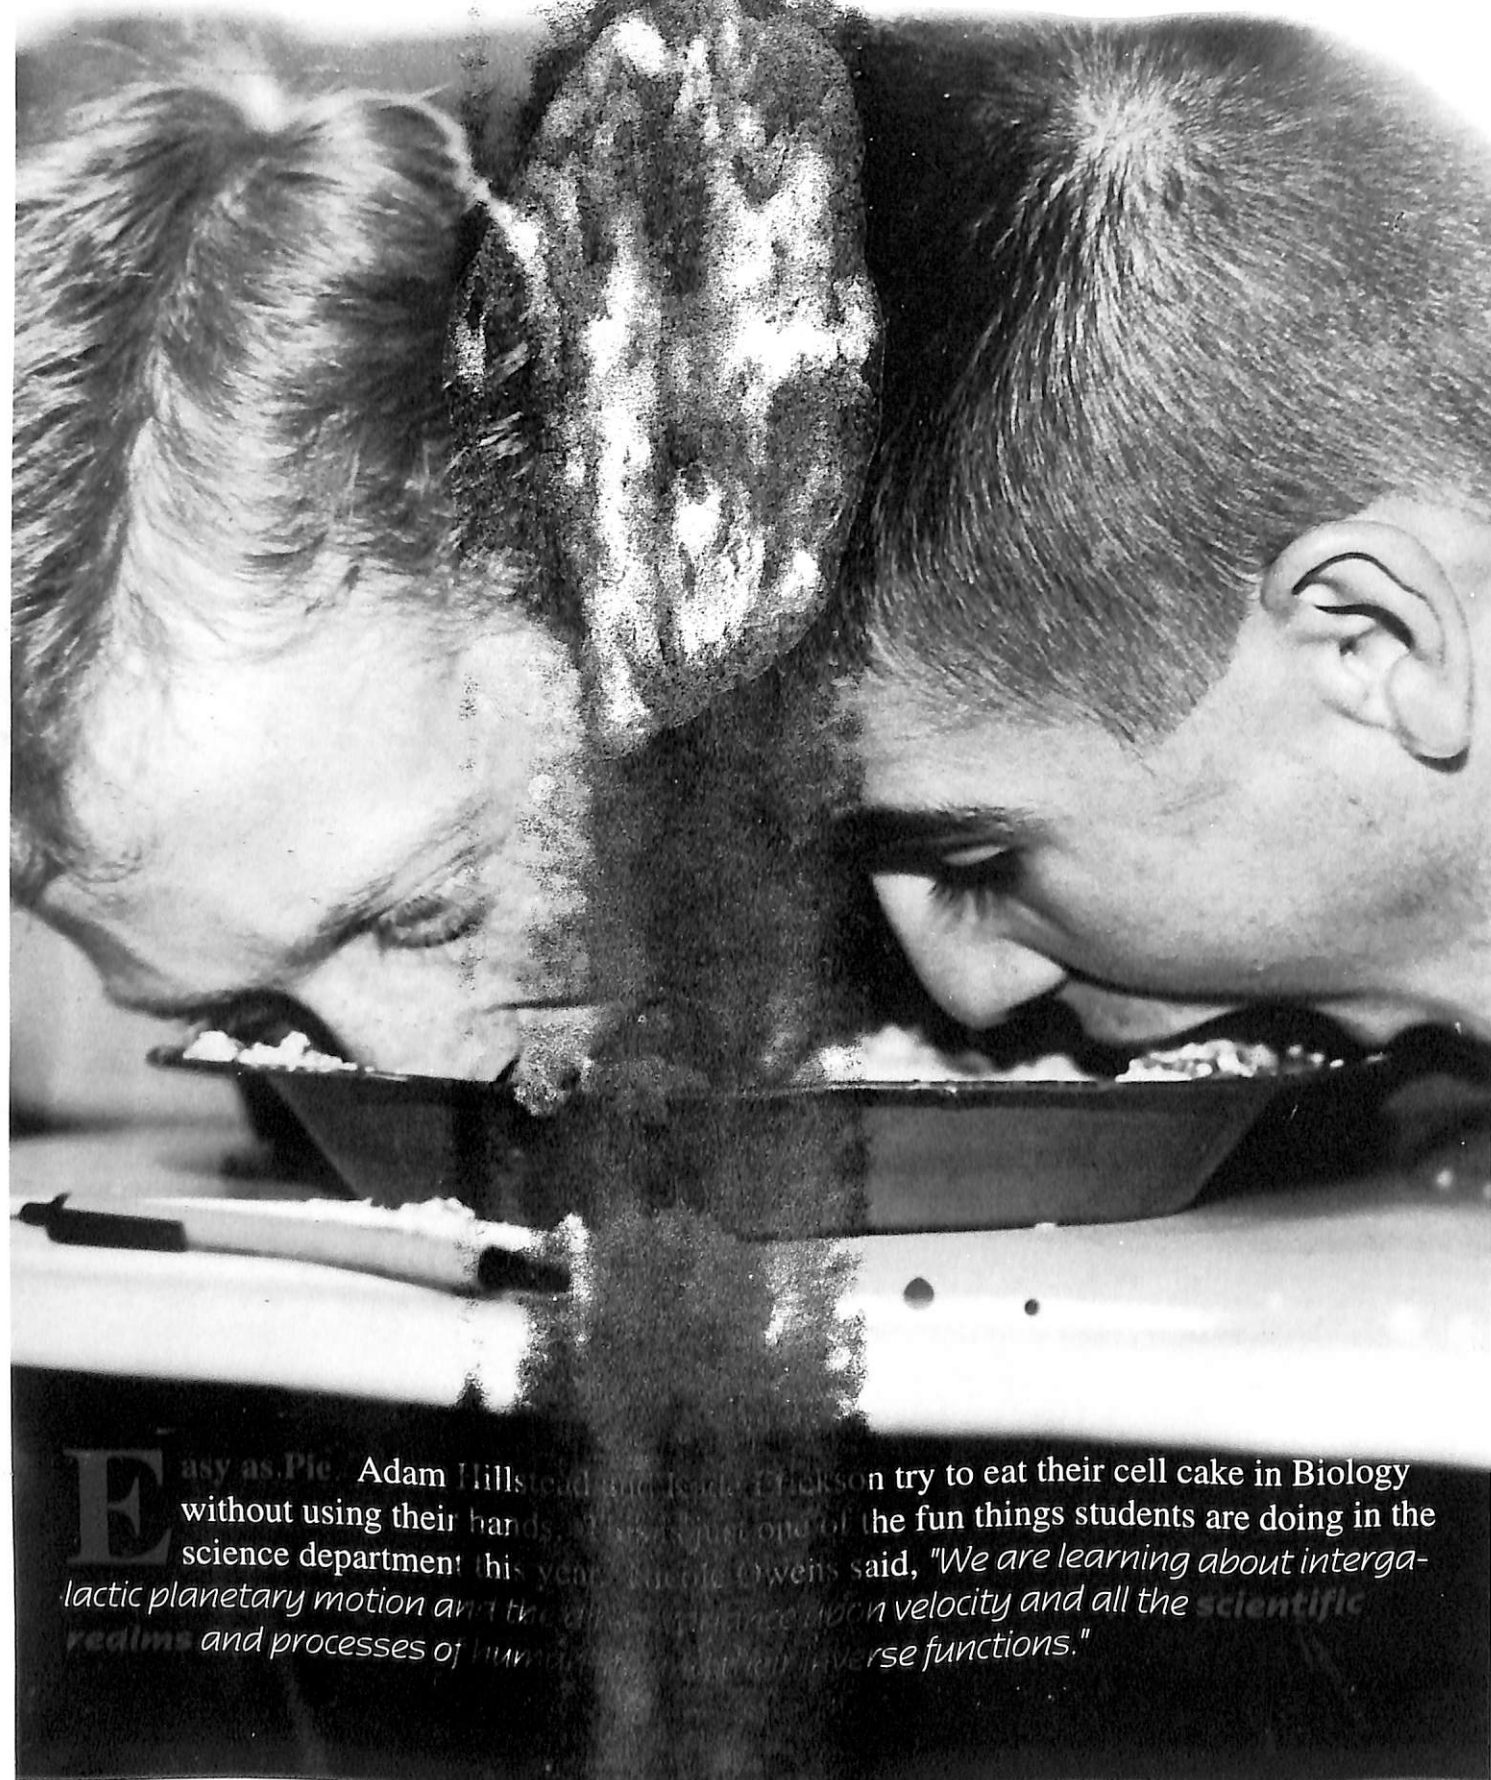

A Day In The Life...The Economics class took a trip to Kemmerer and spent the day with our county officials. Gary Haderlic and Stan Cooper discuss the responsibilities of a county commissioner and talk about the county budget. Gary Haderlic said, "I enjoyed the trip a lot. I learned a lot about how the county works and that their jobs aren't as easy as they look..."

Scientific

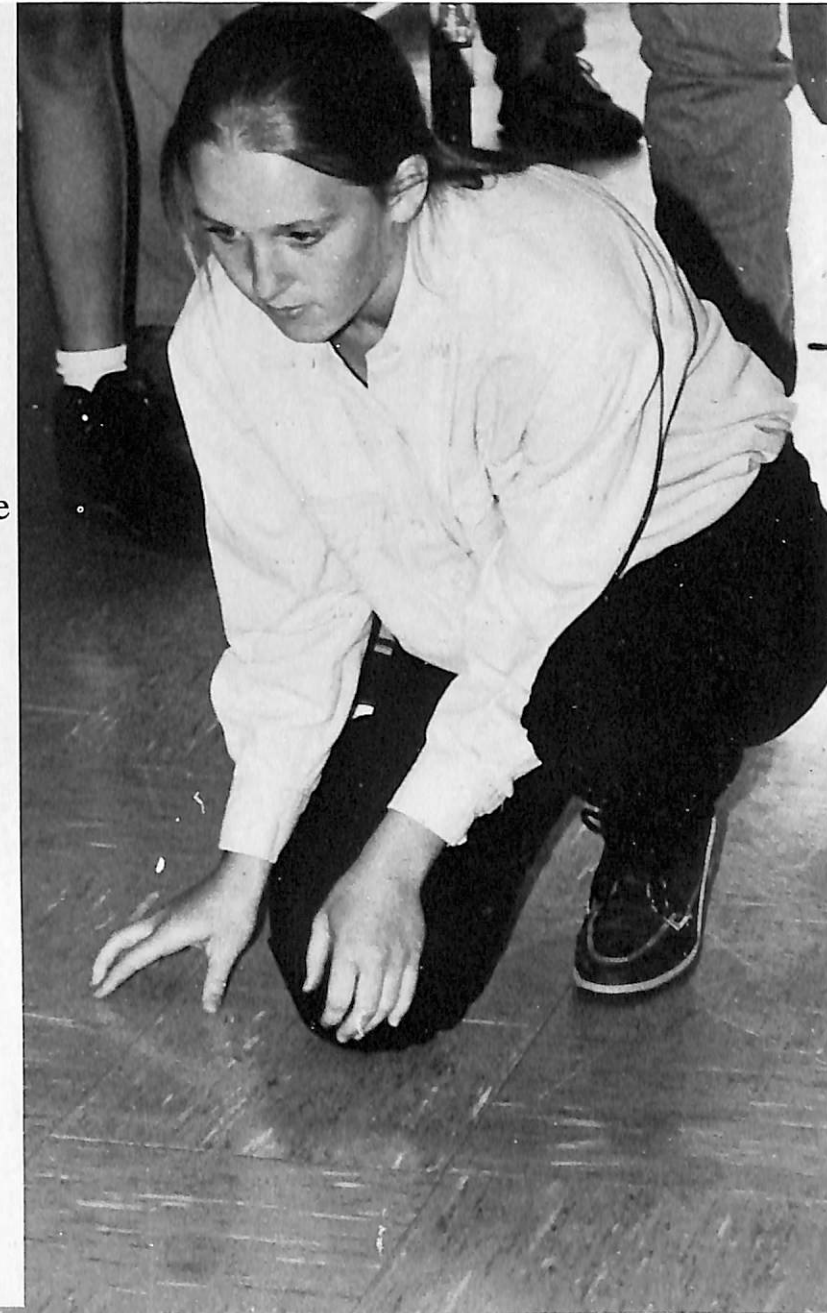

By Christina Call

Easy as Pie Adam Hills and Kaitlyn Erickson try to eat their cell cake in Biology without using their hands. This is just one of the fun things students are doing in the science department! This year, Owen Owens said, "We are learning about intergalactic planetary motion and the scientific realms and processes of our universe."

Away we go!! The variety of science classes this year took off as quick as the mouse trap cars that sped down the halls away from the Physics Students. The science teachers kept the students busy with the egg drop, dissecting cats, eating cell cakes in biology, and many other activities. Shilo Hyde said, "In Physics we made mousetrap racers that could only be powered by a mousetrap. It was very challenging but hands on projects like that really help me to understand the principles we're trying to learn." The background offered in the science classes helps everyone involved grow in individual ways, and as Lucinda Merritt said, "There's more than one way to skin a cat..."

The masks of our minds...

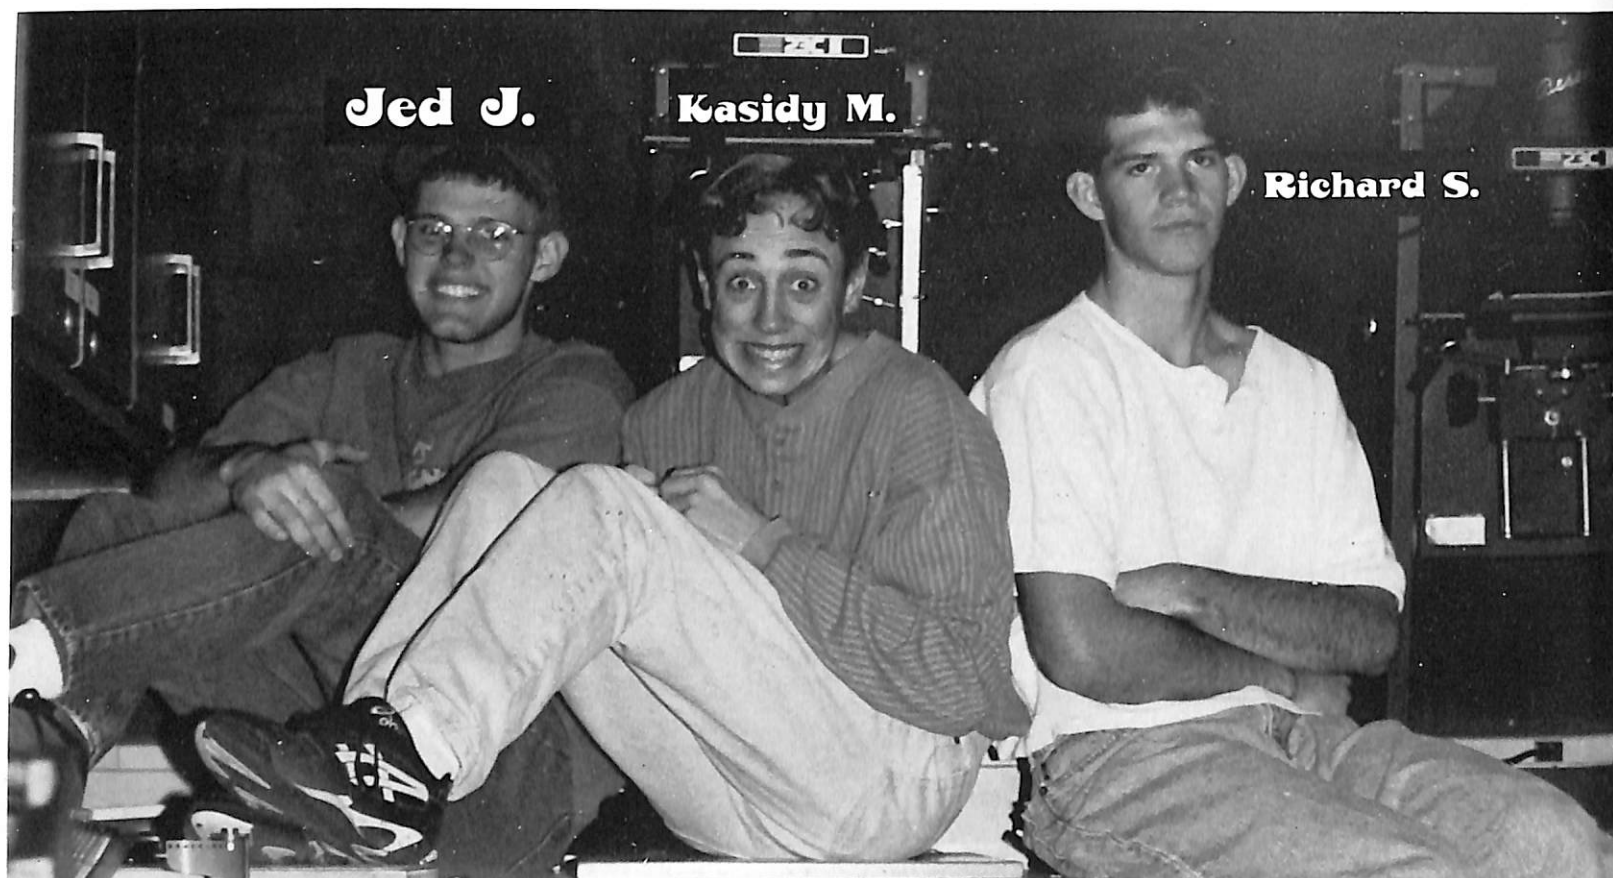

Mr. Barrow's A.P. English class participated in an activity in which they designed and created their own masks. Seniors, Shilo Hyde, Bert Wolfley, Tara Barber, Kindra Grover, Hillary Guzman, and Stacie Romine display their creation. Instructor Don Barrow said, "I think the activity was fun for the students because it helped them get a better feel for Oedipus." Whatever the reason, students found the activity fun. Most said they'd rather make masks than take a test. Gee, I wonder why?

Which side goes in first? Annie Vance quickly places paper into the enlarger. The photo staff was faced with some new and tough challenges, like getting a new advisor and having to enlarge all of the photos. However great the challenges, the photo staff came through just in time for the deadlines. The yearbook staff was totally driven by what happened in photo to make this yearbook one of the best...

Christina Call, Cozette Birch, Shilo Hyde, Kellee Marie Thomas, Nicole Owens, Ginger Weber, Mindi Nield, Marci Nield.

...Hiding from the stress... Yearbook Editor Kellee Thomas and Type Editor Shilo Hyde hide from their stress in a cool quiet place. Early mornings, late nights, and Saturdays were spent checking and revising layouts, but all of our hard work and dedication payed off when the yearbook was printed.

Under Cover Editors... Brooke Burton and Minde Draney scan through the paper but... it's not over yet, as soon as the work ends, work on the next one begins. Laura Merritt says, "When the paper comes out is no big deal, because as soon as we finish one paper we begin another." Being an Editor you always seem to be buried in reading, correcting, and finalizing. The staff cracks the story and finds the photogenic person, but there is still lots of changes that need to take place. Spelling, sizing pictures, and getting things to fit perfectly in the layout! It is hard demanding work, but in the end, there is the paper that you helped to create. Being Photo Editor can be rough, Lannea Sandner says, "Having people count on you for things is hard and stressful, especially when they demand them immediately, but it's my job."

What's Happening? Newspaper doesn't just come easy. A good story depends on interesting things happening. Emily Brimley stakes, brain dead, thinking of an eye catching article. She says, "The most frustrating part of Newspaper is when I am busy all week, and we are short on time to have interviews and get information for the story."

Keying in. Steven Haderlie concentrates as he rushes to meet a deadline. Throughout the year the students in Newspaper develop many skills that help them in their academic aspects of life. They learn a variety of skills such as writing, typing, editing, and making deadlines. Carolyn Erickson said, "Newspaper is one of my favorite classes. I get more insight into our school and it helps me in my English Classes to write creative papers."

Bands Meet...

Layout By Julie Merritt

"Band... Uh... Yeah band... Let's see. Well the fun thing about band is that on the bus rides to festivals we sit in the back and play poker, or we'll get out a guitar and sing our guts out. Jazz band boosts your self esteem so much. Sometimes I walk out of second hour and swear my head will explode and send little bits of brain and skull flying across the room. My most favorite things in the world are at a jazz band concert. People see me as a little wimpy person and they are so surprised when I go insane on the drums. I sometimes think I would like to play another instrument (trombone maybe) but then I would have to eat spam and beets for the rest of my life 'cuz' then I wouldn't be half as studdly as I am now," said Maggie Perkes.

Highly Irregular. The concert band line up on the stairs, smashing in for a group picture. Being in concert band is a good experience for the members, who are mostly freshmen. It prepares you to participate in the other bands, so you will have experience with performing and rehearsals. The Concert Band: Robert Birch, David Parsons, Bryan Hansen, Tosha Barber, Ronn Murray, Jennifer Koch, Kyler Hokanson, Amanda Wilford, Angelia Weeks, Derek McCool, Landry Hyde, Travis Helm, Coleby Larson, Jeremiah Heiner, Daniel Jensen, Travis Harmon, Jessi Allen, Lacey Wolfley, Damien Reeves, Kima Wells, Audrey Ward, Kristen Erickson, Holly Robertson, Jalene Heiner, Julie Pantuso,Carolynn Clement, Daniel Draney, Brandon Astle.

Driving for success... The Jazz band smiles for the camera as they prepare for another trip to a performance. Tiffani Simkins said, "Being in Jazz Band requires tons of hard work. It is the funnest band to be in, though. When you go to preform it doesn't seem like work. It's just really fun." The Jazz band members are: Jason Porter, Dane Jensen, Straight and Narrow... The wind ensemble poses for a group picture. Wind ensemble is one of the most interesting bands. The members sometimes perform along with the orchestras during concerts. "It is so cool when we get together with the orchestra. After listening to us perform, people are usually leaving with smiles," replied Heather King. The wind ensemble is also the band with the most members. Many students enjoy all the company. Bobbi Rayback said, "I think it makes it a lot more fun when you have a lot of people. The more, the merrier..." The Wind Ensemble: KayDell Luthi, Ryan Hansen, Tim Beck, Brian Hunt, Andy Aullman, Reade King, Brandon Merritt, Travis Allred, Brad Smith, Adam Laird, Justin Visser, Paul Bowling, Rhett Hurd, Ray Merritt, Josh Anderson, Levi Scott, Daniel Cranney, Jacob Pead, Aubri Pead, Alicia Knox, Andrea Cox, JR McGurk, Lyn'l Matthews, Hillary Guzman, Betsy Erickson, Janan Hurd, David Cummings, Nicholas King, Bobbi Rayback, Wendl Wolfley, Breanna Larrazolo, Tara Barber, Devon Spencer, Heather King.

Derek Haderlie, Reid Allred, Josh Woodard, David Stauffer, Dallan Tolman, Cameron Carter, Bracken Smith, Tiffany Matthews, Tiffani Simkins, Tambi Porter, Megan Moser, Josh Peavler, Jake Tippetts, Beau Tippetts, Harley Chamberlain, Bodie Brower.

Practice makes Perfect...

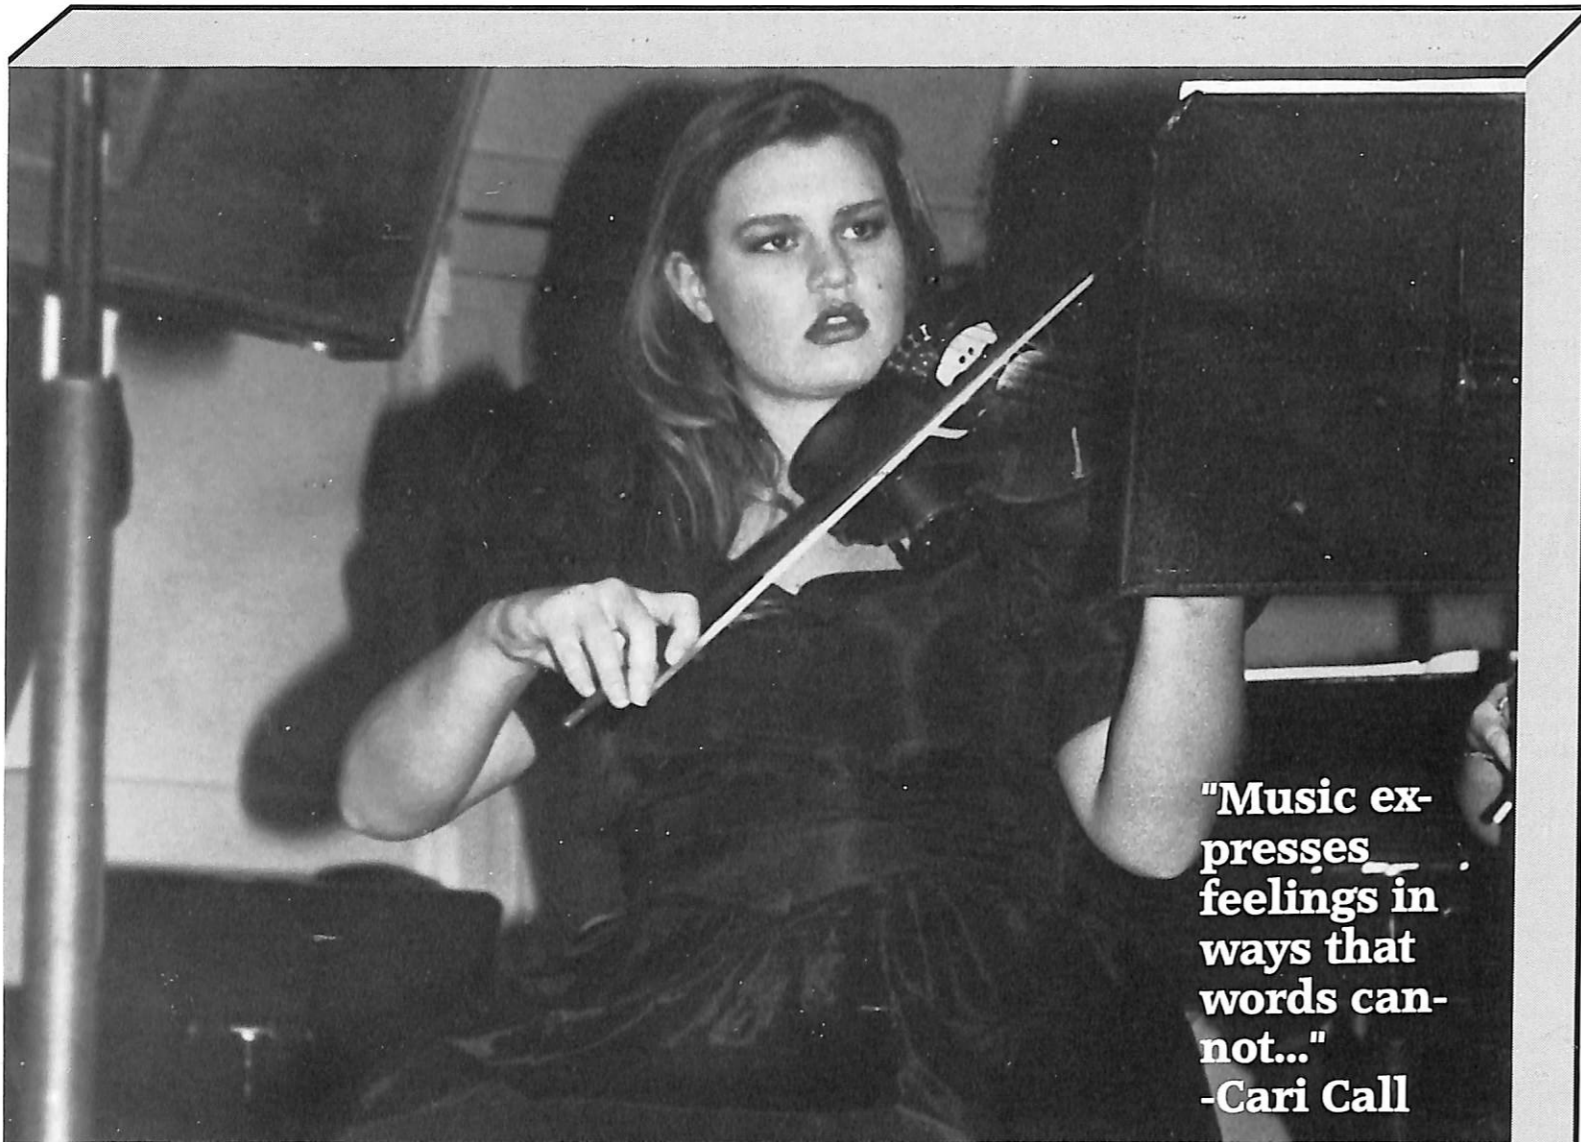

Layout by Julie Merritt...

Warming up... Nicholas King and Bobbi Rayback use their class time wisely. Preparing for a performance can take a lot of work and effort. Jacob Pead said, "I like band because I play tuba and the parts in my music are really fun and easy." These young musicians spend many years perfecting their talents and striving for perfection...

Move over... Reid Allred performs along with his fellow Jazz members in one of the many concerts that they performed in. "Performance is what you get after you spend all your time practicing. It feels really good when you can finally go home and relax," Tim Beck recalls. Many people enjoy attending the concerts and seeing the progress students are making. Music gives the students many experiences to remember...

"Music expresses feelings in ways that words cannot..."

...Elite Elegance...

Layout By Alisa Allred

Intense Concentration... That's what it takes to be a good musician...that and practicing. Practice was one thing the Chamber orchestra got plenty of this year when they became the first orchestra ever in the history of our nation to accompany a silent movie. NBC News even traveled to our school to cover the event. This experience reinforced the love of music the students have. Shilo Hyde said, "I love to play. My cello is like my best friend. I know it sounds weird, but you can tell it more through music than you can say in words to other people." Bert Wolfley said, "Though intense, orchestra is a time to relax. Many of us think of orchestra as a more serious group of musicians and they are, but that doesn't mean they can't have fun." Danielle Crook said, "You get to do something you enjoy and everybody gets along in the class, so it makes it fun."

The Star Valley High School Music Society, founded by Bert Wolfley and Shilo Hyde, was new to our school this year. Bert is president, Shilo is vice-president, Amy is secretary and Cally is treasurer.

Here Comes Santa Claus... Gary Haderlie, Cory Clines and Bert Wolfley display their talents in the annual Christmas concert. The orchestra students worked hard to prepare for each performance but still managed to have a little fun. Cally Hyde commented, "There is a bonding with the class members which allows everyone to be themselves and just have fun doing what they love to do."

Musical Expressions...

Layout By Alisa Allred

Feeling the Music. Derek Heiner, Kara Robinson and Jenny Haderlie play their hearts out. For many orchestra students, playing music was a great way to forget the cares of everyday life and express some of their deepest emotion. Amy Moser recalled experiencing this at All State when she said... "We as musicians are not to let perfection become our idol. Instead we must make beauty and expression our obsession..."

Moving Into The Music

Scattered Farewells...

Last Farewell... After teaching for years at Star Valley High School, Mr. Hillyard scatts his farewell. The school has appreciated his hard-working dedication. As Jade Brower put it, "We've gone down a road together a long ways, sang a lot of notes and cried a lot of tears. This year's Sincopation has RULED!"

Smilng Success... After a successful performance, Kelli Harris, Kellee Thomas, Terrin Porter, Chris Halford, and Jade Brower kick back and relax. Terrin Porter comments, "At the beginning of the year I thought Sincopation was a real downer, but now it is my favorite class."

Tender Healing... Choral Art Ensemble relaxes each other as part of their warm-up exercise. This technique supposedly relaxes you so you can sing better. Some think differently though... For instance Alisa Allred comments, "It's supposed to relax us, but I think it's mainly for fun."

*With bodies and minds as worn out as the old car we draped across, the school year came to an end. As the clock ticked it's final beat, and the last bell rang, we enthusiastically jumped into a world with no homework or tests. The underclassmen looked to three months before another high school year would shove them into the lifestyle of running out of room, time, and energy all over again. For the seniors it meant a whole new world to be pursued that was forced to make room for them. Throughout the school year, we had both highs and lows as we slid up and down across the car, and then in the end, jumped off into summer vacation. We made memories of two state championships, dances that never lasted long enough, assemblies that lasted way too long, good friends, crowded halls, and lots of late night homework from influential teachers. Even though we ran out of time, we will never run out of memories from the 95-96 school year of running out of room...

...Running Out Of Room...

...Yearbook '96...

Under the direction of company representatives Julie Gunnell and Tom Lowe, 760 copies of Star Valley High School's 1996 yearbook, "Running Out Of Room" were printed by Herff Jones Inc. of Logan Utah. The cover, end sheets, folios and division pages were designed by editor Kellee Thomas. Body copy and captions were printed in a variety of fonts and sizes. The spot color Teal, Pearlescent Aspen Blue, Pearlescent Berry, and Pearlescent Heather were used throughout the book in a variety of shades. Photos were taken and printed by the Journalism Photography students under the direction of Editors Annie Nichole Vance and Nicole Owens with the exception of the Senior and Underclassmen portraits which were taken by Phill Grosjean, and Life Touch National School Studios.

The 17 member staff met the challenge of producing the 224 page book. With hard work and long hours of dedication and organization together we produced an outstanding, creative, and dynamic yearbook for 1996.
